Ruth Conrad..... Merle Snodgrass
Flo, the cousin..... Crystal Stuart
Lutie, the neighbor girl.....
..... Doris Kelly
Zuzu..... Silvia Ayres

The English III class, which for three weeks has been divided into a Junior and Senior section while separate play has been studied by each, will again meet as one class next week.

WAMIC DOINGS

An elegant time following the dinners were the sounds of Thanksgiving Day here.

Alfred Bennett and wife were dinner guests at the R. G. Johnson home here on Thanksgiving Day. They came over from Antelope.

Lenore Woodcock came up from Hood River and spent the Thanksgiving holiday in Wamic.

Mrs. Guy Brittain celebrated the birth anniversary of herself and little daughter, Norma, a week ago Sunday, giving a dinner to relatives. Chester Brittain and Ed. Wing killed two large geese recently.

Heavy rains have fallen here the past 10 days. The snow is about all gone. This portends good crops next season.

Ralph Chandler and family were here from Portland for Thanksgiving.

Rev. Lewis has closed his series of meetings here and left for Bend on Tuesday. Mrs. Lewis preceded him nearly a week.

Jake Martin and family came up from Pendleton and spent Thanksgiving holiday at Wamic.

Carl Pratt and family were here for Thanksgiving dinner on that day, coming from Maupin.

Verl Bonney brought Miss Lucile Kennedy and Miss Carmel Woodcock up from Portland Thursday. Miss Kennedy returned there Sunday.

Mrs. Knox of Tygh drove off the road into the ditch last Sunday and was unable to get out until assistance arrived and pulled the car onto the road.

Many attended the dance here Friday night. Henry Miller and Miss Ella Steers won the prizes as representatives of Indians.

Cecil Woodcock and mother were guests at the Lake home Sunday from Maupin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson went to Dufur Tuesday to see Mrs. Short, who is seriously ill.

Jim Zumwalt is taking medical treatments at Dufur for an infected face.

A shooting match was held here a week ago Saturday.

Mrs. Rachel Driver spent several days at Tygh with Mrs. Alma Brittain and family.

News Of Busy Shaniko

Otto Schmidt stopped in town on Tuesday while on his way home from Grass Valley.

Andy Patjens left on the noon stage Monday for Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Olsen and children, Raymond and Gertrude, had Thanksgiving dinner in The Dalles.

week. A third Shakespearean play will then be taken up.

Ralph Hammer, Alene Greene and Doris Bonney were absent from examinations Monday, and some of them were absent Tuesday.

Civics class are learning the first two paragraphs of the Declaration of Independence.

One dollar has been posted for entrance in the Debating League. We are in the North Central district, director at Hood River.

Arthur Appling and Vrne Ayres are busy studying a horse head preparatory to giving expert testimony in the case of McFadden vs. Swenson.

Absentees who have been absent in the past couple of weeks are applying for opportunity to be heard in regard to making up lost work.

Ella Shepflin was absent from her classes Thursday.

Mr. Ferguson's room and Miss Tillotson's room have been appointed to sell Christmas seals.

F. M. Keller made a business trip to Portland the latter part of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Kramer and Miss Helen Bade were in town Tuesday.

Many old timers claim we had the heaviest rain fall they ever saw in this country last Monday.

WAPINITIA ITEMS

Crystal Hartman was home for Thanksgiving and left again Sunday afternoon. She is attending Behnke-Walker business college in Portland. She says she has no more vacations coming until spring.

The Batty school was closed last week. Miss Crofton, the teacher, became ill while at her home in The Dalles the previous week end.

Will Sturgis and family spent Thanksgiving Day at the Roy Batty home.

Mr. Hulbert, son and daughter, Bill and Evadne, from Mayville, were visitors at the J. M. Powell home during the Thanksgiving vacation.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Walters was held at the Wapinitia church Friday. The body was interred in the Kelly cemetery.

Mrs. Drake from Sinnasho left for California Tuesday.

Mrs. Amy Strom left for the Willamette valley Tuesday.

Rev. Everett Hazen, who has been sick thro the last week end and was not able to conduct his services at either point last Sunday, is about again.

Mr. and Mrs. West spent Thanksgiving in Dufur with friends and relatives. Mr. West returned home Sunday but Mrs. West remained with the children until Monday evening. The children had their tonsils removed Monday.

Gertrude Laughlin substituted for Mrs. West in her class rooms Monday.

Rev. Hazen will resume his old program next Sunday. Speaking at Wapinitia in the morning and at Maupin in the evening.

The Ladies Aid met Tuesday at the parsonage and completed a wool top quilt for the bazaar.

Wallowa—Courtney ranch raises 1,200 turkeys this year.

Klamath Falls—California man buys 140 acres, 12 miles south, to grow potatoes.

Ontario—Construction begins on Owyhee and Vale-Harper projects.

Madras—New diversion dam built, to increase power at Cove plant.

Sellwood—Oregon Worsted Milk will build $18,000 factory addition. Clatsop County bees make 95 tons of honey, worth $200 a ton.

Deschutes national forest sales for October reach $31,967, a new record.

TWO GOOD REASONS FOR BUYING CHRISTMAS SEALS

HELP US GROW UP

Salem—Farmers asked to raise 1,000 acres beets this year, with prospect of Utah-Idaho sugar factory if crop and community attitude warrants.

Oregon hunting and fishing licenses for 1926, pay more than $350,000.

Chiloquin—Postal receipts for past 10 months, are 75 per cent higher than last year.

Oregon lost 225,000,000 feet of timber by fire this year.

Eventual cost of Roosevelt Highway from Columbia River to California, estimated at $16,000,000.

Rain Packed Roads.
The recent rains have had the effect of packing the surface of the roads in the country adjacent to Maupin and the thoroughfares are nearly as hard and as easy to travel over as are the graveled roadways.

Conferred On Water.
Lester Kelly and W. H. Williams went to Dufur Tuesday morning for the purpose of conferring with Mrs. W. H. Staats regarding a supply of water for the East side. Mrs. Staats is at Dufur, and will remain there until her husband concludes his attendance as a grand jurymen at The Dalles, when they will go to Portland for a three months stay.

Own Orchestra Plays.
We were told by the Broadway Novelty orchestra members that they were to play at the dance to Tygh tomorrow night. They must have gotten the wires crossed, for Clyde T. Bonney, principal of the Tygh Valley High school informs us that the dance will be enlivened by music discoursed by the High school orchestra. By the way, there will be a school play and dance at Odd Fellows' hall at Tygh tomorrow night. What's the matter with Maupin people taking in both events and spending an enjoyable time there?

Fell From Box Car.
Wm. Crickett, a member of the O. T. section crew, suffered severe cuts and contusions about the face Tuesday. He was at work clearing the track above the bridge from the debris deposited thereon by a rock slide, and in some manner lost his footing and fell to the ground. He struck on his head, with the result as above stated.

School Budget Adopted
A budget meeting was held Saturday at the High school building for the purpose of passing upon the budget for the coming year. While the meeting had a slim attendance, all present seemed favorable to the budget, and it passed by a unanimous vote.
