A. J. Connolly, who was taken ill at Bend several weeks since, returned from Portland Monday. He had been to the metropolis recuperating for the past two months.

E. H. McAllen, traveling freight and passenger agent for the O. W. R. & N. railway, with headquarters at Bend, was a welcome caller at The Times office this morning.

Rev. Everett Hazen left Monday morning for Potlatch, Washington, for the purpose of visiting with his wife and babies, who are at Mrs. Hazen's parents' home on an extended visit.

Milo Wood and wife will go to Tygh Valley tomorrow night as actors in the Odd Fellows play which will be produced by members of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs on that date.

John Joyce was in from his sheep ranch on Monday. John says that conditions on the range are most promising and that there will be plenty of grass this spring for all the sheep in this part of the county.

EAST MAUPIN NEWS

Mrs. Laverne Fischer is ill at her home, suffering with an attack of pneumonia.

Henry Seethoff spent several days of last week at Metolius, closing up his store business.

Mrs. L. D. Kelly returned on Tuesday after a few days spent with friends at The Dalles.

Ira Kistner came down from Two Springs Tuesday. Ira is running a trap line near the springs.

Albert Barkham visited with friends at Metolius from Friday of last week until Tuesday of this.

Andy Mann and Elmer Hornquist are in Portland this week, enjoying a visit with friends. They will be back Saturday.

"Brick" McLeod was over from his homestead near Friend a couple days this week, looking after horses with which to do his spring farm work.

Mrs. Phil. Mott is still confined to her bed at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Andrew Cunningham. Mrs. Mott is suffering with rheumatism.

Johnny Williams has moved his service station to his camp ground. This will make it more convenient to serve patrons of the camp and also that trade which passes on the highway.

The editor of The Times made an item from this side in last week's paper read "chickens" when the word was written "checkers." East Maupin has but few of the feathered kind of chickens and not enough of the other kind to play with—on a checker board or otherwise.

Floyd Richmond went to Portland the latter part of last week, going down in the hope that a change of altitude might relieve his asthma.

The Linn boys were in from the mill on the timber line on Tuesday. They report that their father, who

PICKED UP ABOUT TOWN

Those fellows who sought a pleasant seat on the bench in front of the Maupin garage last week, showed conclusively the truth in the old negro song—"These Bones Shall Rise Again." Cause: An inconspicuous wire connected to a storage battery and operated by a switch.

Prof. Broughton is justly proud of his debating team. Both affirmative and negative teams won from Madras last week. If congress could only listen to the affirmative regarding the Haugen - McNary measure, the members would not hesitate a minute in passing it.

Bootleggers were conspicuous by their absence in Maupin last Saturday night. What's the matter? To paraphrase the ancient who was chained to a rock near the sea, Thirst, thirst everywhere and not a drop to drink.

Several ranchers have taken advantage of our free offer to give them The National Farm News and have come in and paid up. Wake up, you others who know your owe for your Maupin Times. Now is the time we need money and now is the time you need the Farm News.

The organization of a Christian Endeavor society in Maupin is a step in the right direction. In these days of the flapper anything that tends to uplift the young should have the support of all people.

A lady came into our print shop last Saturday and told us that she and her family watch The Times for advertisements of the shows in Maupin. She said that whenever such were spoken of in this paper the shows were really worth attending. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Mose Addington says that nature is a great engineer. He discovered that fact when he attempted to stop a leakage from a spring on the last turn on the Maupin grade last week. The more rock he put in the more water came through.

Marshal Derthick came home from Dufur Tuesday. Gus has been wrestling with flu and the ailment "Was some fierce," according to our official pease officer.

We lately read a classified ad in a Portland paper in which the advertiser, a lonely widow, sought a worthy mate. Here's a good chance for Billy Heckman, Andy Mann, Dave Donaldson, of some other Maupin bachelors.

The young fellow who attempted to induce a 12-year-old girl to take an auto ride with him at a late hour last Saturday night, must be a pervert. The intercession of another young man, which probably saved the girl from harm, was timely and an act of charity to her.

A well made wastebasket, finished with a detailed surface of marbled paper and illustrated with a hunting scene, a full-rigged ship or a Spanish motif, is bound with a band of dark oilcloth. This makes a useful and decorative object in a library or a man's room. Plain baskets are also in good taste.

Valentine boxes of fancy chocolates, 75c to $1.50, at the Maupin Drug Store.

You need no longer be without a Haag Vortex

Owmpower

The Owmpower gasoline motor is a four-cycle motor—a new type—different and better—having major advantages:

Haag Brothers Company now manufactures a Haag Vortex for every home. Probably you are one of the many women who have wanted a Haag Vortex Washer but have not the electricity to operate the Electric model, nor a stationary farm engine to operate the Haag Vortex Beltpower model. You may now have the selfsame Haag Vortex Washer, which washes absolutely clean without soaking or hand rubbing, in the independent Owmpower model.

- 1 The "Owmpower" does not leak grease on your kitchen floor.
- 2 The "Owmpower" starts easily all the time—no "messing" with it—no batteries or switches to get out of order.
- 3 The "Owmpower" uses 50% less oil and 20% less gasoline—less refilling bother.
- 4 The "Owmpower" does not require bothersome proportioning of oil and gasoline. This eliminates smoking.
- 5 The "Owmpower" is quieter because of the high-grade muffler at the base of the 8-foot armored exhaust hose, which extends through window or door.
- 6 The "Owmpower" has surplus power. It is air-cooled. The finest construction throughout insures long life.

ELEVEN YEARS AGO
From The Times Feb. 11, 1916

Yesterday afternoon the railroad bridge at the mouth of Bakeoven creek was the scene of watchful interest. That stream was swollen to a mighty current, carrying logs and underbrush and moving rocks. If the bridge over that stream goes out it will imperil the railroad bridge, as the earth is already washed from beneath the abutments. Nine or ten cords of wood belonging to the Tum-A-Lum Lumber company have been washed away and something like 500 posts are lodged against the Hunts Ferry warehouse. The island above the bridge is being fast covered with water. A considerable fall of rain last night bids fair to increase the flow of water in all streams in this vicinity.

A most welcome chinook wind struck Wapinitin Sunday night and reduced the snow depth from four feet to about 18 inches, but that is still full of water.

A very peculiar storm swept Wamic one day last week. A heavy snowfall preceded a dust storm, which was accompanied by a funny color in the sky, a sort of brassy tinge, while the snow was covered with a fine dust.

The High Jinx club of Tygh Valley will hold what they say will be the last dance of the season, Saturday night. A large crowd is expected.

E. J. Fischer is planning the erection of a building on the southwest side of the garage, 18x40 feet in size. It will be used as a repair shop.

Mrs. J. A. Chouinard and children moved from their island home to the section house Monday afternoon. They make the move so as to be safe in case the high water covers the island.

Investigation will open Monday before the circuit, now in session at The Dalles, concerning a couple of colts found with heads and brands removed, and which are supposed to have been the property of Clem Mathews.

Ray Kayler came near having a serious accident last evening while going home from town. A double-tree broke, throwing him down between the horses, and badly shaking up some ladies who were riding with him.

Wasco county has awarded the contracts for building the Tygh and Wamic grades, and have appropriated $21,890 to pay for same.
