

PERSONAL MENTION

Ray Kaylor was in from his ranch on business on Monday.

O. B. Bothwell and wife were here in town shopping yesterday.

R. G. Johnson, Jr., was over from Wamic on business on Monday.

Lester Brittain was representing Tygh Valley in Maupin Monday.

Stanley Wood spent Saturday at the parental home at Shady Brook.

Earl Cunningham and wife traded with Maupin merchants yesterday.

H. N. Dodge and wife were in from their Juniper Flat ranch Monday.

John McCorkle was in from his Juniper Flat ranch on business Tuesday.

H. E. McClain was over from Tygh Valley on business on Saturday last.

Jake Davidson made his appearance in Maupin Tuesday, coming in to do some shopping.

Art Gutzler braved the cold and snow and came in from the ranch on a business mission Monday.

Hugh Wood, prominent sheep man from Shady Brook, was talking wool with Maupin-ites yesterday while in Maupin.

Phil Mott came to town Tuesday. On the way his car radiator froze up, necessitating the use of a blow torch in thawing it out.

Cecil Chestain came to Maupin from his ranch Tuesday. His reports prospects for a bumper crop next season are brighter every day.

E. T. Halbrook is now living at Dufur, and for some time has been located at the ranger station above Smock, was in town Saturday last.

Hugh Wood came in from Shady Brook Monday. He reports plenty of snow up Tygh creek and says that wheat and grass prospects never looked better.

Fish Growing Rapidly
A. B. Smith, superintendent of the Oak Springs fish hatchery, was in town Tuesday and to the Times man stated that the rainbow trout being held over his winter are growing rapidly. He says that many of last fall's hatch have attained an length of six inches and that the average size will reach five inches. When spring arrives and time to liberate the 750,000 trout in the holding pens into the Deschutes river, the fry will be amply able to take care of themselves and not become food for dories and other fry preying fish.

"Behind the Front" Picture
Manager Kramer has booked one of the most laughable and at the same time most dramatic film stories ever filmed for Sunday, January 30—"Behind the Front"—with Wallace Beery, Raymond Hatton and Mary Brian in the leads. The story has to do with the late war and gripping situations dramatic exploitations with a vein of comedy, go to make the play one of intense interest. Prices will be 25 and 50 cents.

Colgate's toilet soap, 3 bars for 25 cents at the Maupin Drug Store.

Legion Dance Saturday Night

The Legion will give another of those pleasant dancing affairs at the hall Saturday night. The local orchestra will supply the music, and as that organization will introduce several new dance compositions, it is a foregone conclusion that that part of the evening's entertainment will be appreciated by all attending. The hall will be warmed so that those taking part in the dance need have no fear of cold, besides a chinook will undoubtedly be here on that date, which will greatly aid in making all comfortable.

Filling Station on Highway

The triangular strip of land lying between the Wapinitia road and the cut-off road has been sold to a man who figures on establishing a service station at that point. The location is a good one and when the new highway is ready for travel many cars will no doubt stop there for oil and gas.

Road Crew Busy

Foreman Addington and Truck Driver Derthick are two busy men these days. The recent snows filled the highway and the road crew is at work cleaning it off the roadway. Yesterday the crew shoveled the snow from the bridge and now that part of the thoroughfare is passable.

Taken to Hospital

Miss Fannie Derthick was taken to a Dalles hospital Tuesday by her father. Fannie recently contracted a case of flu which seemed to affect her ears. As she continued to grow worse it was thought relief might be obtained at The Dalles, hence her going to the county seat.

Reminder of Winter

Cecil Mayfield and a friend came over from Smock last Saturday, making the trip on a sleigh. With his team prancing and the sled runners creaking many were reminded of winter days in the eastern states where that season was considered as the longest in the year, the whole year's seasons being called July, August and winter.

Helped On Road

H. E. McClain, driver of the Tygh Valley truck, came over to Maupin Monday and assisted Road Foreman Addington in clearing out the hill roads. The recent snows and freezing weather made work on the roads hard to perform and at the same time clear them of snow, hence McClain's visit.

National Farm News

We have sample copies of the National Farm News, the leading farm journal of the United States, and which all ranchers may have by calling at this office. The Farm News differs from all other papers published in the interests of the farmers. It is published at Washington, D. C. at the seat of government, and contains valuable information. It keeps in touch with everything done by congress, besides containing many hints on farm life and farm conduct. The samples are free. Come in and get your copy.

Dufur Downed 43 to 3

Dufur High school basketball team drove over Wednesday night and gave the local team a little practice. As the local team manager seems to keep news of such games under his hat and away from The Times, we are unable to say whether the game was on the regular schedule or just a work out.

PICKED UP ABOUT TOWN

Mr. Fischer recently received a letter from his sister at Fair Acres, Alberta, Canada, in which she stated the thermometer recently registered 52 degrees below zero.

If the people of this section are not supplied with radio receiving sets it will not be the fault of George Tillotson. He was up in the Wamic country last week in an endeavor to interest denizens of that district in long distance wave introducing machines.

The fact that five communicants have been added to the roster of the U. B. church speaks loud for the work of Rev. Hazen. The reverend gentleman has been conducting revival meetings here for the past two weeks and is meeting with the success his efforts deserve.

Old-timers have been predicting a chinook to follow the cold spell. Well, if it is coming the sooner the better.

Bob Wilson has designed a war upon all domestic animals, especially those which figure as household pets. He says that if he had his way all dogs, cats, canary birds and parrots would be relegated to that bourne from which no such ever return.

And now comes a proposition to establish a "chair of demistry" in the Lincoln-Lee university of Missouri. If that is done we may expect barbers to be called "doctor," as a sheepskin from such a school would carry the degree "Doctor of Demistry," therefore the doctor title.

Ben Fraley has invented a new hickey game—"Pitch in the sink." It is played all same as stud poker, but with a trump turned. Whoever opens a jack pot is entitled to count the trump as of value to his hand, it serving the same purpose as the joker running wild.

The weather man certainly played heck with the arrangements of the Legion when it cooled off to the extent that the soldier boys had to call off the advertised carnival last Saturday night.

John Mannion and Bob Bell are two consistent argufiers. Whichever advances a statement regarding politics the other takes the opposite, and the arguments adduced are pleasurable to listeners in.

Dr. Elwood says the calls for his services seem to vary with the weather. When the skies are clear and the roads good his calls are from town, but when cold weather sets in and rains make the roads impassable, the calls seem to come from sections farthest from town. But such is the life of a country doctor.

Jack Morrow is sure one unlucky boy. Just recovering from the effects of an amputated finger he was compelled to take to his bed with a combined attack of sore throat, flu and incipient quinsy. He is out again and is waiting on customers at the old stand—Butler's.

ELEVEN YEARS AGO

From The Times Jan. 28, '16
The Bakeoven postoffice will be discontinued by the first of April if no one makes application for it very soon. Claude Wilson, who has had the running of it the past year, recently sent in his resignation and will give it up as soon as the required arrangements are made.

Born—At Wapinitia on Saturday, January 22, to Mr and Mrs. P. J. Olsevi, a daughter.

The Maupin Good Roads association held a meeting Saturday last, D. M. Shattuck, chairman, presiding. The chairman was authorized to circulate petitions, and he appointed the following assistants: L. B. Kelly, J. S. Brown and Clarence Alexander, Juniper Flat; A. A. Canfield, Criterion; Claude Wilson, Bakeoven. Up to yesterday morning $510.00 had been subscribed for work on the Maupin grade, and more is expected to come in soon.

The little daughter of Arthur Henderson of Criterion died Wednesday of pneumonia and will be buried this afternoon. Pastor Ellis of this place will have charge of the services.

The Thursday night train of a week ago was derailed at Shepar and held until Friday noon, when a relief engine came from Fallbridge and put them on the track again. They reached Portland at 3:30 in the afternoon.

Mr. Fischer recently received a letter from his sister at Fair Acres, Alberta, Canada, in which she stated the thermometer recently registered 52 degrees below zero.

A. A. Baxter arrived Wednesday, coming from Criterion on horseback. He carried the mail from that place and reported snowdrifts in some places in his section as being from six to eight feet deep. The mail should have reached here Tuesday, but was delayed because of an epidemic of lagrippe and heavy snowfalls.

Schools Pushing Music to Fore

America Destined to Lead World, Says Frederick Neil Innes.

That the public school band movement is bringing America to the fore in the music world, is the belief of Frederick Neil Innes, director of the Conn National School of Music, Chicago, and internationally known band leader. "America is destined to lead the world in music," says Innes. "It does not yet rank with Germany, France, Hungary, Italy or England, but we are climbing. Fully eighty per cent of the high schools have some musical organization, an orchestra or a band, or both. Music in the public schools will give America this coveted musical supremacy."

Mr. Innes further believes that the time is near at hand when even the smallest community will have its band. He thinks that when this condition is brought about that it will be due largely to the incentive given musical training by the public schools of the nation. "The modern school is as proud when a musical championship is won by their band or orchestra as it is when their football heroes go down the field to glory in every game they play," he says.

"The band or orchestra is vastly superior to the vocal class," says Innes. "because the boy in the adolescent stage simply will not sing. He may be compelled to go through the motions, but he will not actually sing. He refuses for the simple reason that he has no voice to sing with. Give such a lad a trombone or a cornet, or any other instrument of the band and his musical progress will astound even himself."

For Chicken Lice

Poultrymen who have tried both sodium fluoride and blue-ointment for chicken lice say the fluoride is better. You can use sodium fluoride any season of the year. Fluoride may be used as a dip, in the summer time—or in cold weather, if you take care to prevent the birds catching cold after dipping. Blue ointment should always be used sparingly—especially on chicks. Also be careful with sodium fluoride when you dust chicks with it. The poison sometimes proves too much for very young chicks. It's a good idea to clear the lice out before the hatching begins.

"Inside" Information

Soaking any kind of fresh meat before cooking is a mistake. It draws out the juices which give the characteristic flavor and add to its food value. If the meat needs cleaning, wipe it off with a damp cloth or trim it.

In making quick breads and cakes allow in general one to one and one-half teaspoons of baking powder for each cup of flour. Butter cakes that have a great deal of egg white may however, need less. Pop-overs and sponge cakes are the exception and require no baking powder at all.

To make soup more interesting or festive, as well as to improve its flavor, add to each plate at the last minute a little minced parsley or a half slice of lemon, or both, if it is a meat soup. A spoonful of un-
