CHURCH SERVICES

Maupin.

Sunday school 10:00 a. m. Mrs. C. W. Semmes, Superintendent. Rev. Aldridge, teacher of adult class.

Preaching by Rev. Mershon at 11 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

It will be welcome news to many to learn that Maupin church has paid the pastor in full for his labor since coming here. The financial obligations of the church have all been promptly met and we take pardonable pride in reporting a 100 per cent budget for 1926.

Wapinitia.

Sabbath school at 1:00 a. m. Mrs. Emma West, superintendent. Preaching at 8:00 p. m. Christian Endeavor 7:00 p. m. Prayer meeting Thursday, at 7:30 p. m.

Sunday school committee meets Thursday evening for the purpose of nominating officers for 1926-7. Election to be held Sunday morning, September 12. W. A. Mershon, Pastor.

BOLOGNA STILL IN FAVOR

Traveling Public Retains Taste for the Delectable Stuffed Rolls.

The traveling public's taste for bologna as a light lunch delicacy continues unabated, according to the manager of a certain railroad dining car service.

Last month his company's commissary manufactured 29,900 pounds of smoked meats and sausages, including 865 pounds of bologna for use in railroad restaurants.

Bologna, according to the manager, remains one of the most universally popular cold meat dishes. It is in demand wherever men meet to eat.

Fraleys Has New Home.

Ben Fraley has rented the Dolph Goetjen residence and as soon as it has been deserted by Dolph and family, Ben will move his household goods thereto.

Ralph Kaiser says it takes all kinds of people to make a world, including the fellows who won't vote.

Fall hats are now on display. And as usual they bring "top" prices. If you don't believe ask Bob Wilson.

"About the only thing you get for nothing," says Landlord Caton, "is the worst of it."

A young lothario of this city is improving his mind by committing one of James Whitcomb Riley's poems—not one which would be acceptable at a church social, either.

Alvis Martin says if you are still undecided what are weeds and what are vegetables, just watch the chickens—they know.

Frank Dyer has built a new woodshed. Frank says the chief item connected with the shed is how to fill it with wood.

"The north pole should be a paradise for fishermen since the only wind that blows there is the south wind," says Dave Donaldson.

"The lamb couldn't keep up with Mary these days," declares Lew

Henneghan, "unless it did a lot of walking in its sleep."

"You never can tell," asserts Dad Fischer. "Maybe the fish goes home and lies about the bait it stole."

The residents of Juniper Flat may be likened to the Ancient Mariner, in that the ocean is filled with water yet "never a drop to drink."

For Sale.

One hundred and fifty-seven ewes and 127 lambs. E. H. Ashley, 43-42 Tygh Valley, Oregon.

The Hunts Ferry warehouse is taxed to capacity with this year's wheat crop, there being more than 30,000 sacks of grain now in storage there.

The greatest number of sacks received at the warehouse was on Wednesday, when 2665 sacks were brought in.

Jack Staats killed his first mountain lion recently. Jack is packing for the W. E. Hunt sheep camp. The lion was killed near Detroit, in south Oregon and had killed four sheep before Jack got it.

Parties coming from the mountains say rain is drizzling up there, although the fires continue, one having broke out between Clear creek and Salmon river and has advanced to within four miles of the Summit house. It is to be hoped the fires will soon be under control.

A. A. and Howard Canfield of Criterion hauled a load of wheat to Isbell & Tillotson's mill at Tygh, and returned with a load of flour.

Several flattering offers have been received by Criterion people for their holdings, but in every case have been refused.

D. A. Moad figured in an auto wreck near the J. W. Ward place on the Flat yesterday night. When Moad and D. M. Shattuck left the hill country and struck level going they were spilled out, the car going over the bank. Fischer went after the car. Shattuck has his head bandaged while Moad says he can't tell how badly he is hurt after the car comes in.

Go red by an angry bull, F. M. Fowler, a rancher of the Wamie section, is in The Dalles hospital suffering with a fractured leg.
