

ATTENTION!

MR. FARMER

WE have secured the exclusive rights for this locality for the Agriculture Bond and Credit Corporation Plan, a plan whereby the financing of Time Sales of Farm Implements and Machinery and Farm Equipment is available to every farmer customer of ours. Not a monthly payment plan but is based on Harvest Payment plan. You can now keep your farm equipment up to date and pay for it as it earns its own way. Come in and see us and get full details of this up-to-date plan.

R. E. WILSON COMPANY

Personalities:

Charley Lake was in town Monday after a load of freight for the Lake store at Wamic.

Franz Confer came up from Portland last Friday and returned to his home on Monday morning's stage.

C. C. Conley and wife and their daughter, Mrs. Joe Chastain, were in Maupin from Tygh Valley Tuesday.

George Mallatt was down from Bakeoven Monday. George says that the roads out his way are getting no better fast.

Miss Velma Crofoot has returned from Portland to which city she had gone to attend the wedding of a friend.

J. G. Kramer, wife and son, Ernest, were guests at the home of J. F. Kramer over Sunday, going to their Lakeview home Monday.

Ward Buzan and wife were over from the "Sands" Tuesday. Recognizing a good thing Ward stepped in and subscribed to The Times.

Ralph Youmans and Carl Sandy, both from Washougal, Washington, called on their old friend, Theodore Radtke, at the Maupin garage Sunday.

Mrs. Lester Crofoot spent a few days of last week at the Chas. Crofoot home in Maupin, returning to her home at Two Springs last Saturday.

"Bob" Hayes, manager of the Shell Oil company's plant at The Dalles, was in Maupin Tuesday and while here tried hard to show "Dad" Richmond just how the old-fashioned game of cribbage should be played. He didn't.

Ogden Elwood called on his father, Dr. Elwood, Tuesday. Ogden will soon leave The Dalles for Salem, to which point he has been transferred by the Associated Oil company, by whom he is employed.

Clyde T. Bonney and Willis Norval were in Maupin a short time Sunday afternoon, coming up on business connected with the Tygh Valley schools.

EAST MAUPIN NEWS

"Dad" Coale went up the river on a wool buying trip on Tuesday night's train.

Several East riders attended the dance at Tygh Valley last Saturday night.

Frank Richard on of Pine Grove was in East Maupin a short time last Friday.

Mrs. L. D. Kelly and daughter, Doris were shopping at The Dalles on Saturday last.

Laverne Fisher and Henry Richardson attended the Legion meeting at The Dalles Wednesday.

O. J. Williams has started work on six new cabins at the camp ground. Johnny will have the only camp ground in this section, and his cabins will contain all the necessities for comfort when completed.

Word was received here Tuesday that Mrs. Jack Donaldson, who is in a hospital at The Dalles, to the effect that she is gaining mastery over her attack of flu. This is a matter of satisfaction to her many friends both in East Maupin and on the West side.

Community Club Provides Shelves—

The ladies of the Maupin Community club met at the library Saturday and made themselves into a company of carpenters. They wielded saw and hammer and fitted and installed a set of shelves for the library books. Several new members have been taken into the club and several more are expected to send their names in soon.

Revivalists Go To Seattle—

Rev. and Mrs. S. S. Turley, who concluded a series of revival meetings in Maupin last Friday night, left for Seattle Saturday morning. From that port they intend embarking for Japan, and from there will visit the Philippine Islands for a series of evangelistic meetings.

Henneghan Has Flu—

Lou Henneghan, usually immune against disease, has at last succumbed to the flu and for several days was compelled to remain in bed while a fight against that weakening ailment was made to overcome its power.

Put Up Big Sign—

The R. E. Wilson company have flaunted to the world that Oliver chilled plows may be obtained at that establishment in the shape of a huge sign which has been erected on the front of the awning. That firm has also secured the exclusive sale of the John Deere products in Maupin and we expect to soon see a sign along side of the Oliver board announcing that the Deere machinery may be had at Wilson's.

Boys' Girls' Club Meeting—

The members of the various Boys' and Girls' clubs met at the school auditorium last Saturday and showed what advances they had been making. The exhibits were far better than at any late winter meeting held by the various clubs and attested the fact that the young people are sincere in their work and determined to advance in club work.

Sold Ford Coupe—

Constable Gus Derthick held a public auction sale last Friday, at which he disposed of a Ford coupe which George Tillotson bid in, he having filed a lien against the vehicle for work and repairs done upon it. Tillotson bid the machine in for a matter of about $60.00, later selling it to James Wray.

Greene Against Hard Game—

Morris Greene has been up against a hard game the past several days, he having been whetting with an attack of flu. He was compelled to keep to his bed but at this writing is somewhat better.

ELEVEN YEARS AGO

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Swift of Wamic on the second instant.

From The Times Feb. 16, 1917
A meeting of the Consolidated

Telephone company was held at Tygh last Saturday. Among other things attended was that V. P. Steers should keep the central office for another year.

A call issued and signed by W. H. Staats and E. J. Styer, is for the purpose of arranging for the organization of the Maupin band. The meeting is called for Sunday February 18, and will be held at Donaldson's hall.

A number of Bakeoven residents have been placing poles this week for the telephone line from that section to connect with the Maupin switchboard.

Clarence E. Hartman and Mabel Letha Bothwell of Wapinitia were united in marriage at their home place by Rev. C. P. Blanchard on February 6. They will be at home to their friends at Wapinitia after the 15th of the month.

Quite a number of farmers around Wapinitia are plowing and others will begin in a few days.

Dr. Elwood reports the arrival of a son at the J. A. Gray home, near Wapinitia, yesterday morning.

The late cold spell broke the first of the week. The ground is not frozen to any great depth and this fact will allow farmers to get in their plowing earlier than in many years past.

$1.50 Lazell body powder, special for one week only, $1.00, at the Maupin Drug Store.

PICKED UP ABOUT TOWN

Gus Derthick, in his official capacity as constable, sold a Ford coupe on which a lien had been filed last Thursday. Gus went at the matter like a regular "Colonel," and succeeded in getting a bid for the full amount of the lien.

Morris Greene has a severe case of erysipelas on hand and is making a fight to subdue it. His face has lost its usual contour while he is developing a husky neck—the ailment attacking those parts of his anatomy.

Jess Temple's adipose has increased by inches since last week. Then he and his wife received the glad tidings that they were grandparents to a brand new baby girl who made her debut at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Gordon Metteer, at Fossil. Jess has taken to boxing to reduce his added corpulancy.

Mose Addington came down from the Criterion grade on Monday with a frozen look on his face. When asked the reason therefor he replied that winter had again set in on the hill, at least the weather had all the aspects of winter. The wind blew cold all day and Moss, being engaged in handling the scrapper, received the benefit of the icy blast.

Talk about hustlers! The Tygh Valley school students recently purchased a building at that place, repaired it by putting in a new floor and other necessities, as well as a stage and electric lights, and so far have paid over $500.00 on the plant. It takes that kind of hustling to get over a barbed wire fence.

Several members of the local Legion post have been buying themselves a few days this week re-erecting the stage partitions taken down to accommodate the ring at the recent smoker. The Legion boys try hard to keep their hall in ship-shape order, even if it does take a number of them to do so.

Nick Karolus is somewhat of a scientist. He is having a cess pool dug, but refuses to allow dynamite to be used in breaking up the rocks encountered. Instead he pours water on them, after heating and allows the natural results to shatter the hard-heads.

Bob Wilson and Charley Crofoot are firm believers in signs. Tuesday they erected a large board calling attention to the fact that they were Maupin agents for the well known Oliver Chilled Plow company. Bob says he is negotiating for a large eagle trade mark of the Case company, while Charley wants a replica of a running deer to call attention to the fact that John Deere machinery is handled at that store.

The clearance sale at the Shattuck store closes this week Saturday. Bates Shattuck is now in line for a long rest, as he has been on the go during the past three weeks selling things to those who took advantage of the low prices offered on good goods—and their names are legion.
