

Modern smokers demand quality and put Camel first

THIS experienced age knows the good tobaccos it demands in a cigarette. And it has made Camel the greatest leader any age has ever known.

Camel's choice tobaccos and its blending for smoothness and mellowness have made it supreme with modern smokers. Camel today is world favorite, because of quality.

Camel was made to succeed in an age that knows merit. Just try Camels and you'll know why no other cigarette can compare with them. Let the choice of the modern world show you what smoking enjoyment can really be.

lettuce at some future date. It began to look as if Gracie had cloyed in vain. All to no purpose, as it were. I felt pretty bad about it. I would have liked to get her those floral flowers, if only for her father's sake.

As I remarked, that was on Sunday. The next day was Monday, and I noticed whole rafts of people going to the cemetery afoot, in cars, in Fords and in their own shoes. Those that weren't carrying rakes or shovels were weighed down with beautiful products of the hot-house I followed them but none ever set down a tool anywhere and went off and forgot it.

That night, walking by the cemetery, feeling despondent, I noticed most of the graves, especially the ones with the large tombstones, had flowers strewn all over them. Which started methingking how bad poor Gracie would feel without any flowers.

Anyhow, it seemed a bit useless for all those flowers to be "wasting their sweetness" in the graveyard air. Moreover, tho' a dead man may be fully capable of smelling, it's a cinch he can't smell flowers with six feet of earth intervening. Besides which, its against the rules for a dead man to tell tales. So, between the rich widow's husband's grave and a few others, I was concocting as fine a bouquet as you could wish to see or smell. Just as I figured out how many more carnations I could carry, I heard footsteps approaching. Stealthily but steadily, I remembered and thanked my lucky stars that picking flowers off the graves, at night, was no penitentiary offense, tho' probably the reason was that no one had done it before, and what with all this talk of juries being so sentimental these days, I thought it best to ditch my bouquet for the time being. I squatted flat on a sunken grave.

By this time the footsteps were almost upon me. I could hear labored breathing and a dull, rubbing sound. I listened and looked hard.

It was Mr. Rankin's pet Jersey cow, rubbing her nose on the graveyard gate.

I walked over and opened the gate. There's some talk of fining Mr. Rankin. You know his cow got in the cemetery, the night of Decoration Day and ate the flowers off the graves.

Gracie thought the flowers were "just too wonderful for words."

"Only the good die young" says the proverb.

Yes, and only the young die good.

Well, here's hoping, May Dame Fortune smile on you But never her daughter, Miss Fortune.

Pertinent Hints

Always iron with the thread of the goods, and iron until the garment is dry. Otherwise it will pucker. To remove the shiny gloss on hem, tuck or seam, moisten a piece of soft cloth in clear water, wring it dry, and wipe it quickly over the shiny surface.

Jelly that won't "jell" can be used in many ways. As a spread or sauce for pancakes; as a filling for whole stewed or baked apples; in pastry or tart shells, garnished with whipped cream; in jelly roll; in lamb or mutton gravy, if tart; as a foundation for fruit punch.

THE CORRAL

By M. J. W.

The corral stuffand nonsense..... Pussycat, Pussycat,
Where have you been all day?
I have been to Maupin,
To see the "King of May."

Pussycat, Pussycat,
And tell me, who was he?
Oh, if you want to know that
You should have gone to see.

Pussycat, Pussycat,
What did they do there?
I would like to tell you,
But 'twouldn't be quite fair.

IF
We were rich
We'd be rich and famous,
IF
We were rich.

Poor Peter's Pitiful Plight
(A grave discussion)

That writers chap that said "Rome wasn't built in a day and women always have to pay" may have the low-down on Roman architecture and all that, but he sure wasn't on to women and their wily ways.

It happened all on account of a girl called Gracie. Sunday afternoon I was up to see Gracie's father. He'd got chronic appendicitis so every Sunday I go up to see if there's anything I can do to help him along. He's made stacks of dough and I'd hate to see him cut off in the prime of life before he's had time to enjoy it, properly. So it was Sunday that Gracie remarked coyly, or however it is women do when they want something, "I do adore flowers what has been brought up in a hot house." Which meant she had the "wooden shoe" again. ("Wouldn't you buy me some flowers) There not being any so called flower-factories in town, it was up to my sense of chivalry to rustle some for her.

That evening I wandered around the residential section, admiring in particular the yards of those citizens interested in horticulture. Nothing was in bloom except some rhubarb, a few daffodils, and some leaves what aspired in their hearts to be
