SMOCK AND VICINITY

There was no Sunday school held at Smock last Sunday, as the four schools were to meet at Shady Brook on the 23rd instant.

Whooping cough is prevalent in Smock.

We learn that Thos. Farlow, formerly of this place now residing at White Salmon, Washington, is in very poor health.

Election passed off quietly, but few turning out to vote.

C. N. Farlow came over from The Dalles to cast his vote.

Rev. Frischknecht will attend the Nazarene conference at Spokane this week.

J. C. Bradway made a business trip to Maupin on Monday.

Light frost Sunday night.

F. C. Felch motored to Dufur

Saturday and upon returning brought his sons, who had been attending school there, home with him.

Mrs. Howard Woolford of Bellingham, Washington, arrived Friday to make a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cervin.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall and family visited at the Cecil Mayfield home last Sunday.

WAPINITIA NEWS

Rev. W. A. and Mrs. Mershon and A. D. Hulburd and children were in The Dalles on business Saturday.

The cattlemen started Tuesday morning to gather beef cattle to ship to the Portland market the last of the week.

The C. E. society held a business meeting at the parsonage

Friday evening. The meeting was turned into a social affair after business was disposed of. Evadne Hulburd and Ruby Powell were elected to represent the local C. E. society at the Vancouver convention, June 18-19-20. About 30 were present at the meeting.

Baccalaureate services for the graduating class were held at the church Sunday night with W. A. Mathews of Sinnasho as speaker. Rev. Mathews delivered an interesting and inspiring sermon on the text "How to Live." A large crowd was in attendance.

Commencement exercises were held Wednesday evening when four graduates received diplomas. The speaker of the evening was Prof. Thomas H. Gentle of the Normal School. The students given diplomas were Anne West, Mary O'Brien, Roy Woodside and Crystal Hartman.

A number of persons from here attended the meeting at the Kelly cemetery Saturday. The cemetery was cleaned and the fence repaired. A new fence will be erected as soon as possible.

Crystal Hartman who has been very ill is convalescing.

The Wapinitia schools are planning for a big picnic at Bear Springs Friday, May 23.

E. A. Hartman is the pleased possessor of a new Dodge sedan.

Rev. and Mrs. Mershon attended the group Sunday school convention at Shadybrook Sunday afternoon. A great crowd was present. Addresses were given by Rev. Mershon and by Rev. Frischknecht of Wamic.

NEWS OF PINE GROVE

Florence and Orval Mathews left Thursday for Fossil, where they attended the commencement, returning Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Enderby and family were guests of Chas. Cox's family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Abbott of Portland departed Friday after making several visits with their relatives.

The road crew has established headquarters here. Much work has been accomplished in clearing and blasting along the right-of-way.

Several people of Pine Grove enjoyed the baccalaureate sermon, delivered Sunday evening at Wapinitia by Rev. Mathews.

Lucile Walters is visiting in The Dalles with her sister, Mrs. Brown.

The Pine Grove school house is being painted by Mr. Peck this week.

Picked Up About Town

Lester Kelly said a mouthful when he remarked that "a man has no sense until he is 40, and then it is nonsense."

Bob Wilson says he has come to the conclusion that the farmer is lucky. If he were more prosperous the government would be investigating him.

Dad Fischer wants to know where's the old-fashioned fellow who used to boast that he kept all the laws of the land.

"I've noticed," says Dr. Stovall, "that folks who drag the family skelton out of the closet are always careful to hide the bones."

Jack Staats remarks that "after a woman has been married about 10 years you can always make a hit with her by telling her she doesn't look it."

If there is luck in numbers then Prof. Geiser will come in for all kinds of such. He will be superintendent over 16 teachers at the Battle Ground school.

A. B. Smith at the fish hatchery is the best fisherman in these parts—he caught 750,000 rainbow trout on fish eggs and has them in the tank to show for it.

"Few of us worry about how much money we make," concludes John Confer, "but all of us worry over how much we get."

The Times wants a sure paint remover. Our lamb got curious and wiped the paint off the Dodge, getting a plentiful supply on her wool. At any rate her sheeplets is indelibly marked.

"When you see a man hurrying home to dinner," remarks Hugh Wood, "you can make up your mind spring housecleaning is over."

Community Dance

If you want the time of your young life then attend the dance to be given at Shady Brook Community hall on Saturday night of this week. The people of that section never do things by halves, and the coming occasion promises to be one of the liveliest in the category of amusements scheduled for this section for a long time to come.

MICKIE SAYS—

SOME OF OUR SUBSCRIBERS SEND THIS PAPER AS A PRESENT TO FRIENDS LIVING ELSEWHERE BECAUSE IT'S A WELCOME GIFT, IT LASTS FOR A YEAR, AND STILL IT AIN'T AN EXPENSIVE GIFT

Poison for Pigs

The cocklebur, long known as a bothersome weed, but not regarded as poisonous, has been convicted of causing the death of numerous hogs as well as other farm animals, by experiments conducted in the experimental pens of Purdue university. It is poisonous, however, only in its youngest stage, when the two thick, fleshy seed leaves are all the foliage it has. Later, when the true leaves make their appearance, its poisonous qualities diminish.

Aunt Harriet's Share in Her Grand "Party"

Aunt Harriet lived in a remote Kentucky village, and was locally famed for kindness of heart and good will toward her neighbors. For many months she had been saving her slender means "to give a grand party," she said.
