Stanfield Fighting to Develop Resources of Oregon

U. S. Senator Robert N. Stanfield maintains that the natural resources of Oregon belong to the people of Oregon, and he is leading the fight to establish Oregon's right to use the revenues from these resources to develop the state and materially reduce taxes.

Grazing Bill Entering Wedge

Stanfield's Grazing Bill, which has been unanimously recommended for passage by the Senate Committee on Public Lands (Stanfield, Chairman) is the first step toward restoring control to Oregon of the revenues from its resources. Secretary Work, Department of the Interior, pronounces the bill "a constructive measure which will result in definite and positive benefit to the livestock industry and will permit the use of public lands by both small and large livestock raisers."

Stanfield For Port Shipping

U. S. Senator McNary wired Bert Anderson, republican county chairman of Jackson county, on May 4: "Senator Stanfield, chairman of the Senate Public Lands committee has conducted hearings and given much of his time to Oregon and California grazing lands tax bill. I AM ASSISTING HIM IN EVERY WAY I CAN. I am busy assisting in the hearings before the Senate Commerce committee on the attempted sale of the Oriental line by the Shipping Board to the Dollar interests. SENATOR STANFIELD IS ASSISTING ME IN EVERY WAY HE CAN."

Stanfield Comes to Rescue of the Farmer

The passage of the emergency tariff bill on May 27, 1921, placing protective duties on 28 of the principal farm products, was due largely to the insistent efforts of Senator Stanfield. On May 20, 1921, the Stanfield bill was introduced for financial relief of agricultural banks and loan companies, through the War Finance Corporation. The main features of this measure became law as a part of the Norris Bill August 24, 1921, and Oregon banks, trust and loan companies that serve agriculture received $6,696,000 under its terms.

Working For Oregon's Reclamation Projects

Senator Stanfield favors active continuation of the reclamation of Oregon's arid lands until every irrigable acre is reduced to cultivation and production. He is working in full accord with his colleague, Senator McNary, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Irrigation, and with Representative Sinnott, Chairman of the same committee in the House, in reclamation legislation. The Oregon Senators won out in their contention that financial aid to settlers should be provided by the Government and the Interior Department, in March, 1926, agreed to use $500,000 of the reclamation fund for the purpose of making experimental loans to settlers on certain selected projects over a period of three years.

STANFIELD'S HIGH RANK ON SENATE COMMITTEES HELPS OREGON. IT WOULD TAKE YEARS FOR A NEW MAN TO ATTAIN HIS RANK IN THE SENATE.

SMOCK AND VICINITY

The late frosts keep us on tender hooks. Is the fruit killed or not?

Leslie Wookcock has been on the sick list, but is better now.

C. W. Daigh visited the school Friday, and the pupils went with him to test Mr. Hart's cows.

Messrs. F. T. Felch and W. Kirshner went to the Dalles Monday on business.

Thos. Atkins and C. Wrenn are at work for the L. & B. Ditch company at the head of the ditch.

J. C. Bradway has been under the weather with an attack of rheumatism, but is better at this writing.

The sawmill at Gate creek is almost ready for business. Mr. Cramer has a force of men at work moving the mill across the creek to the Bargenholt timber.

Mrs. Bargenholt returned last Saturday from Portland, where she had been for a week, visiting with relatives.

Ranger Jos. White has been around taking the census of the cattle that are to be turned out on the reserve.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Scott were The Dalles and Dufur visitors on Tuesday, going there on business.

E. Wolfe and wife were guests at the J. C. Bradway home Sunday afternoon.

Marion Duncan and J. E. Woodcock are helping in the construction of a sawmill on the Wm. Beatty timber tract. The mill will be operated by its owner, W. E. Woodcock.

J. S. Brown and wife fished at Sherer's bridge Friday, catching one salmon and one reidside.

Roy Batty and family were guests at the Laughlin home Sunday afternoon.

The contract for grading the road from Wapinitia to the forest line was let Wednesday. Eckler & Lewis, who have the contract to clear the road of timber began work Monday, starting in the mountains.

The Pine Grove school gave a Mother's Day program Sunday.

Julius Shepflin has turned fisherman. His catches have been all good ones.

William Moor has moved to the mountains, going there so as to be nearer his work on the ditch.

The Linn children have moved to the mill. They will come to school from there.

Rare Exhibits of Pearls

In a shop in Regent street, London, is being shown a remarkable collection of pearls gathered from fisheries all over the world. There are white Austrian pearls with their silver sheen very beautiful, but cold in color, that can be worn triumphantly by the pale blonde. The warm magnolia-tinted pearls from Ceylon, or the golden and brown pearls found in the depths of the Red sea are ideal for darker women, as are the rare black pearls found only in the Gulf of Mexico by pearl fishers searching for black mother of pearl.

Fear Was a Friend

A few weeks before his death Lord Leverhulme, in his presidential address to the Institute of Certified Grocers at Scarborough, said that he felt sure that the greatest help to any of them was fear, and that fear had been his best friend. His first recollection was fear. He had fear of continuing a clerk at his father's business, and that fear persuaded his father to put him on the road as a commercial traveler at the age of nineteen. He married at the age of twenty-two, and then fear came as to whether the profits would keep a wife.

Later fear drove him into soap. His soap, widely advertised, was floated as a company in 1894. In the words of one of his numerous obituaries: "The years that followed marked the growth of a business ideal that was almost-epic in its triumphs and ramifications."—Spectator, London.

Alfalfa From Asia

The original home of alfalfa seems to have been in southwest Central Asia. The word is Arabic, meaning "the best fodder." In southern Europe it is known as "Incarn." and the name was used for a time in several sections of the United States. Persia was apparently the first nation to grow alfalfa. The Persians took it with them when they invaded Greece in 490 B. C. Gradually it was introduced into other European countries. The Spaniards in the sixteenth century took the plant to Mexico and South America, and it gradually found its way into what is now the southwest part of the United States. Not until after the middle of the last century, however, did its value become known as a product of irrigated lands, and extension over the West began.—Kansas City Star.

Coconut Balls

Into a saucepan put three cupsful of granulated sugar, add two cupsful cold water and boil until sugar spins thread from tip of fork dipped into it. Into this sirup stir a good-sized coconut, grated—the prepared dry coconut does not answer the purpose quite as well—take saucepan at once from fire and turn contents into bowl or set saucepan where candy will cool quickly. When cool enough to handle make into balls with the fingers, roll in powdered sugar and wrap in waxed paper.

Common Type

Jud Tunkins says his folks always put off their Christmas arrangements so that along about the 23rd of December they have to shop both early and late.—Washington Evening Star.

Test

"He has proposed, but does he really love me?"
"Wait and see what he sends you for Christmas, girle. Then give him your answer."
