

PERSONAL MENTION

O. P. Weberg went to The Dalles on business Saturday morning. T. B. Slusher and wife were in The Dalles on Monday, going there on a business trip. Frank Dyer and wife spent Sunday with the family of their daughter, Mrs. Ernest Confer, on the Flat. George Mallatt and wife were down from Upper Bakeoven on Monday, trading with Maupin merchants. Stewart (Brick) McLeod, was in Maupin from his Tygh Ridge Ranch a day or so the latter part of last week. Floyd McLeod of Criterion delivered a load of hogs to John Karlen Tuesday and spent the night with his sister, Mrs. James Chalmers, and husband. Glenn Powers, who was a clerk at Shattucks last year, with his wife came up from Hillsboro last Saturday and will spend a time at the ranch home of Mrs. Powers' brother, Ernest Troutman. W. C. Wilkes of the Bend Warehouse company and Traveling Freight and Passenger Agent Wright of the O. T., were in Maupin on business yesterday morning. Jack Kelly is about town again. Jack has been in the forest service during the past summer and comes out now that work there has suspended for the winter. Jack Morrow was in town a short time Monday, coming from his dad's White River ranch after Butler's old Ford, which he will doctor and make whole again. Misses Alda Pugh and Olive Turner came home from Mosier Monday morning, they having been employed in a packing house at that place since the apple harvest began. Mike VanLaanen and wife came up from Salem on Friday last and will visit for a time with L. C. Henneghan and wife. Mrs. Van Laanen is a sister of Mrs. Henneghan's. Charley Lake and mother, Mrs. Judge A. E. Lake, were in from Wamic on Tuesday. Charley took care of business while his mother spent part of the day with Mrs. Frank Woodcock. George Tillotson will go to Portland tomorrow for the purpose of viewing an initial receipt of the new Ford car. His wife and the Misses Olive Turner and Alda Pugh will accompany him to the metropolis.

EAST MAUPIN NEWS

Elmer Hornquist entertained his brother, Fred, a few days last week. Henry Richardson was down from the Hunt sheep ranch a short time Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Jim Rusic has recovered from a spell of illness, which kept her confined to the house last week. Linn Caton of Portland was a visitor at the Hotel Kelly, conducted by his brother, a short time ago. Alfred Herrling and wife came down from Bend Saturday and spent Sunday with relatives, the Fischers, on the East side. Chester Crabtree is visiting with the family of his sister, Mrs. Seltz Miller, at Mikkalo, having gone to that place last week Monday. Mrs. Lou Brown, formerly of this place, now living at Hood River, visited with the family of her brother, W. H. Williams, last Wednesday. Mrs. Ed. Fischer, accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Alfred Herrling, and husband from Bend, and was a guest of Hugo Fischer and wife over Sunday. John Mannion has gone to the Fargher sheep ranch, after a long siege of lumbago, which put that popular sheep herder out of the running. John Williams was going through the motions of a carpenter several days of last week, assisting in the construction of an addition to Jim Rusic's residence. "Billy" Fischer and wife have returned to Maupin from Bend, where they have been since last spring. They came back to complete residence on their homestead. Don't forget past due subscribers.

Employed at Shattucks. Miss Helen Weberg has accepted a temporary position at the Shattuck store, assisting in the bookkeeping department. The situation will require her attention until after the holidays. School Out For Holidays. The Maupin schools closed for the Thanksgiving holiday yesterday, and will resume again Monday morning. This was done that the teachers might spend the day at home. The teachers, Mrs. Joynt and Miss Dorothy Harris will go to Portland and Mrs. Cantrell will eat Thanksgiving dinner with the family of R. B. Cantrell at Dufur. Attended Pioneers Reunion. W. H. Staats and wife attended the old-time Dufur pioneer reunion lately held at that place. Bill returned home leaving his wife at Dufur, where he joined her yesterday and both ate Thanksgiving turkey with the family of Mrs. Staats' son, Harvey D. Slusher. What's In A Name? "A rose by any other name would smell as sweet," said the Bard of Avon. But when Portland wholesale houses change a name to suit themselves, the question of "What's in a name," is hard to answer. Resh & Stuart received a consignment of groceries on Monday and the address on the boxes read, "Rich and Stewart." Merchant From Agency. Merchant Lou See and family came over from the Warm Springs agency Saturday and spent the day as guests of Mrs. Jean Wray. $1,900 in Money Orders. Oh yes, Maupin spends all its money at home—in a horn. The records of the postoffice at this place show a total of $1,900 money orders sent out of town for the month of October. The majority of those orders went to the big mail order houses, and the cause of that amount going away from home is the fact that those houses are not sparing of printers ink, but flood every home with advertising telling what they have to sell. Home From California. Bob Muir has returned from a visit of over a month at California parts, arriving in Maupin on Sunday. On his way home Bob visited

Klamath Falls and is very much taken up with the activities of that city. He says the Oregon Trunk will enter Klamath within a week or two, and that the road is doing much work in the southern city. Game Warden in Maupin. Wm. Hadley, game warden in charge of fishways and ladders, as well as erector of hatcheries, was in town Tuesday, having come to Maupin to adjust a dispute regarding water claim by the fish Hatchery at Oak Springs and the Maupin Power company. Matters were settled amicably and now everything is serene at Oak Springs. Called Home by Illness. Oscar Renick received word Monday morning of the serious illness of his father at Walla Walla, and that day started for the Washington city. He drove his car to Walla Walla. While Oscar is absent the lumber yard will be in charge of Mrs. Renick. Postoffice Discontinued. With the departure of Rev. Mathews from Sinnasho the postoffice at that place has been discontinued. The patrons of the office at Sinnasho have petitioned the postoffice department to supply them with a star route. Tom's spinner, taking several yards of line with it. A short time ago we were told by a sheep herder that John Mannion had contracted to oversee a big sheep ranch in the extreme eastern part of this state. Our informant rather stretched the facts for it develops that John Mannion has gone back to his old job at Fargher's, and we take it for granted this section holds more for John than any other port. There are men who have tacked onto them names which seem to be somewhat out of place when the men themselves are considered. Percy, Waldo, Launcelot, Gordius, Achilles and many other such, are pretty names but sadly out of place when hooked onto a brawny blacksmith, lumberjack, sheep herder and like followers of hard work. We do not wonder at men objecting to such names, preferring plain "Bill," "Jack," "Tom," "Dick," etc., to the more euphonious cognomens. The move to close the river for a quarter mile each side of Oak Springs in order to protect recently

A man said to us the other day "I have driven my car Twenty-Six Thousand Miles and never had a wrench on the engine." That sounds to us about like it would sound to a doctor if he had said he had driven 2600 miles through the dust and mud and over all kinds of roads and Never Took a Bath GIVE YOUR MOTOR PROPER CARE Let us overhaul it and put it in first class condition. released trout from the hatchery, does not meet with the approval of local fishermen. It is a wrong move and one that should be fought. It is all right to close certain areas, but areas should take in sufficient territory to enable the small trout to have a chance to go up the river in course of their infancy. Close the Deschutes for at least one mile each side hatchery, and that would be short enough distance at that. The change in orchestra for the dance tonight (Thursday) need not have the effect of driving contemplating attendants from coming. The music will be as good, if not better, than that usually employed at Legion dances and comes with a guarantee to that effect. Trappers have set their falls in many places on the river. They have attached their traps to long pieces of wire, which have tripped many fishermen and nearly caused them to take involuntary baths. Better watch out, you trout catchers, that the trap wires do not cause you to take a header into the Deschutes while angling along its banks.

There's always a right time to buy HONEST merchants are in business to help you with your buying problems. You may reply, "They are in business to make money!" And, of course, they are. But the point is: They know that the best way to make money is to serve you honestly and efficiently. One of the most valuable services a merchant can render you is to tell you when to buy. He knows the market. He is kept informed about raw materials and manufacturing problems. He gets all the advance tips on styles. He even knows pretty well what your particular circumstances are, and what your needs will be. So, his advice—as offered through his ads in this paper—is worth money to you. When he announces a special sale, or displays a new line of goods, it is well for you to investigate. There's always a right time to buy, and the ads in this paper will keep you posted. Read them and follow their advice! © 1925, O. L. H.

Right From the Nation's Capital The National Farm News COSTS LESS THAN 3 CENTS A WEEK $1.00 PER YEAR The Farmers' Non Partisan Defender in Washington You need this valuable newspaper in your home, because: You will receive FRESH NEWS every week, that is edited for farmers by men who know agriculture. THE NATIONAL FARM NEWS gives the farmer and the rural town man an all-agricultural survey of the week's news, with a leaning toward the economics of production and marketing. The editorial staff is in close touch with the marketing machinery of the Agricultural Department and all the heads of the various cooperative marketing associations that are located in Washington. WASHINGTON is the great clearing house of farm news. Every day brings the National Government into more intimate relationship with the country's basic industry—farming. Congress is just at the beginning of its real farm legislation. The wild scramble of blocs and panaceas that marked the past few years has subsided. But from now on there will be a steady, constructive program developed for the permanent improvement of farming. Washington is the headquarters of the United States Department of Agriculture. This vast governmental agency is constantly at work on farm problems. It concerns itself not only with production, but with the business side of agriculture. Washington, too, is the headquarters of many other branches of the Federal Government whose work touches in many vital ways the business of the farmers. Most of the big farmers' organizations recognize the strategic advantage of being close to the governmental wheels. They maintain headquarters at the National Capital. Washington is the center of farm news. IN addition to its news, The National Farm News carries some carefully conducted departments. For the housewife there is the women's page, where interests and matters pertaining to the household are discussed. In addition to these features is an excellent legal department. Advice on knotty problems may be had for the asking, given by competent lawyers engaged in daily practice. Then, too, there is a "Question and Answer" department for agricultural information. You may send in any question and it will be answered as quickly as space will permit. The Congressional Library is here and it has the largest collection of books in America. The National Farm News is equipped to perform a real service for the farmer and to meet a real need in his business. The subscription price is only $1.00 per year.
