THE OREGON TRAIL

The United States Government has placed its stamp of approval and has given official recognition to the perpetuation of the memory of the Old Oregon Trail. This is as it should be. In the enactment by Congress of a measure authorizing the minting of 6,000,000 half-dollar Oregon Trail coins, both obverse and reverse designs being emblematic of the history of the Old West, it gives impetus to the program of the Oregon Trail Association, headed by Ezra Meeker, the venerable pioneer, as president, and with him on its official board some of the most noted men in America.

Every foot of that historic old trail will be marked and suitable monuments and shrines built as a tribute to the thousands of pioneer men, women and children who trekked heroically to the great west and brought civilization to the vast wilderness.

Banks in all parts of the country have undertaken to sell the coins at one dollar each, one-half going to the U. S. Treasury and the other half to be used for carrying out the purposes of the association.

Every true and loyal American citizen can take pride in the possession of one of these coins, now available to the public, ordering through either from the bank or from the Oregon Trail Memorial association, 18 Old Slip, New York. It is a project worthy of the complete support of every citizen.—The Manufacturer

POWER OF PRESS-GROWING

The late general election in our country shows that political leadership in national and state affairs is rapidly being assumed by the press.

The country weekly and the small town daily exercise dominant and direct leadership in building the political fortunes of individuals, molding public sentiment on principles and ideals in public affairs. Their power is increasing, and they are rightly called the home newspapers, in towns and on the farms.

It is proposed by a University of Oregon professor that writing be taught by means of music. If the music staff is followed we can expect quivers and semiquivers as well as chest notes to come from the many whose creditors demand payment and who use the new system in making out their bills.

Governor-elect Patterson says he has no intention of following the French mode of capital punishment, decapitation. On the other hand he will retain all capable heads of departments and their subordinates in office. Another showing of Ike's business methods, and a good one.

The Red Cross drive will soon be on us. When the committee comes around do not forget that your mite, with the many others, will help make a sizable aggregate. At the same time remember that your back subscription to The Times will be acceptable.

The 500 men who will be group group leaders for the state-wide Methodist Men's council, and who will meet at Portland on December 9-10, are to be known as "broad-casters." At that we bet they won't broadcast much jazz and other dance music.

Lair H. Gregory, sports editor on The Oregonian, was awarded the prize in the name contest for Oregon teams. He submitted the name "Webfoots." Sort of a foot note.

Twenty-three more days then comes Christmas. Do your shopping early and forget the mail order houses in doing it.

What Snapped?
"Water, it's been half an hour since I ordered that turtle soup."
"Sorry, sir, but you know how the turtles are."—

Religious Handicap
Teacher: Now, Robert, what is a niche in a church?
Bobby: "Why, it's just the same as an itch any where else, only you can't scratch it as well."—Boston Transcript

PICKED UP ABOUT TOWN

James Chalmers believes in the power of advertising. He was one of those who insisted that the bills for the fireman's dance be off the press in time for the people to learn of the event.

Carl Dahl is somewhat of a "Buck-cr." He has made a name as a fine buckler on the football field, has been known to "buck the tiger," and it remained for him to arrange to "buck" all the grass from the Criterion hills by taking a band of wooly bucks thereto on Wednesday.

Bob Wilson says that a mixture of several kinds of medicine failed to effect a cure for his cold. At any rate he is still coughing and shivering around the store.

Phil Starr is authority for the statement that the less a man has to do the more grouchy he becomes.

"Nick" Karolius says that to paint residence at this time would take away the sense of newness. He will wait spring's coming to spread the preservative.

Joe Kramer says that the geese are not lying along the Columbia in the vicinity of Arlington. He saw many men who should be classed with the grain-eating migratory birds while over there. Some forgot ammunition while others' artillery failed to function when a flock of geese flew up.

Richmond, the guano king of these parts, is not in full accord with the weather man. Our oil station man says the brand of weather handed out the past two weeks does not make for good, dry guano; consequently his shipments of that brand of fertilizer have been few and slow.

Two or three men of Maupin are on a diet. They propose to keep on that way until the Ladies Aid bazaar and Firemen's annual ball have been pulled off.

At the Rebekah's card party tomorrow night nothing but 5000 will be played. We know several Maupinites who will not attend for their favorite game is—oh, well, give me three cards.

Jack Morrow, in soliloquizing over his mangled finger, says that when it is healed and the swelling goes down he will have a brand new digit.

Who's-Who Only
"How much are de tickets for our show, Pahson?"
"Fifteen cents, Deacon."
"Dat's fine. Dat'll keep de rough element out."

Ubiquitous Americans

There Are 100 Cents In a Dollar

Pay by check and make every one of them buy something.

Loose change in the pocket just naturally seems to disappear without leaving anything to show where it went. It's easy, too easy, to spend cash.

The average "pocket dollar" contains about seventy-five cts.; a dollar in a checking account contains ONE HUNDRED cts! Three dollars in a bank equal four dollars in your pocket! And more, a bank account never burns a hole in anyone's pocket.
