SCATTERING SUNSHINE

It's the little things that count in this life, words of cheer, a little help here and there, words of advice to the depressed and despondent, each given with a smile, tending to stimulate to greater endeavor and new views of things generally. People who consider the welfare of others and who are not afraid to make a personal sacrifice for the good of mankind are the sunshine scatterers.

Such a one is Marian Miller, whose human interest stories in the Oregonian are read with interest by all. Miss Miller views things from a human standpoint; she seems to be imbued with a desire to help all; her words of advice to the young are to the point and carry with them a desire for moral uplift beautiful in its tenor. Many have been benefited, in a substantial manner, by the appeals she has printed in her columns, many a family has been reconciled when on the verge of breaking up by her counsel, and many a grieving heart has been quieted by the Oregonian's special columnist.

Miss Miller should be called "Little Sunshine," for through her writing and personal appeals more real good is being done to helpless and deserving people than by any uplift society in the whole state of Oregon.

May her good work continue. We are satisfied the lady is making a record for herself which will enhance her happiness in the hereafter and will stand as a monument for women of her kind long after she has answered the final summons. Long may she be with us.

RED FLANNEL DAYS

"Women of the red flannel days were more sensibly dressed than the women of today," declares a Maupin merchant. But he doesn't want his name mentioned for obvious reasons. "In those days," he declares "we used to sell 20 yards of silk for one dress. Now a woman buys three yards and considers that more than enough. Then there were only three or four shades of silk; now there are hundreds. The men of 50 years ago were superstitious in the matter of what they wore. In winter it had to be red flannel underwear and only a few people of the richer class could be induced to wear white merino. Today, manufacturers tell us, there are 4800 different articles of women's underclothing had 1,800 different kinds and shades of stockings. But in the matter of genuine comfort and happiness the old red flannel days had it all over the age in which we now live."

Reports of six and eight feet of snow in New York City convinces us that they are not satisfied with the same groundhog that furnishes us our weather.

The sap will soon be back in the trees. And other saps will be leaving campfires burning where they can do the most harm.

Ford prices have again been cut. They'll soon be so cheap

Nowadays the up-to-date farmer raises his own feedstuffs and foodstuffs. It's the Ford-stuffs that have strapped him.

Eleven Years Ago

From The Times, Mch. 5, '15

Mrs. R. B. Bell left a few days ago for Vancouver, Wash., where she will spend this week with her mother.

Roy Slusher has just completed that "best in the country" chicken house in which those thoroughbred white Wyandotte chickens may work.

A slide occurred on the Oregon Trunk Wednesday night, which necessitated the transferring of passengers from one train to another.

Dave Donaldson returned from The Dalles hospital a few days ago, where he has been undergoing treatments for some time. He says he is feeling better than ever.

The Saturday night dances given by the Maupin Cornet Band still draw large crowds.

The Artisans held another meeting last night for the purpose of initiating several new members. The lodge is growing very fast and now is the time to join, as the charter is still open.

Ed. Mays of the Flanagan district brought 100 head of fine fat hogs to this place Monday, where he loaded them out for the Portland market.

Mrs. L. B. Kelly and son, Floyd, were in from their country home Saturday on business matters. Floyd has a wireless station at their home and is able to receive or send messages for quite a distance.

PROGRAM BY GRADES

The grade pupils of the Maupin schools will stage a public program in the High school auditorium on the evening of Saturday, March 13, at 7:45 o'clock. The program will be a varied one and practically all the pupils of grades will appear thereon. The program numbers follow:

1. Singing Games — First Grade.
2. "Seven Little Soldiers and Seven Little Red Cross Maids" — Third and Fourth grades.
3. Gymnastic Exercise and Motion Song—Second grade.
4. Pageant — "America's Songs"—Fifth and Sixth grades.
5. Dialogue—"Friday Afternoon Compositions"—Fifth and Sixth grades.
6. Play—"A Case of Suspension"—Seventh and Eighth grades.

TRACK MEET APRIL 17

The school principals of Wasco county met February 27 at Tygh Valley to organize plans for spring athletics and the Southern Wasco track meet. Mr. Geiser, of Maupin, was elected treasurer. The events opened to 19-year-old grade boys and high school boys include three dashes, two runs, broad and high jumps, shot put, discus throw, half-mile walk, pole vault and baseball throw. The girls may enter the walking race, 50-yard dash, relay race, and compete at horseshoe pitching.

The contest for pupils between 12 and 15 years of age include all but the more exacting of those listed above.

For those over 9 and under 11, there will be a short dash, a walk, the broad jump, and baseball throw.

It's a Bouncing Boy

Jim Hartman and wife of Wapinitia are prouder than a peacock, all because a 10½-pound boy made his appearance at their home Saturday night. Dr. Elwood says the youngster is lusty and that Jim will recover by careful nursing. Mother and son are doing nicely.

Almost a Smashup

A near automobile accident occurred Monday morning when an Overland car attempted to take the curb away from the Oregon Bakery delivery car. The door of the delivery car was open and in attempting to get to the curb the Overland car bumped into the heavier vehicle. The door proved too heavy for the lighter car, which suffered a bent headlight stand and a badly rumpled fender.
