Chas. Crofoot and family motored to The Dalles on a business mission last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Woodside were in for the show, "For Heaven's Sake," Sunday evening.

Carl Head of Sherars Bridge was in town Wednesday, braving the snow to trade in Maupin.

Orrin Farlow was in Maupin last evening, being on his way home to his homestead on Nena creek.

A. Lincoln Hartman attended the revival meetings several nights the past week, coming in from Wapinitia.

Floyd McLeod was down from his Criterion ranch and spent a couple of days in Maupin the latter part of last week.

Cahs. Ayers was in from Smock

Monday, having come to Maupin to see his daughters, who are attending school here.

J. H. Woodcock and family, who have been in Portland for the week past, returned to their Maupin home Monday evening.

Harry Walther, of the Walther-Williams company of The Dalles, passed through Maupin Saturday while on his way to Bend.

Mrs. Joe Riggles, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Maud Hammer at The Dalles for the past three weeks, returned home Tuesday.

Ad. Schmid, superintendent of the White River power plant, with his wife, was attending to matters connected with his work, in Maupin on Tuesday.

Everett Richmond and The Times man went to the Flat Tuesday for the purpose of bringing some prime pork meat home. The meat came from the Shepflin ranch.

Dr. J. L. Elwood went to Linn's mill Tuesday for the purpose of placing a plaster cast on the limb of Tim Linn, which was broken recently in a fall from a cliff on White River.

Alva Hammer, who has been attending school at The Dalles the past two months has returned to Maupin and expects to again enter the school here. He came in on Tuesday's stage.

EAST MAUPIN NEWS

Marcus Shearer and family spent part of last Sunday at the Fischer home.

Bob Fortune left for the hills and will go to work for Mr. Rooper of Shaniko.

John Mannion is enjoying a visit with East Maupin friends a few days of this week.

Jim Rusie is spending a few days from his work at the Troutman ranch with his family at East Maupin.

J. H. McMillan has arrived in Maupin after spending 60 days in a hospital in The Dalles. He is still on crutches.

time on the East side. Elmer has many friends here who are glad that he is again among the denizens of East Maupin.

Ira Kistner has gone to Two Springs, where he will set up and follow a trap line, expecting to be gone for some time.

Dave Donaldson is assisting his brother in the construction of a road on the north side of Bakeoven reaching the John Donaldson ranch.

Although weather has been anything but conducive to motoring, Verne Fischer has his shop full of repair work. In fact it is all he and Marcus Shearer can do to keep the work floor clear of cars coming in for repairs.

John Mannion In Town.

John Mannion tires of the company of sheep as a steady thing, so hid himself to Maupin Saturday for a brief sojourn with city folks. John knows a good thing when he sees it, so placed his name on our subscription books and will receive The Times for the coming year.

Hauled Turbine In

The Richmond truck was employed Monday in hauling the turbine pump from the depot in Maupin. The turbine was sent to San Francisco, where a new one will be made, for which the old one will serve as a pattern.

Greene Out Again.

H. M. Greene suffered another attack of illness the latter part of last week, his throat having been effected. After remaining in the house a few days Morris is around again, feeling much better.

Mix Up On Bridge.

While in Portland last week Jim Woodcock figured in a slight mix-up. He was crossing the Broadway bridge and was run into by another driver. Jim's car sustaining a badly bent front fender. No one was injured and the car carried our city recorder and family safely home on Monday.

New Gas a Winner.

The new element in gasoline, Ethyl, is proving to be all that has been claimed for it. As evidence: Monday morning Charley Brown filled the tank of his Chrysler stage with the compound. He put in eight gallons in the receptacle and made the round trip between Maupin and The Dalles. Tuesday morning, while taking gas he told the service station attendant to put in the usual amount, eight gallons. The tank ran over when four gallons had been put in showing conclusively that the round trip had been made on just four gallons.

Dr. Hess' Worm Powders the best to expel worms in all kinds of live stock 50 cents a package at the Maupin Drug Store.

PICKED UP ABOUT TOWN

John McMillan says he never realized just how much home meant to him until he arrived in Maupin after six weeks spent in a hospital at The Dalles. The many friendly greetings and congratulations on his return told him of the many friends who were glad he is able to be out and among us again.

Ben Fraley declares Aimee McPherson is the best little old advertiser in the country. The stunt she pulled off gave her front page positions on all the metropolitan papers, and now that she has undertaken an eight-months' lecture tour that advertising will tend to fill every house she shows in.

Mayor Butler likes dogs, but he insists that Marshal Derthick carry out the terms of the ordinance requiring licenses on all canines of Maupin or else to do away with them.

Joe Kramer "bawled us out," just after The Times was off the press last week, all because we cut prices of admission to the Harold Lloyd show. At any rate his tirade showed that people read the ad, which is oftentimes contradicted by merchants who should patronize the paper with regular advertisements.

Lew Wilhelm must have been some dandy in his younger days. Last Saturday, while digging into the innards of an old cedar chest, he discovered a couple of suits of clothes he long forgotten the existence of. Among other things a Prihe Albert coat was dug up.

We are trying to interest the High school pupils in getting out an issue of The Times in the near future. If they accept our proposition our readers may expect something new in the line of country journalism.

Art Fargher is at work on a brand new poem. He is trying to compose something that will have the immortality of "Mary had a little lamb."

In speaking of wives Frank Creaeger remarks that having gone without such a household necessity for years he would have a hard time getting accustomed to seeing a woman about his domicile.

Ordinarily Bob Wilson is possessed of an equable mind, but while confined to the house last week he ran out of "snooze" and as a consequence let his temper get the best of his judgment. At that the sore throat he was entertaining at the time destroyed his taste for the delectable Swede brown spit maker, so he really did not care for the stuff anyway.

Being elected president of a bank does not make the least change in Lew Henneghan. In fact, he assumes a more cosmopolitan air, if that were possible, since he was chosen chief officer of the Maupin State Bank.

Music Critic—(To sweet young thing): "How did you like the barcarolle at the musicale last night?"

Sweet Young Thing: "I didn't stay for the refreshments, Mr. Cliff."—Life.

Farmer: "Samanthy, do you want me to bring you anything from the city today?"

His wife: "Yes Si; you might bring me a few jars of that traffic jam I see advertised in the papers."

After an illness of several weeks Mrs. C. F. Greene died at her home in this city yesterday morning at 8 o'clock. The remains were taken to the Portland crematory for disposal.

W. H. Williams had a very cold drive Saturday with the Bakeoven mail. When he arrived at Mr. Fryman's both he and his team were so exhausted that Mr. Fryman, with a fresh team, completed the trip.

Ora Maynard is digging a well on his place at Wapinitia. When completed the hole will be 47 feet deep and 12 feet wide.

The first load of lumber to be used in the construction of the drug store arrived on the lot west of the post-office Tuesday afternoon.

The condition of the roads from Maupin at present can be judged by the return trip of A. C. Moad from Maupin to Miss Herrling's at Criterion on Sunday. Time, eight hours for the trip of 14 miles and the team worn out.

The fore part of the week experienced the coldest weather in Maupin for the past 10 years. The mercury reached 11 degrees below zero one night and only raised a few degrees during the days of the cold's duration.

Grandpa Brittain, who had been ill for some time, died at Wamic Wednesday morning.

Sunday there were seven young people baptized and received into the church at Wapinitia.

L. D. Kelly shipped a carload of hap in from Bend this week. It met with a ready demand from the stockmen hereabouts, as their feed is running very low on account of the extremely cold weather.

"Why don't you advertise?"
Town Storekeeper: "No, siree. I did that once and it pretty nearly ruined me."
"How was that?"
"Why, people came in and bought dern near all the stuff I had."

A West Virginia ducky a blacksmith, recently announced a change in his business as follows:
"Notice—De copardnership heretofore existing between Me and Mose Skinner is hereby resolved. Dem what owes de firm settle with me, and what the firm owes will settle with Mose."

"Give me a sentence containing eight feet."
"Four boys walked down the street."

Federal Roads Increase

A net addition of 9,417 miles to the mileage of improved roads in the Federal-aid system was made thru the completion of projects during the fiscal years 1928, according to the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. This brings the total of improved Federal-aid roads up to 55,902 miles. The improvement of several transcontinental routes is approaching completion. The Federal-aid system has an aggregate length of 182,134 miles.

Spirit Behind School Band Makes Champion

Elkhart, Ind.—It's the spirit of a town, and not the number of its inhabitants that determines the size and quality of its high school band, according to James F. Boyer, widely known musician and supervisor of the Conn Music Center here. As proof of his contention, Mr. Boyer cites the case of Joliet, Illinois home of America's 1926 champion high school band. Census figures give the population of Joliet as under 50,000, yet public-spirited fathers and musical ambitious sons have here made possible a 65-piece prize-winning band. In their natty full-dress uniforms, the boys made a sensation as they marched down the streets of Fostoria, Ohio, on their first lap toward national band honors.

She: "Would you kiss me, even if I told you not to?"
He: "I sure would."
She: "Oh goody! Then I can mind Mamma."—Ala. Rammer-Jammer.
