R. E. WILSON CO. MAUPIN, OREGON

PERSONAL MENTION

Frank Fletcher was hauling wood to Maupin on Tuesday.

Mrs. H. M. Webb and children were visitors in The Dalles Tuesday.

F. C. Butler conveyed a truckload of fresh eggs to Portland Tuesday.

John Hilmier of Wamic was transacting business in Maupin Tuesday.

Verl Bonney was in from his Criterion ranch a short time yesterday.

Gottlieb Teasner was in from his Wapinitia ranch on business Tuesday.

A. H. Hart of Smock was in Maupin last Friday on a quest of seed spuds.

Jimmie Abbott was in from the ranch on business Tuesday of this week.

Miss Doris Kelly spent the last week end with Ella Shepflin at Wapinitia.

L. V. Broughton and family spent last Saturday with friends at The Dalles.

Tony Seifert was down from his Nena ranch on Tuesday, transacting business.

The Times man transacted business at The Dalles Tuesday and part of Wednesday.

J. F. Kramer and family motored to The Dalles Saturday morning, Joe going down on business.

Huston Johnson and wife came in from Ridgeway yesterday and attended to business in this city.

F. D. Stuart and family Sundayed at the home of Mr. Stuart's brother, Mark and wife at Tygh Valley.

J. P. Abbott, was in town Tuesday for the first time this spring, he was accompanied by Elmer Wilson.

F. C. Butler and wife motored to Corvallis last Saturday, going there for a short visit with Mr. Butler's mother.

Hugh Knight was trading with Maupin merchants on Tuesday. Hugh is making his headquarters at Criterion.

Tom Henneghan made a trip to The Dalles Tuesday, going down for the purpose of replenishing his fishing tackle box.

Leonard Weberg and wife spent a part of last Sunday at the Weberg home in Maupin. The visitors live on Juniper Flat.

Isom West, Alvie Wilcox and Dee Woodside made up a party of Wapinitias who transacted business in Maupin on Tuesday.

J. P. Abbott's countenance was observed on Maupin streets on Tuesday. Mr. Abbott is busy with lamb-ing operations and reports a fine increase in his flocks.

Anton Seifert came down from his Nena sheep ranch Tuesday and continued on to The Dalles, where he transacted business.

Postmaster Frank Turner was a passenger on Monday morning's O. T. train for Portland, where he went on a business mission.

Ben Fralsey visited with his wife at The Dalles hospital a short time Tuesday. Mrs. Fralsey is expecting to be able to be home on Sunday.

Ernest Hartman, merchant of Wapinitia, was in Maupin on business on Monday, it being his first visit to this metropolis in two months.

Don R. Stogsdill was in town from his White River ranch Saturday. He says his turkeys are coming along in fine shape and that he will have a large number of Thanksgiving birds to turn of this year.

O. A. Margraf, representing the Bend Investment company, was in Maupin several days lately. Mr. Margraf is writing life insurance and interested several Maupinites in his plan.

David Morrisy has arrived for his season's fishing. He is a sportsman who comes to Maupin every year to catch the big ones from the Deschutes river. He anticipates good fishing this year.

Mark Blakney passed through Maupin Monday while on his way home to Redmond from up the highway. Mr. Blakney is well known to many Maupinites, all of whom were pleased to see him.

George Beebe was called to Bend yesterday by the serious illness of his wife, who has been confined to her bed there the past three weeks. The little children of the couple accompanied their father.

Leonard Farlow drove to Monmouth last Sunday. He was accompanied by Miss Florence Mathews, who returned to her studies at the normal school of Monmouth. Leonard returned Monday.

Job Crabtree and his concrete crew yesterday completed the forms and filled them with concrete for pillars, which are to serve as supports for the roof of the ports cohere at the front of the new garage building.

J. F. Kramer has decided that, beginning with next Sunday, he will give but two shows each month. There will be a show April 10 and on Easter Sunday a special picture will be shown, but after that but twice a month will pictures be shown.

Repairs for fishing tackle—anything you want, at the Maupin Drug Store.

Nick Karolius says he believes with the poet that "a thing of beauty is a joy forever." Therefore he is busily engaged, in spare times, in leveling his lot and putting out flowers and shrubbery.

Sunday last was a glorious day and was the cause of several ardent disciples of Izaak Walton strolling down to the river and weighing the chances of good trout catches when the season opens.

Ralph Kaiser continues boosting for the Deschutes River Anglers' association. The Dufur Dispatch man tells how Ralph's persuasive argument pulled a four-bit from the newspaper man's pocket—and it must have been some argument to effect that result.

Oscar Renick is to be backstop for the Dufur baseball club this season. Wel, "Tom" knows his "onions" in that position and if Dufur is down in the average when the season ends we are sure it won't be the Maupin man's fault.

The director of the play, Tony the Convict, to be produced here in the near future for the benefit of the American Legion post of Maupin, has had his troubles. He has had parts accepted by many people, and at the last minute many of them have thrown up the sponge. At this time he is convinced the cast has been filled and rehearsals will be religiously indulged in with a view to an early showing of the play.

Some people say that the return of the ravens is a sure sign of spring. "What most of them would like to see," to quote Ben Fralsey, "is a return of 'Old Crow,' the kind anti-prohibitionists were wont to sample from a bottle."

Ollie Weberg says that for a man advanced in years he is about as busy as the proverbial cat. He has his farm work to attend to, but managed to find time enough to come to town and spade up the home lot preparatory to make garden.

It is reported that steel heads are showing up at Sherars. Which will be welcome news to some of our Waltonians. Tom Henneghan has rigged up an unique tackle and if he fails to land his quota of the game fish it will not be because of lack of right kind of rig.

Julius Shepflin is surely the unlucky hondre. One day last week he was starting his Case tractor, the thing bucked and as a result Julius is carrying around a badly sprained hand.

Lew Henneghan still leads the shooters at the traps. Last Sunday he duplicated his performance of the previous meet, managing to "kill" 20 clay birds. A couple of weeks ago Lew's score was 24 out of a possible 25. Some shooting for an amateur.

From The Times March 24, 1916 White river has been the highest this season for years. Joe Chastain and Mr. Conley drove into it one day last week, and their leaders floated down stream, their wagon being wrecked and parts of it lost, the horses only escaping by the harness being cut away from them.

Supervisor Miller has a fair sized crew doing work on the Criterion grade at present. He expects to have a grader in this district for a few days.

A seemly mad dog indulged in a fight with Charley Crabtree's canine last Thursday morning. After breaking away from there the dog ran away and had another fight with a dog belonging to Dick Palmateer. It then went to the Dick Savage place and Dick hit it with a hammer knocking it down. He proceeded to beat it with a club until his sister brought him a gun, with which Dick killed the animal. Carl Pratt took the dog to Tygh Valley, from which place Mr. G. R. Burtner shipped the head to Portland to be examined for rabies. All the dogs bitten by the strange pup were killed. This happened at Wamic.

Plans are on foot for the completion of the Wapinitia church in time for dedication before conference. It is said that $40.00 will defray all attendant expenses, most of the work being inside finishing, and that nearly all the required amount having been raised.

A brakeman on the work train, which has been operating above here the past 10 days, was knocked from the top of a car by a cable Wednesday morning into the Deschutes and was drowned. The accident occurred at Sherar. The man's name was McClelland.

The road between the bridge and school house is about completed and is now ready for gravel in the center.

The band started giving open air concerts last Sunday, but the storm compelled them to seey shelter in the hall. If the weather permits the band will play on the street each Sunday afternoon.

The Times, March 31, 1916 Excavation is practically finished on Sha'tuck Bros. new building and concreting will begin in a day or two. It is designed that the building will be ready for occupancy by the first of May.

Dr. Elwood is arranging his drug store stock in the east room of the Shattuck building. He has taken over the drug stock recently purchased by Dr. Stovall from G. R. Burtner at Tygh, and is moving it to this place.

Dee Woodside met with what might have been a serious accident last Saturday. One of his horses struck him in the mouth with one of its front hoofs, loosening several of his teeth.

Joe Crahan arrived at Wapinitia Monday morning from Portland. He
