REAL PHILOSOPHY

The Portland Oregonian has a real columnist on its staff in the person of D. H. Talmadge. That writer gets as close to the people as it is humanely possible and the stories he sends the big paper are full of meat.

Like Thomas J. Waterbury, I was long in learning this. I am far from perfection in the teaching even yet.
You and I, more particularly when we were young, considered you and I about the most important consideration in the world, did we not?
Later, as one brick after another hit upon our preciousness, we became more moderate in our opinions, and at length we became fairly sensible to the situation confronting us.

Somebody has said—likely it was Benjamin Franklin, but I do not know—that a laugh is worth a groan in any market. True. But there is a vast difference in groans. Personally, I enjoy letting out a good, big, soul satisfying groan once in a while, and I defy anybody to prove that it does the least harm in the world.

"But we should, I think, exert the greatest of care in choosing our groans."

FERTILIZING ALFALFA PROFITS

By Following Suggestions an Increase of Ton an Acre May be Had Application of sulphur or land plaster to alfalfa each year is extremely profitable in Oregon, experiment station trials show. These applications are made at the rate of fifty pounds of sulphur or 100 pounds of land plaster in the early spring so that the rains can wash the material into the soil. Applications of these fertilizers in the trials each year have given an average of a ton increase an acre.

Genius

"I'm afraid, doctor," said Mrs.
Jones, "that my husband has some terrible affliction. Sometimes I talk to him for hours, and then find he hasn't heard a word."

"That isn't an affliction, madam," was the weary reply. "That's a gift."

Getting His Money's Worth

"Say, when are you going to take your heifer out of my pasture?" inquired a farmer who had been pasturing a calf for his neighbor. "She's been there 10 weeks already and the bill is now $10."

"Ten dollars! that's as much as the heifer is worth."

"All right, I'll take her for the bill," replied the farmer.

"No, I won't do that," answered the other. "But I'll tell you what I will do, keep the heifer three weeks longer and you can have her."

Leona Trickey Passes Through.

Leona Trickey, lately acquitted of the killing of "Slim" Harris at Lakeview, passed through Maupin Sunday on her way to Prineville. With her were Tommy Smith, Tommy Mead and Miss Laura Delco.

HEALTH POINTERS FROM OREGON STATE COLLEGE

Suggestions and Hints Regarding Care of Sick—Advice Regarding Restless Children

To obtain comfort for a patient, keep the bed free from wrinkles, moisture and crumbs. If sheets are made half again as long as for ordinary use allowing one-half yard on each side to turn under, the covers are kept in place. A draw sheet is also a great help. This is made from an ordinary sheet folded in the center lengthwise and tucked in lightly on one side. The rest is taken in the opposite side of the bed and plaited under the mattress. When necessary this puts a fresh part of the sheet under the patient several times a day.

Many diseases start with the same symptoms as colds. The common symptoms are fever, aching muscles, sore throat, vomiting, lack of appetite and a general feeling of low vitality. Some home methods which have checked disease in the early stages are staying indoors, using a light diet, using a laxative, keeping warm, quiet and drinking plenty of water.

Some indoor play materials that develop coordination in children are blocks, large beads, plastic clay and Montessori material. Equipment which will develop the larger muscles in children include kiddie cars, tri-cycles, slides, ladders, teeters, swings and large dry goods boxes.

Neglect of the mouth leads to decaying and abscessed teeth, infected glands and infections in other parts of the body.

On rainy days, when the small child is restless, a few shingle nails and a cake of laundry soap will keep him busy. The nails can be hammered into the soap much more easily than into a board.

Danced At Shady Brook.

George Tillotson and wife attended the dance at Shady Brook last Saturday night, and were accompanied by Mrs. Joynt and Mrs. Wray.

Geo. Carl and Wife Leave.

George Carl and wife left for Portland Sunday afternoon, driving down. Mr. Carl has been in charge of the Maupin garage the past few months and during his stay here made many friends. He is an expert mechanic and while here his work was the magnet which drew many customers to the garage. He has accepted a position with a carbide lighting company, for whom he worked for years and will serve as installer of plants.

Bought Chevrolet Truck.

Resh & Stuart are up to the times.
In order to facilitate hauling freight they recently purchased a new Chevrolet truck and Job Crabtree and James Chalmers fitted a neat rack to the body. The vehicle will be used in carrying meat to the firm's market as well as to convey freight from The Dalles to Maupin.

Attended Shady Brook Dance.

Maupin was represented at the dance at Shady Brook last Saturday night by Cyril and Orville Fraley, Jesse and Andrew Crabtree, Earl Greene, Bob Shepflin and the Misses Mary and Ailene Greene, Ella Shepflin, and Genevieve Seethoff.

Tillotson Moved Pole.

The large telephone pole which formerly stood at the corner of the east driveway to the Tillotson garage, has been moved across the street at the Weberg corner. George Tillotson made the move and restrung the wires after the pole was set.

Bladed Maupin Street.

Part of the road crew with a one-man grader, smoothed the highway through town Sunday, filling in many holes and making the street easy to travel again.

ELEVEN YEARS AGO

From The Times Nov. 24, 1916

An epidemic of whooping cough is sweeping over Smock, and Miss Ella Sayron, who lives at that place, was compelled to give up her school on Juniper Flat owing to her having the disease.

We learn that Sam Brown has contracted to open up seven miles of the old ditch on the Flat and will begin work in the near future.

J. W. Derthick has taken up a homestead near Criterion.

A delegation, consisting of J. E.
Kennedy, W. E. Woodcock, J. E.
Harvey, D. A. Campbell, W. M. and H. E. Driver of Wamic, went to Portland to confer with our representative regarding the withdrawal of the mountain range from grazing.

A meeting has been called for November 5th at the school house in District No. 85, for the purpose of deciding on a levy for the purpose of improving the road in road district No. 36. The call has been signed by 21 residents of the district, Criterion.

SERVICE CHARGE

This week we have sent to each of our depositors a circular describing our new system of service charges. We ask that all who receive same carefully peruse it and familiarize themselves with the plan. This system is something new, and has been adopted by nearly all the banks on the Pacific coast. The plan is thoroughly explained in the circular. By becoming familiar with the plan much explanation will be avoided, therefore please read and digest the contents of the circular.
