Went After Rattlers

From the Shaniko Star of April 7, 1911, we learn that there were haters of snakes in the Shaniko country a sear as that date, for the Star says:

A band of our sportively inclined inhabitants went down to Fred Durbins' Thursday intent on the destruction of a den of rattlesnakes said to contain a million more or less. They took along a box of dynamite and several boxes of cartridges etc. No official returns of the slaughter have as yet been received.

Building Store at Tygh.

Ernest Webb, who has been the efficient section foreman for the O. W. at this place for some time, is about to forsake railroad work and embark in business for himself. He is building a nice store building next to the Brown service station at Tygh and as soon as it is completed will install a stock of groceries and tourists' supplies. The location is ideal for tourist business and no doubt Mr. and Mrs. Webb will glean a fair share of that trade.

Returned From Hospital.

Mrs. B. D. Fraley returned to her Maupin home Wednesday after a time spent at The Dalles hospital. Mrs. Fraley had been indisposed for some time and it was thought best to go to the sanitarium for treatment in the hope that such might relieve her trouble. She is much improved.

Hauling Sand.

George Tiltonson is having more sand hauled from White River. It will be used for plastering the inside of the new garage.

Fine Walls at Garage.

Job Crabtree removed some of the boards from the forms at the front of the new garage last Saturday. The walls were found to be in fine shape, no cracks developing and being as smooth as though laid with a trowel.

Wonderfully and Fearfully Made.

It is said there is a man in Maupin who, if reports are true, is wonderfully and fearfully made. His doctor said he had an iron constitution; his friends said he possessed nerves of steel; his uncle is a authority for the statement, he has a wooden head; the girls say he has a heart of stone; his enemies state he has more brass to him than anything else; some declare he had lots of spirit, while his admirers declare he is, all wool and a yard wide.

BEN HUR IN CIVIC AUDITORIUM

Gen. Lew Wallace's Immortal Drama In Return Showing

The magnificent cinema interpretation of General Lew Wallace's literary masterpiece, "Ben Hur," will be presented at the auditorium, The Dalles, April 15, at 8:30 o'clock.

In directing the making of the picture, Fred Nible achieved the highest possible success in the art of the cinema not only by the spectacular grandeur of the chariot race, the sea battle and the massing of the Roman troops, but the more particularly by the intelligent manner in which he transferred to the screen the very soul of the story. It is because of this accuracy in the interpretation of the book that the cinema version of "Ben Hur" is a satisfaction and a delight to those long familiar with General Wallace's romance and with the play.

The important players were Ramon Novarra, Francis Z. Bushman, May McAvoy, Claire McDowell, Kathleen Key, Carmel Myers, Nigel de Bruiler, Mitchell Lewis, Leo White, Frank Currier, Charles Belcher, Betty Bronson, Dale Fuller and Winter Hall. The presentations are accompanied by an elaborate orchestral score performed by a large touring orchestra under the direction of Clarence West.

O P I C K E D U P A B O U T T O W N

Foreman Temple of the Maupin garage is most versatile. When he is not tinkering with a car he is doing acetylene welding, wiring for lights and power, doing plumbing and at times has been seen digging trenches for gas tank pipes. Temple also indulges in trap shooting and is seldom numbered among those "who also shot."

Phil Starr does not believe in buying all the vegetables his family uses, for he has secured nearly all the vacant lots in his neighborhood, had same plowed and is busy during spare time in planting seeds. Here's hoping his melon vines encroach upon our lot.

Lew Henneghan, and Joe Kramer, with Jesse Addington as chaplain, trekked to Sandy river last Saturday. Jesse said he secured about 30 pounds of the little shiners, but failed to inform us how many pounds Lew and Joe gathered in.

When it comes to filling forms with concrete Job Crabtree has few equals. A glance at the walls of the new garage is evidence that Job knows the rules of ratio and proportion to the nth degree.

The chance offered our school students to enter the essay writing contest on the subject, "Cross Crossing Cautiously," should be acted upon. Maupin students shape up as brightly as those of any other schools and their chances for gathering in one of the prizes are as good as any of the others.

Painter Roach was wroth several days last week. He sent to a mail order house for some stencils with which to decorate the borders of the walls at the bank, but, after many days, received word that that house was out of such goods. He ordered from another mail order concern and received the same information. Then Claude busied himself and made his own stencils.

Harve Morris told us he'd about completed sowing a second helping of seed wheat. His last fall's sowing made feed for worms, therefore, in order to have a crop, he scattered spring wheat on his acres. We wonder why he did not give his acres a liberal dose of "Brown Worm Vermifuge."

Saturday night dances have become a habit with devotees of Ter-sichore. Several dancers from the Flat were in Maupin last Saturday night, being under the impression the Legion was staging a hop.

When "Tony the Convict" makes his appearance in Maupin he will be accompanied by George Morris, who will pose as a tramp side-kick to Tony. At that George is anything but a tramp, but his role as such will go over with a bang, as his histrionic ability, coupled with a good stage presence, is bound to win votes as the "only dude tramp on earth."

"Jackson," in Tony the Convict, says he "came from Virginia, not from No'th Calina," and that "there's no tah on his heels. He threatens to give two weeks' notice that he quits at once."

OX ELEVEN YEARS AGO

From The Times April 7, 1916 Last Sunday Maupin defeated Tygh at Maupin by a score of 14 to 2. Several of the Tygh players were absent, which accounts for the one sided score.

Ernest Paquet had a runaway while plowing for Frank Huston at Wapinitia last week. Fortunately neither man nor horses were hurt.

Dr. Stovall came in from Tygh Friday morning with Chas. Wing, when he delivered the last load of goods from the Tygh drug store to the one starting up at this place.

Wednesday a mad coyote killed five of K. L. Hauser's sheep and then made its escape before either one of the three armed men were able to fire a disabling shot at it.

The Maupin band boys were out Sunday and gave a very creditable concert on the streets and also en-livened things at the baseball game.

A large quantity of wheat bought by the bank of Portland for Hauser, was shipped out this week.

C. E. Tunnison has filed his petition with the county clerk for nomination as constable of Criterion. A petition for justice of the peace will also soon be filed.

R. H. DeCamp recently shipped some of his famous early potatoes to Vancouver, Washington, for seed.

A. L. Daniels and Ora Maynard recently made a trip from Wapinitia to Keep's mill, and when they returned reported snow being four feet deep at the mill.

Getting Ready For Fishing Season.

Tom Henneghan, one of Maupin's expert fishermen, is laying in his season's supply of fishing tackle. He lately purchased a new rod, line, spinners and everything that goes to make up a complete outfit.

Making Garden.

HOW ABOUT MINDED? Sof: "Joe's awfully absent-minded, isn't he?" Omar: "Why?"

"Why, the other night he was driving his parents over a lonely road and they came to a particularly lonely spot and before he knew it he had parked the car."

—Bureau Farmer

"Stop!" says she. "I won't," says he. "All right, then," says she with a sigh of relief. "I've done what Mother told me to!"—The Coach.
