Ernest Kramer was down from Lakeside last Saturday. L. C. Henneghan and wife drove to The Dalles Tuesday. Moss DeLore spent all of Wednesday in town from the Flat ranch. Roy Batty of Juniper Flat spent a couple of days in Maupin this week. Walter Woodside was in town from Wapinitia a few hours on Monday. J. S. Brown and wife did their weekly shopping in Maupin yesterday. Stovall's Guaranteed Cold Treatment, $1.00, at the Maupin Drug Store. Charley and Ernest Kramer transacted business at the county seat on Tuesday. Ed. Henton, now barbering in Portland, was a Maupin visitor on Tuesday. E. C. Butler, prominent White River rancher, was in Maupin a short time today. Prof. Nagel went to The Dalles on Saturday and spent Christmas at the county seat. Art Fargher and wife were registered at the Bank hotel, The Dalles, last Saturday night. Carl Groehler, credit man at Docherty-Powers, attended the dance at Legion hall Saturday night. Lloyd Woodside and wife were trading in The Dalles Tuesday, going from their Wapinitia home. Mesdames Walter Woodside and Lou McCoy of Wapinitia were callers on Mrs. O. P. Weberg on Tuesday. Miss Gladys Smith, cousin of the Misses Weberg, is spending the holiday vacation with her relatives in Maupin. George Tillotson and wife and Fiske Bothwell, transacted business at the big town of Wasco county on Tuesday. John Martin, Jr., came over from Boyd last Thursday and remembered The Times family with a fine Christmas turkey. Miss Olive Turner came home from Portland and will spend the holidays with her parents, returning next Monday. Paul Muller was over from Tygh Valley Tuesday evening putting up posters announcing a fight card at Grass Valley. Hugh Wood returned from The Dalles with Geo. Tillotson Tuesday evening and was a guest of the motorist that night. Mrs. J. A. Nagel arrived in Maupin Monday afternoon, having been met at The Dalles by her husband. Mrs. Nagel lives in Seattle. Roy Miller, uncle of the Miller boys, Fred and George, of Toppenish, Washington, is spending the holidays with his nephews. Fred Miller and wife spent Christmas at the home of Fred's brother, George Miller, and wife at Tygh Valley, coming over from Shaniko. Miss Jean Wilson came up from Portland on Friday last and remained here at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wilson, until Tuesday this week.

EAST MAUPIN NEWS

Lou Kelly went to The Dalles on Tuesday on business. "Dad" Coale is champion checker player on the east side. Frank Lister went to The Dalles Sunday to be gone for several days. Evert Ashley spent Christmas with his cousin, Mac Ashley, at Two Springs. Dee Woodside of Wapinitia spent Christmas day at the home of the L. D. Kellys. Mr. and Mrs. Harris and Miss Gladys of Gaston, are visiting their daughter and sister, Mrs. Jim Rusie.

Mrs. Hunter and two children, of Portland, are visiting relatives over the holidays. Mrs. Hunter is a niece of L. D. and Lou Kelly. Ed. Hinton stopped a short time in East Maupin Tuesday. He was on his way home to the Valley after spending Christmas with friends at Shaniko. Leased Home Ranch. "Brick" McLeod was in from Tygh Ridge last Saturday looking after business interests. "Brick" has leased the McLeod ranch on Tygh Ridge, and will take care of the 400 acres the ranch contains. He has been farming his own place near Friend the past couple of years, but his mother tiring of the home place caused her son to take the responsibility of running same on his shoulders. Dinner With Parents. Joe Kramer and family journeyed to Lakeside on Sunday and, with other members of the Kramer family, ate Christmas dinner with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Kramer. Gone To Salem Home. Mike VanLaanen, wife and mother-in-law, Mrs. Batty, left for their home at Salem on Tuesday. They have been in Maupin the past five weeks, guests at the L. C. Henneghan home. The ladies went by train while Mike coaxed his faithful Model T to tote him over the highways to the state capital town. Planning Protracted Meetings. Rev. Hazen is making arrangements for a series of protracted revival meetings to be held in Maupin, beginning the first week in February. He is endeavoring to secure the services of a evangelist, and wife, who live in Illinois, to conduct the meetings. Further notice will be given in these pages when arrangements have been fully completed for the meetings, which will continue over three weeks. Maupin continues to grow in population, the latest addition to the census being the family of Theodore Radtke. Theodore is the able mechanic at the Maupin garage, and says one of the big reasons for moving to Maupin was our excellent schools. And he knows. Bob Wilson is taking inventory these days. Wednesday he measured all the cloth goods, using a yard stick, and measured the thickness of the bolts, thereby getting a fair idea of how much each contained. Hugh Wood and Fiske Bothwell went to The Dalles Tuesday. They each provided against the cold by wearing a fur coat. They evidently thought it were better to wear that kind of a covering than expose themselves and later be fitted with one of wood. In speaking of his future a small Maupin boy remarked that he was going to study hard in school and learn how to be either a banker or a postmaster. He said both callings brought in plenty of cash and neither entailed any considerable amount of hard work. One of the young fellows who came from The Dalles Saturday and attended the dance, does not think too well of this city. He says he was invited to have a drink and then was handed a bottle of pop. Now he is sore. Oscar Renick is one unlucky fellow. Just as he was about to bid adieu to the old year a car of coal arrived and he had to don overalls and unload it. At that the exercise did him no harm. A certain young freshman in Maupin schools says he has designed for himself a life of ease. His dad says that all the ease the son will enjoy will be that of soon hitting out and gathering in his own living, and he can make it as easy as he wants to. The decision to employ the home orchestra—"The Troubadour Four"—to play at our dances is meeting with the approval of dance lovers here. While the members of the band are young, still each one is a musician of more than ordinary ability and, as they have been practicing earnestly, are prepared to serve the best dance music. Besides, what they are paid is spent in Maupin and not taken to other places. Individual servings of fruit salad baskets of grapefruit or orange are attractive when served in cups or peel.

Visiting in Oklahoma. H. M. Green has gone to Oklahoma, where he will spend a time with relatives and old-time friends. Morris has been away from his home state for a number of years and goes back to renew friendships and acquaintances made before coming to this part of the wild and woolly west. Takes Treatment at Dalles. Charley and Ernest Kramer were at The Dalles on Tuesday, the former going there to receive treatment for what appears to be a partial paralysis of one of his hands. He is receiving attention of a neuropath physician at the county seat and seems to be improving under that mode of rubbing.

SPECIAL OVERHAUL PRICES

As this is the dull season of the year and we desire to keep our shop force busy, we have decided to offer special inducements to car owners who want their cars overhauled and placed in shape for next year's use. Come in and let us tell you just what we will do the work for you. Remember our prices will be lower than those charged in the busy season.

The Farmers' Non Partisan Defender in Washington

You need this valuable newspaper in your home, because: You will receive FRESH NEWS every week, that is edited for farmers by men who know agriculture. THE NATIONAL FARM NEWS gives the farmer and the rural town man an all-agricultural survey of the week's news, with a leaning toward the economics of production and marketing. The editorial staff is in close touch with the marketing machinery of the Agricultural Department and all the heads of the various cooperative marketing associations that are located in Washington. WASHINGTON is the great clearing house of farm news. Every day brings the National Government into more intimate relationship with the country's basic industry—farming. Congress is just at the beginning of its real farm legislation. The wild scramble of blocs and panaceas that marked the past few years has subsided. But from now on there will be a steady, constructive program developed for the permanent improvement of farming. Washington is the headquarters of the United States Department of Agriculture. This vast governmental agency is constantly at work on farm problems. It concerns itself not only with production, but with the business side of agriculture. Washington, too, is the headquarters of many other branches of the Federal Government whose work touches in many vital ways the business of the farmers. Most of the big farmers' organizations recognize the strategic advantage of being close to the governmental wheels. They maintain headquarters at the National Capital. Washington is the center of farm news.

In addition to its news, The National Farm News carries some carefully conducted departments. For the housewife there is the women's page, where interests and matters pertaining to the household are discussed. In addition to these features is an excellent legal department. Advice on knotty problems may be had for the asking, given by competent lawyers engaged in daily practice.

Then, too, there is a "Question and Answer" department for agricultural information. You may send in any question and it will be answered as quickly as space will permit. The Congressional Library is here and it has the largest collection of books in America. The National Farm News is equipped to perform a real service for the farmer and to meet a real need in his business. The subscription price is only $1.00 per year.
