WHERE MONEY GOES

The people of the United States pay more for cigarettes, candy and tobacco than for electricity, and the gross sales of the United States steel company are greater than those of the whole electric industry. This is another answer to the charge of the existence of a "power trust."

President Coolidge's curt way of saying he would not be a candidate to succeed himself might have been cut to a plain "no" when asked about the matter.

Phil Starr has the vegetable situation sized up about right. He says that a sharp hoe and plenty of water are all that's needed to make a garden grow in Maupin.

Some people are so bigoted that they refuse to give their home paper items of news although they are perfectly willing that the paper should boost their business in its columns.

Bring in your picture developing. Quick service. An enlargement free with each 50 cents worth of work, at the Maupin Drug Store.

WAMIC DOINGS

We had some days here last week. A shower of rain fell here Monday.

Bill Johnson's calves are attracting much attention. Charley Crofoot and Will Beckwith came over from Maupin Friday to see them. They were the first to come from so long a distance to see the calves.

An interesting picnic was given at Swim Sunday when parties met their friends from many places, a number coming from Portland.

Excitement prevailed here Friday when John Ayers came down from Smock with one of his hired hands who seemed in a demented condition. Deputy Sheriff Gillis could not take him in charge that evening and Mr. Ayers returned to Smock with the man.

Cecil Woodcock and his mother were visitors here one day last week from Maupin.

W. E. Woodcock took a truck load of lumber to Maupin Monday.

Winston Lake took Charley Lake to The Dalles Monday. He spent several days with his parents here.

Al. Gillis, and H. Johnson conducted a man, that to be demented, to The Dalles Saturday.

SMOCK DOINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hill were callers at the Bradley home on Sunday afternoon.

F. T. Felthe and wife motored to The Dalles on Saturday returning on the same day.

Mrs. Jennie Hopping a sister of Mr. James Bradley arrived at Smock Saturday evening from Grapton, Nebraska. She will assist in the care of her brother, who is very ill.

With his combine C. B. Scott is cutting and threshing his wheat on time. He says it certainly is a labor saving machine.

The Driver Klan met at Swim on Sunday for a farewell visit with Thos. Driver, who will return to his home in Hawaii this week.

D. C. Scott and wife were Sunday evening callers at the Felthe home.

Crystal Wrenn returned from Portland to The Dalles Saturday where she was met by her brother Clarence, who brought her home to Smock on Sunday. Miss Wrenn has been in Portland for some weeks visiting with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kramer motored to Maupin Saturday. Mrs. Bagenholt accompanied them.

Ed Wing brought Mrs. Hopping to Bradley's from the train at Sherara Bridge.

We will be glad to have the telephone line repaired on Rock grade where a crew of men are working, widening and graveling the road.

Mr. and Mrs. Callie Duncan came to Smock for summer apples, getting them at S. G. Ledford's.

Nyal Hill, Cecil Mayfield and R. Ruffer are cutting wheat for Mr. Bradley. That is being neighborly in earnest as each of them left his own work to do it.

H. Kramer made a business trip to The Dalles Saturday afternoon.

PICKED UP ABOUT TOWN

Leonard Farlow is enjoying himself at coast points these days. The big boy of the Maupin Drug Store seems to be too young to trust alone at any rate he has a chaperone with him on his trip to the coast.

Bill Staats says that not alone is tending store one of his many hobbies, but that when it comes to driving a combine you can count him in. This week Bill is general factotum on the Slusher harvester; the only thing that he does not like about the job is playing nurse to four mules.

Tum-A Lum Renick is on his vacation at Wallowa Lake, and will be gone for ten days. Oscar took all his fishing tackle with him and it is a sure bet that plenty of the denizens of that lake will find resting places in his creel.

Lew Wilhelm has worked among lumber all his life and to keep his hand in he is taking Oscar Renick's place as manager of the lumber yard during the latter's absence. Lew says that handling lumber is preferable to working for Richmond, shoveling accretions of sheep corals into gunny sacks. We agree with him.

Hugh Wood ceased activities as an auto salesman to devote his talents and attention to harvesting his hay crop. He was in town on Monday and had every appearance of a dyed-in-the-wool hay miner.

If oil is found at Clarno it is our intention to further explore the cave at McLennon. We found every indication of oil there when the opening was smoking, and sighting across the country it seems that the hole is in direct line with the John Day shale beds.

"Shorty" has found a new home, one where his talents for chasing passing autos will be dormant. He was a good little fellow, but his penchant for killing cats and barking at autos will now be confined to "biting on all four" in attempts to corner gray diggers and chipmunks on a ranch. We're speaking of Joe Kramer's erstwhile pot hound.

Our neighbors are going around with tears in their eyes. Not that they are deep in sorrow, but those fine onions growing in Phil Starr's garden are causing "movie tears" to fall from many eyes these days.

Bob Wilson's lonesomeness is over; his wife returned from her Portland visit Sunday and now our general groceryman is again greeting customers with his usual sang froid, which is French for smiling face.
