

NOTES FROM MAUPIN SCHOOLS

The program given by the first six grades last Friday evening was well attended and well received. The singing and dancing by the first and second grades was greatly enjoyed; "The Happy Beggar," the third and fourth grade play, added color and grace to the evening; while the fifth and sixth graders provided the humorous side of the program with a spelling lesson, some clever stunts at a railway station, and a darky chorus. The door receipts amounted to $30.50, which the teachers plan to expend upon class room equipment and, if funds allow, upon some standard pictures. The school wishes to thank the parents for their attendance; some of the mothers, especially Mrs. Renick and Mrs. Kaiser, for their help on costumes, and the Maupin American Legion and the I. O. O. F. for the seats loaned.

One of the activities being pushed at present in the H. S. is the court trial. All the students are taking part as judges, counselors, jurors, and witnesses. The trial will be soon heard publicly.

Since the end of the second six weeks comes in a three-day week, diligent study and review have been done by the students this week. Tests were given in the upper grade rooms on Tuesday and Wednesday of the week and Monday and Tuesday after Thanksgiving have been set aside for the high school tests.

The members of the algebra class are mastering special products this week. Work along this line, including factoring, will keep us busy until Christmas.

Outside reading is required of all regular students of the High school. Each day the number of books returned as read amounts to from one to three. This shows that each student is reading more than one book, besides his regular assignments.

An analysis of the feudal system occupied the attention of the World History class Tuesday and Wednesday.

The underclassmen at the High school are planning to give their annual play shortly before Christmas. The play that has been selected is "The Path Across The Hill." The cast, which includes ten prominent parts, will soon be announced. Practices will begin next week.

Ernest Confer, who is staying with his grandmother, Mrs. Dyer, enrolled in the third grade last week.

The civics class is searching the constitution for answers to some puzzlers propounded by the instructors. Sometimes they find the U. S. constitution is supreme, at other times non-current.

Ionization, neutralization, electrolysis, valence and general nomenclature has been the order in chemistry the past few weeks. A great deal of this science shows results that are not recognized by our optic sense.

"I can't get my balance" is often heard in bookkeeping. The class can not open and close a simple set of books and make the proper financial exhibits. From this they will proceed to an analysis of accounts and more special books of accounts. All seem to enjoy the work.

The march feature of our morning exercise takes well. It is not a mere pastime as it develops poise and body rhythm. Drop in on Tuesday or Thursday morning and take part, if you like.

Mr. Nagel was invited to relate the story of the first Thanksgiving day on Wednesday afternoon to the grades.

Until the days lengthen considerably school will close in the forenoon at 11:55 and in the evening at 3:30 to allow those riding the buses to arrive home before dark.

Some additional articles of equipment consisting of charts, books, etc. have been placed in the Flanagan school.

Wasco school has asked for a pair of games in basketball early in the season. They, no doubt, will be given an opportunity to match their skill with our boys and girls.

This week closes the first third of school.

Lelah Weberg has been kept out of school for two weeks on account of ear ache.

Eleven Years Ago

(From The Times November 19, 1915)

At the special school meeting last Saturday it was unanimously voted to levy an eight-mill tax for all school purposes.

Quite a bit of snow has fallen, which, with cold weather, somewhat interrupts plowing and seeding.

C. A. Duus of Criterion, lost 25 chickens last week. They were evidently killed by the same dog that bit Mr. Skogsberg and attacked his chickens. Said dog has done his last mischief.

Lewis Walters and R. W. McCorkle made a trip to Maupin from Wapinitia Thursday, each taking in a load of hogs.

Geo. R. Beavis of the Beavis-May Oil company was a business visitor in Maupin Wednesday. Mr. Beavis says that in six weeks the well at Dufur is expected to yield 200 barrels of crude oil daily.

Mr. Austin, who has dilled a number of wells on the Flat, will commence work drilling a well for Roy Slusher on his ranch.
