Was Some Fish

Thursday witnessed the opening of the 1926 fishing season. Following his usual custom Sam Brown hied himself to the Deschutes in the vicinity of Nena creek. He unlimbered his rod, threaded his line, affixed a spinner and proceeded to fish. He made one cast with a negative result. He cast again and was rewarded by a vigorous yank on the line. He attempted to reel in, but no use. The load attached to the line refused to budge. Sam got his dander up. He braced his feet, took a new hold on his rod and began to heave. By degrees he worked his catch nearer the bank. He visioned a husky redside, but when he caught sight of his prey he called to Julius Sheppin: "It's a shark, help me land him." Julius gave one look, then to the bank for his. Sam took a new hold, set his teeth and heaved. He was rewarded for his efforts by bringing to the bank a gigantic Dolly Varden trout. At first guess Sam and Julius placed its weight at about 100 pounds. Upon weighing it after it was dressed the scales showed a heft of about 11 pounds. The trout measured 32 inches in length and its head was 11 inches in circumference and the mouth had an opening 6x9 1/2 inches. Yes, it was some fish.

TUNEFUL COMEDY AT CIVIC AUDITORIUM

The tuneful musical comedy success, "No, No, Nanette," which comes to the Auditorium, The Dalles, on Sunday, April 25, is one of the really great successes of the time. The cast is headed by Taylor Holmes, and he is supported by a garden of glorious girls. The two phenomenal song hits of the show, "I Want To Be Happy," sung by Mr. Holmes as "Jimmy Smith," and "Tea For Two," the answer by "Nanette"—Vancy Welford, are among the popular hits of the day. They are sung and played everywhere and each carries a lilting melody that entrances all.

During the three acts of the comedy such hits as "No, No, Nanette," "You Can Dance With Any Girl At All," "Where Has My Hubby Gone Blues," "Hello, Hello, Telephone Girlie," "Too Many Rings Around Rosie," and many others have a part in building the story of a man who has too much money—a story that has enthralled thousands.

Prices have been placed at 75c, $1.65, $2.20 and $2.75, including tax. Special scenery and set effects will be used throughout the production of this great play.

Mrs. Bothwell, the instructor, is one of Wasco's finished musicians and teachers. Her pupils show how painstaking she is in her instruction and all are loud in praise of her system. Those of our people who delight in listening to really good music rendered in a program of mixed selections should not fail to attend the coming musicale.

Efficiency Highest In U. S.

B. W. Whitlock, chairman of the Federal Board of Review of the Pacific northwest, asserted at the wheat growers' conference at Moro, that while he was not at liberty to present individual reports of efficiency of the various state inspectors, statistics from the several supervision districts showed Oregon grain inspection efficiency to be the best in the United States, and further that of 455 appeals made in four and one half years, from inspections of approximately 150,000 cars, only 25 arose in Oregon.—Oregon Farmer.

LOCAL MEN BUY STATE BANK STOCK

J. M. Conklin Sells Majority Control—Present Officers Stay

Messrs. Stovall, Woodside and Hunt New Stockholders—Bank Very Prosperous

At the last meeting of the directors of the Maupin State Bank a change was made in the personnel of the institution. J. M. Conklin, heretofore majority stockholder, disposed of 100 shares of his holdings, retaining but 50 shares for himself. Part of those shares were taken by the present directors and W. E. Hunt, Dr. Lawrence Stovall and Dee Woodside were allotted the balance. There was no change made in the officers, those now serving will remain until the annual meeting at the end of the year.

The Maupin State Bank is one of the soundest financial institutions of Oregon. While it has a capital stock of but $25,000, and this being paid in, its statement, printed elsewhere in this issue of The Times, shows a healthy business. In the column of assets $183,884.08 are shown. There are $87,272.61 in demand deposits in the bank and the sum of $28,771.95, representing time and savings deposits on its books. The banking house, furniture and fixtures are listed in the assets as having a value of $8,500, which is conservatively placed.

This bank, while not ultra conservative, still does business in a manner which protects its depositors at all times. Its officers are awake to the needs and demands of this section, and are ready to advance capital to any worthy applicant. It numbers among its directors and stockholders men who understand business methods from every angle and who are ever watchful of the depositors' interests.

The new stockholders will add to the already popular prestige of the institution. They are numbered among our most progressive business men, and that they have become holders of stock in the bank shows the faith they entertain regarding Maupin and the surrounding territory.

Nearly A Million Quit

The Department of Agriculture last week gave out the statement that 901,000 left the farms of this country in 1925. In 1924 182,010 quit and went into the towns and cities. The estimated farm population at the beginning of this year was 30,650,000. The Department states that the loss was general in all sections of the country. It was most significant from the fact that the population of the nation is increasing over one million a year.

Installs Oil Tank

Joe Kramer set up a new "Vizo" curb oil tank Tuesday. The tank is supplied by a buried receptacle which has a capacity of 285 gallons of oil. The top of the arrangement is cylindrical and made of glass, thus showing just how much oil has been run into an auto tank.
