F. D. Stuart and family spent Memorial day visiting with Mark Stuart and family at Tygh Valley.

Esel Stovall went to Antelope Saturday night and played the drums in the Plyler orchestra at the dance.

Miss Leona Ritchie is a guest from Ione at the home of her aunt, Mrs. H. R. Kaiser, having arrived on Tuesday.

J. W. Nagle will leave for Seattle this morning and expects to spend the balance of his summer vacation in that city.

Mrs. W. H. Staats accompanied Geo. Gill and wife as far as Dufur Monday, staying there a few days to visit her sons.

L. V. Broughton and his father-in-law, Philip Goshaw, made a short business trip to The Dalles yesterday afternoon.

A. H. Gillis, secretary-manager of association, was in Maupin on business yesterday. Al's postoffice address is Wamic.

Mrs. John Foley and children left for San Francisco, last Thursday. Her daughter, Katherine, is attending school in the southern city and her mother goes to see her and at the same time visit other relatives.

Rev. Everett Hazen and wife made a short visit with friends at Madras, going up the highway yesterday morning.

W. G. Morris and wife of The Dalles visited with the former's brother, George L. Morris, and family on Memorial Day.

R. W. Richmond went to the Clarno oil field Tuesday, taking with him his wife and Mrs. R. E. Richmond and Prof. J. A. Nagle.

Tommy Kingsley returned from his Portland trip last week and is now taking care of bachelor's hall at his ranch at Nena.

Ollie Weberg and wife went to Portland Saturday last. While there Mrs. Weberg was given treatments by a The Dalles physician.

F. C. Butler and wife and the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Morrow of White River, spent Sunday at Bear Creek, picnicing.

Andrew Crabtree went to the Greene construction camp on the Wapinitia cut-off Monday evening, and will work there while the job lasts.

Lester Crofoot has been in town since Saturday. He was lately transferred from Cove Creek to Two Springs, where he is at work on the O. W. section.

Geo. McDonald with Portland friends, H. L. Stiles and wife and Norman Hani, spent Memorial Day at Kaskella, securing a fair catch of rainbow trout.

George Gill and wife came up from Portland Saturday and spent Sunday with Mrs. Gill's mother, Mrs. Mrs. W. H. Staats. They returned home Monday morning.

Mike VanLaanen came in from Salem Saturday and returned Monday, taking his wife and little daughter, who have been visiting here for some time, home with him.

Job Crabtree went to Portland

Tuesday morning. He was called there by a telegram from his old employer, who desired Job's services on construction work.

Re. Wilson, wife, son and daughter went to Portland Saturday a m., going there in order to take part in the Memorial Day exercises. They returned to Maupin Tuesday afternoon.

Leonard Weberg and wife and his brother, Harry, went to The Dalles Tuesday. Leonard and wife returned that evening but Harry will go on to Portland where he will seek employment.

Mrs. Lucile Cantrell left for Portland last Thursday and will visit with her sister there for a short time, going from the big city to Monmouth, where she will attend summer school.

Clyde Williams, a druggist from Independence, was one of the fishermen who whipped the stream Sunday. Mrs. Williams was a classmate of Dr. L. S. Stovall from '91 to '95, and visited with our pill compounder while here.

"Dad" Griffin came over from Ione yesterday morning and will remain long enough to pull a few of the large ones from the Deschutes. He was accompanied by his grandson, George Ritchie.

Jack Morrow and wife entertained the latter's parents, W. L. Brown and wife of Dufur and Roy Wolfe and wife of The Dalles on Memorial Day. Elmer and Wm. Brown of Bakesoven were also guests at the Morrow home that day.

Mrs. J. W. Nagel, came in from Molson, Washington, last Thursday and spent from then until Saturday with her husband. The lady went from here to Boise, Idaho, where she will visit with her sisters for a time.

Sheepmen who have completed shearing report a very satisfactory clip this season. Farghers sheared approximately 30,000 pounds of wool and Ernest Troutman, from a band of 1100 sheep sacked 11,000 pounds of the stuff clothes are supposed to made of. Ernest's wool was shipped to Portland today and its sale will be handled by the Wool association. The shearers have finished the John Karlen clip and will soon go to Abbott's, where there are d raveselothsushn thes are the tim several thousand sheep to shear. Then W. E. Hunt will entertain the shearers while they are divesting his sheep of their winter coats.

A. B. Smith of the Oak Springs fish hatchery informs The Times that since the first of May up to the first of June he had released 250,000 rainbow trout from the holding pens at the hatchery. There are still 500,000 trout in the pens, and these will be released at intervals between now and the first of October. Andy expects about 750,000 eggs before long, and these will be taken care of and the hatch held until large enough to take care of itself.

Work on the Antelope-Clarno connection is progressing in a most satisfactory manner. About three miles have been graded and connection is progressing in a most satisfactory manner. About three tractors are rushing ahead as fast as possible. A rock chusher has been set up and soon will be crushing gravel for top surfacing the road. The strip under construction covers a length of about 17 miles.

J. G. Kramer and family are on their way to their old home in North Dakota. A letter to their son, J. H. Kramer of Maupin, written from Butte, Montana, states the family was making the trip in fine shape and that all were enjoying themselves to the limit.

Bates Shattuck has been exercising his mechanical attributes several days lately by erecting an International combine. The machine has been purchased by Clifford Allen, who will use it in the approaching harvest.

Esel Stovall is a pretty sick boy these days. Last Friday he went to the river and rubbed against poison oak, with the result that he was confined to his bed for a few days the first of the week.

Expert picture developing. 5x7 enlargement free with each .50 cents' worth of work at the Maupin Drug Store.

By actual count there were 148 cars parked in the neighborhood of the mouth of Bakesoven on Sunday. Seventy-five are reported as having been at Crooked River, and a like number made the trip to Jersey and South Junction.

A. Mr. Powers from Corvallis began work at the Shattuck store yesterday morning. He will be used in all departments of the store. The newcomer is a brother-in-law of Ernest Troutman, one of our leading sheep men.

Edgar Sylvester Pratt of Wamic, aged 26 years, died in an automobile while on his way to The Dalles, on Tuesday evening. Death occurred near Dufur. Decedent had long been a resident of the Wamic section, going there with his parents when but a child.

Airhart's work train has been at work this week filling in the cut at the old ferry landing near the O. T. depot. The crew has widened the road sufficient for teams to turn around.

Tuesday morning, while excavating for the foundation of the new elevator, workmen unearthed the skeleton of a man, presumably that of an Indian. Since the warehouse is situated on the site of arly day skirmishes with Indians by Mr. Maupin, the father of this city, it is supposed the remains represent all left of one of his enemies.

Frank Gabel is shipping his wool clip this week. It amounts to 37,947 pounds. J. P. Abbott commenced hauling his wool to town yesterday.

The baseball game between Maupin and Dufur last Sunday was a victory for the visitors, they winning by a score of 6-4.

Actual construction work on the warehouse elevator was begun Tuesday, three men with teams being at work.

Monday evening Mr. Peterson of the O. T., hooked a dolly varden trout which weighed 11 pounds.

The first graduation exercises of the Wapinitia schools occurred last Friday evening, about 100 people being present. The program was carried out in the church, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Dr. Stovall says that the patronage accorded baseball games in Maupin is such that he is disposed to withhold scheduling more games. The attendance last Sunday was certainly discouraging, while the game was well worth the viewing by all our people.

Clyde T. Bonney is not one to lie around waiting for something to turn up. He has just concluded a most successful school year, and will go to the forest on June 6, where he will be employed until the first of September in road and other work.

The local gas war has ended, each of the dealers striving for that trade having signed an agreement to conform to the prevailing general selling price of that commodity which causes car wheels to turn. At that one dealer has set a price of 23 cents per gallon for gas.

If one should judge of the popularity of the Deschutes as a fishing stream he would say that our famous river was known from one end of the country to the other. Last Sunday there were at least 200 anglers whipping the waters of the Deschutes in the vicinity of Maupin. Luck was against them, as but very few average catches were made.

Morris Greene is preparing to begin work on the Wapinitia cut-off. He says that getting his gear in shape for the road campaign is about as costly as purchasing a new outfit, and that a big hole is knocked in the profits when the repairs are paid for.

The fellow who tried to light a cigar while driving up the Maupin grade and who lost control of his car in so doing, had better take heed and hereafter do his smoking while on the ground, or else stop the auto when he wants to smoke. His attempt on Saturday proved disastrous to the car and also made a hole in the contents of his purse.

Link Harpham came over from their Washington ranch to decorate the graves of some of his departed relatives in the Kelly cemetery. Link says that Jimmy and "Buck" take to farm life like a Hoosier, but that fishing seems to occupy the greater part of their time.

The residents of the Flanagan school district have recommended the election of O. B. Derthick as member of the school board of District No. 84. The choice is a good one and voters should bear the recommendation in mind when they go to the polls on June 20.

The remarks of H. C. Rooper of Antelope may be apt and timely. He is an old resident of this section and knows whereof he speaks. Evidently Herbert is a believer in the "red flannel" idea for winter underwear, at least he advances some sound logic regarding shedding such until summer is here. Read his letter in another column of The Times.

If we are allowed to say so, it is our opinion that more money is sent to the mail order houses from Maupin than is spent with local merchants. The heavy arrival of "Monkey-Ward" catalogues Monday compels this thought.

What with a rodeo June 11th and 12th and a grand celebration there on July 4, the fair grounds at Tygh becomes a popular place. We wonder whether those responsible for the agitation for a fair grounds at The Dalles ever gave thought to holding aught but fairs if they get the fair grounds there.
