Tom Henneghan is a firm believer in the efficacy of a spinner as fish lure. Sunday he was down the river as were many others, they using flies while Tom pinned his faith on a "Doc Shelton." The fly fishermen pulled but two out of the water, while Tom's basket counted an even dozen and a half of fine redsides.

Jim Chalmers and The Times family have just cause for registering a big kick. Jim has worked early and late making garden and had one of the best in town. Thursday night W. D. Roberts was attacked by what appeared to be a rabid coyote near his camp. It was held off by a bombardment of stones by neighbors until Mr. Roberts procured a gun and killed it. Its head was sent to Portland for examination for rabies.

Dr. Francis, who recently left this place for Bend, is announced by the Bend press as being permanently located with Myron H. Symons, jeweler, in that city.

Last Saturday R. Johnson harvested the first of his strawberry crop for this year. The berries have been held back by the cold weather, but Dick says that from now on he will have sufficient to supply the local market.

Beginning Saturday, May 14, there will be a show and dance at the pavilion at the fair grounds at Tygh Valley an dever fourth week thereafter. Every fourth week there will be a $50.00 diamond ring given to the one holding the luck number drawn. The management will endeavor to entertain all attending with novelty dances.

Farlow Brothers of Wamic shipped 80 hogs to the Portland market on Monday, five neighbors joining in the shipment.

A party of O. T. railway officials met with the Wapinitia people last week regarding the construction of a road up Wapinitia creek.

The homestead dwelling of W. M. Moss burned to the ground Wednesday night, the family losing everything but one feather bed.

A shower is to be tendered Miss Bertha Herrling of Criterion today by her friends at the home of Mrs. A. A. Canfield, in honor of her approaching marriage with Peter J. Kirsch.

Jack Staats will follow the ins and outs of a forest ranger this summer. He was at Abbott's three months during lambing and feeding, then came to town and answered a summons to present himself at Lewis, on the Clatsop, in Washington, and enter the service. It will be a grand vacation for our irrepressible Jack, and we expect him to return in the fall weighing nearly a ton—more or less.

Ben Fraley banks on the honesty of his customers. He has invited all who wish to drive their cars into his garage, use his tools and do their own work. As it is a falling of some people to appropriate all the tools they get their hands on, Ben's confidence is shown in his offer, believing his tool kit will not suffer by giving free use of them.
