Picked Up About Town

"I think that one thing which caused the revolutionary war," asserts Bill Staats, "was some fellow writing a national anthem that nobody could sing."

According to Oliver Resh even the young man in wide trousers may have no visible means of support.

Speaking of congress John Confer rises to remark that the senate will do a lot of talking in its effort not to talk too much.

"Every old maid," declares Ralph Kaiser, "thinks it perfectly shameful the way married women fail to manage their husbands."

"When a bootlegger holds up a married man," says Jim Woodcock, "the proceeding is about as much a complaint as a crime."

Bob Wilson is authority for the statement that if Opportunity did knock at a fellow's door his wife would probably tell Op to go around to the back door and be sure to wipe his feet.

Jack Staats says the reason Henry Ford resurrected old-fashioned dances was because Henry had been looking at his first flivver, and felt homesick.

Our Son say the kind of a deal most men are looking for is an ideal, but in most instances they get a misdeal.

According to Bob Bell there would be a lot of heartaches prevented in this country if a girl cared as much about a man's morals as she does his manners.

Buys Valley Farm

C. C. Conley, Tygh Valley rancher, closed a deal Monday whereby he becomes owner of the W. E. Hughes ranch in the valley. Mr. Hughes lives at Roy, Washington and being engaged in other business, had no time to take care of the ranch.

Grandmother Compares Present With Long Ago

Jenny and her great-grandmother were having a little chat while they waited for the announcement from the maid that Christmas dinner was ready. Grandma Smith had been born and reared in the South. She was spending the holidays with her daughter in the North. Grandmother was in her early nineties, but a remarkable woman for her age. Tall, erect, spry, she would never grow old mentally for she was too progressive in her thinking.

"Jenny, as I looked around the house just now, I couldn't help but realize what a difference a generation or two hand. It will be an auction sale. Mrs. Alice Paquet.

NEWS OF PINE GROVE

Joe Graham and Johnnie Sinclair have concluded a trip to Clear, Frog and Clackamas lakes. They say that 15 inches of snow was the greatest depth they encountered on the trip.

Tim Linn has returned to his home at Pine Grove, after having been at the mill for some time.

Carl Powell has secured employment at the Heimrich mill at The Dalles.

Ed. Beebe is now the owner of a new saddle mare, recently acquired in a trade.

J. S. Brown, who has been on the sick list, is improving.

Cloyce Burnside spent Saturday night at the Hedin home and attended Sabbath school the following day.

Ray Sharpe from The Dalles has been visiting with his brother, Walter Sharpe.

Walter Sharpe has sold his old drag saw to Jess Cox and has purchased a new Wade wood sawing outfit.

George Beebe was fortunate in capturing a large coyote recently.

Mrs. N. G. Hedin and daughter, Nova, are again in normal health after a severe spell of sickness.

The Lewis and Leander Walters families have been undergoing a siege of Grippe, but are now all convalescing.

The Sunday school was well attended last Sunday, notwithstanding the prevalence of grippe.

has made in our mode of living. I couldn't keep from comparing this day and home with a Christmas Day and home I knew long ago. You know, Jenny, Andrew and I were married on one Christmas, years ago. Andrew built a little cabin on a plot of ground he owned. It was perched up on a hill. I thought it was the loveliest, most beautiful cabin ever built in the whole world. And it was. It was the last word in cozy, home architecture of the times. Inside it had a dirt floor and a few pieces of hickory furniture which Andrew had made. I wove all the linens and other cloth which we used. We were so happy. We had a big home wedding. One of my wedding presents was a tin cup. That cup was a prized possession, much talked about and envied by my neighbors. Sometimes I wonder, we lived so simply—and happily—and now how complex are—"

Who wants to buy one or two old Oakland cars? One'll run, the other can be coaxed to. May be seen at The Times office.

Wild Flowers Blooming

The extremely mild weather we are enjoying has caused wild flowers to put forth shoots and many of them are coming out in bloom. Saturday we were presented with three wild Easter lily bulbs, each of which had produced strong shoots and buds ready to break forth. Pussy willows have been out for some time, and salmon flies are to be seen on the willows at the river.
