Mrs. Signe Fischer has a nice display of winter apples in her front show windows. That enterprising lady shop keeper is enjoying a good trade and, being courteous and obliging to all, her trade is increasing each succeeding month.

John Williams is preparing to begin the erection of six new cottages for his tourist camp ground. They will be equipped with electric lights, and ranges and made snug and comfortable. John will also build a laundry cabin and will install a shower bath. When complete that camp ground will be the best equipped of any in eastern Oregon.

Why Bring That Up

"Parson" exclaimed Ephriam. "I've got 'ligion, I tell you." "That's fine brothes! You are go..."

"You're going to care for the windows?"

"Are you going to pay your debts?"

"Suh? Dat ain't 'ligion, dat's busi..."

SPECIAL OVERHAUL PRICES

As this is the dull season of the year and we desire to keep our shop force busy, we have decided to offer special inducements to car owners who want their cars overhauled and placed in shape for next year's use. Come in and let us tell you just what we will do the work for you. Remember our prices will be lower than those charged in the busy season.

The Farmers' Non Partisan Defender in Washington

You need this valuable newspaper in your home, because: You will receive FRESH NEWS every week, that is edited for farmers by men who know agriculture.

THE NATIONAL FARM NEWS gives the farmer and the rural town man an all-agricultural survey of the week's news, with a leaning toward the economics of production and marketing. The editorial staff is in close touch with the marketing machinery of the Agricultural Department and all the heads of the various cooperative marketing associations that are located in Washington.

WASHINGTON is the great clearing house of farm news. Every day brings the National Government into more intimate relationship with the country's basic industry—farming. Congress is just at the beginning of its real farm legislation. The wild scramble of blocs and panaceas that marked the past few years has subsided. But from now on there will be a steady, constructive program developed for the permanent improvement of farming.

Washington is the headquarters of the United States Department of Agriculture. This vast governmental agency is constantly at work on farm problems. It concerns itself not only with production, but with the business side of agriculture.

Washington, too, is the headquarters of many other branches of the Federal Government whose work touches in many vital ways the business of the farmers.

Most of the big farmers' organizations recognize the strategic advantage of being close to the governmental wheels. They maintain headquarters at the National Capital.

Washington is the center of farm news.

IN addition to its news, The National Farm News carries some carefully conducted departments. For the housewife there is the women's page, where interests and matters pertaining to the household are discussed.

In addition to these features is an excellent legal department. Advice on knotty problems may be had for the asking, given by competent lawyers engaged in daily practice.

Then, too, there is a "Question and Answer" department for agricultural information. You may send in any question and it will be answered as quickly as space will permit. The Congressional Library is here and it has the largest collection of books in America.

The National Farm News is equipped to perform a real service for the farmer and to meet a real need in his business.

The subscription price is only $1.00 per year.
