We do not know it all, but in our twelve years in the GARAGE AND REPAIR BUSINESS we have learned a lot of things.

We have passed through the experimental stage and come out with a sound, practical knowledge that guarantees expert service on your flames. Carl secured a ladder and had buckets of water passed to him soon extinguishing the flames. The fire originated from a defective flue. Mrs. McCorkle had built a fire in the kitchen range preparatory to getting dinner and the ceiling of the attic took fire from an escaping spark. Had Mr. Pratt not been there it is probable the house and contents would have been entirely consumed.

The Forest Worker.

The magazine published by the United States Forest Service and heretofore distributed to a limited number of readers, is now available to the general public. This periodical of 24 pages, appearing in alternate months, presents in concise and readable form current news of the work of State and Federal forestry organizations, and forest schools, forestry associations, and foresters in private practice. It follows with special care what is being done to teach both children and adults the facts of the national forestry situation and to direct them in forestry activities. In addition to news items it carries brief nontechnical articles.

Copies of The Forest Worker may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. The charge is 5 cents for a single copy or 25 cents for a year's subscription. Foreign rates are: single copy 7 cents and year's subscription 35 cents.

Captured Still at Friend.

A federal prohibition officer, working with the sheriff's force, captured a still in full operation at Friend Monday morning. One of the operators, said to be a man named Nys, was taken in the raid and lodged in jail. The officers had been watching the still for some time. They spent all of Sunday night in its vicinity and early Monday morning made the raid which netted Nys and the still.

Auctioneers Here.

Messrs. Martin & Thrall, The Dalles auctioneers, were in Maupin on Monday, having come this way to conclude arrangements for conducting an auction sale at the Bargenholt ranch, near Wamic.

Fixing Plumbing.

Charley Crofoot was busy several days this week fixing up the plumbing in the Home Hotel. When the building was constructed that part was neglected, so that to make the rooms habitable the plumbing required some attention. Mr. Crofoot put it in good shape and that place is now in the best of condition.

PICKED UP ABOUT TOWN

If our neighboring city of Dufur had not produced a thing but Jack McConnell, its renown would be broadcasted to the world. Jack is master of the French harp, in fact he has been heard over various radios in the past. No tune ever invented but is in his mind and a request for some long-forgotten piece is instantly recalled and rendered in a masterful manner by Dufur's son.

George Carl, the new man at the Maupin Garage, is an all 'round workman. If your teakettle of any other piece of tinware develops a hole, take it to George and he will dam it up so it will hold all that is put into it. As a tire repairer he has no superior, and when it comes to making a sick car well he is there both way from the ace.

Al Gillis, secretary-manager of the Tygh Valley fair, is authority for the statement that the coming exposition of his society will be by far the biggest and best ever held in Wasco county. Arrangements have been completed for more room for exhibits, new rest rooms built and more and better attractions secured for the amusement of those attending. The fair will open Friday, September 2, and continue up to and including September 5. Of course all will be there the four days.

Frank Creager says that life holds some charm for him after all is said and done. Franks suffers but one drawback—he wants to go fishin but his wife won't let him.

Tum-A-Lum Renick and family spent ten days at Wallowa lake and at Bingham Springs. Tum went there to enjoy the fishing of both resorts, but a day or so after returning home went to the river and caught a mess of trout. Reader, draw your own conclusions.

Earl Crabtree says the way wheat is coming in to the Maupin Warehouse precludes any idea of him getting a new pair of overalls. He is kept so busy unloading and shipping grain that he does not find time to sit down except at meal-time which is saving to his habit.

John Foley is the happiest man on the O. W. line. For several years our worthy track walker has been pumping a descript speeder up to Mc Lennon and back every day of the year. The machine developed a case of rickets several years ago and John made requisitions for a new one. Last week the new vehicle arrived and now John goes merrily on his way with a smile on his face and a song in his heart.

Richmond, the sheep guano king of the Deschutes, has had much trouble securing men who were willing to shovel the product of various sheep corrals of this section. Last week he impressed a crew into his service and as a result he was able to ship a couple of carloads of guano to market.

It is hard to keep good men down. Tim Linn and son recently suffered two sawmill fires, but nothing undaunted by those casualties they are preparing to erect another mill at the old site at Pine Grove. Soon they will be turning out a superior grade of lumber, then several Maupinites, whose buildings have been held up for lack of Linns' lumber, will be able to go ahead and complete what they have begun.

Miss Stella Sawyer, an old school mate of Mrs. Ernest Confer, and who has been visiting the latter a few weeks, left for her home in Nebraska yesterday, Mr. Confer taking her to The Dalles. Miss Sawyer is a teacher and goes home to prepare for the coming year's school duties.

Landlord Caton Recovered.

Landlord Caton of the Hotel Kelly was confined to his bed most of last week with what threatened to be a nervous breakdown. At this writing we are pleased to state that Mr. Caton is again on his feet, feeling much better and able to attend to his duties around the hotel.
