Noel Shearer, H. E. Wray and Andy Crabtree attended the Democratic caucus at The Dalles last Wednesday night. Mr. Wray was chosen at that meeting to make the run on his ticket for the office of county commissioner.

Mrs. Chas. W. Clark was a Sunday visitor at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. H. Staats, coming up from Portland. Mrs. Geo. Gill, another daughter from Dufur, also visited with her mother on that day.

Poison In Foot

Julius Shepflin is hobbling around like a string-halted horse, the reason being a very sore foot. About five weeks ago Julius ran a nail into the ball of his right foot. He paid no attention to the wound and continued to work in the field. Last Friday his foot swelled out of all proportions and N. G. Hedin took the suffering man to The Dalles, where the foot was found to be badly infected with blood poison. Under treatment the member is regaining normal size and the sufferer expects to soon be able to resume his plowing.

Professor Makes Trip

Prof. Nagel likes the great outdoors, especially when at the wheel of his trusty Ford coupe. Last Friday evening he turned on the gas and hied himself to our sister state, Washington, concluding the outward journey at Elma. He came back to Maupin Sunday evening.

Part of Deschutes Closed

The State Game commission recently passed an order closing a part of the Deschutes river in this neighborhood to fishermen. The area affected runs 200 feet each way from the spillway of the Oak Springs fish hatchery.

Piano Man Visits

E. C. Kramer, representing the Cline Piano company, was in from The Dalles on Friday. Mr. Kramer is well known to many of our people, being a brother of the well known cigar and tobacco dealers of the county seat. He had been to the Redmond county and stopped here while on his way to The Dalles.

Delayed Publication

We have received a nice bunch of correspondence from Pine Grove, but lack of space and linotype metal compels us to delay its publication until next week. We apologize to our correspondent for the delay.

Pick Ups About Town

"Shorty" Miller is some painter, but when it comes that his partner, Johnson, goes to Wamic and promises to be back at a certain time, then it is that Miller would rather lay off and bid 'em up in a pennuche game.

Grandad DeCamp says he has no fear of Indians but when it comes to scalping he thinks the aborigines had a better way of doing the job than has a Ford automobile.

Maupin is preparing to once more take its place in the baseball firmament. Enthusiasm runs high here over the proposition to gain a place in a proposed four-team league, and when the season closes we predict our fair city will be known as champions of this circuit.

Will Doud of Dufur, candidate for county assessor, was in Maupin on Monday. Mr. Doud says that his candidacy seems to be meeting with the approbation of all classes, even those who would have opposed him years ago, are now pulling for him with all their might. Doud will make a good assessor, for he is consistent, honest and possesses a clear knowledge of values.

Frank Stuart is anxiously awaiting the opening of the season. He has his rod all varnished, reel overhauled, filled his fly book with new flies and, we think, has had his waders put in shape for strenuous season on the river.

Many fisherman have already laid in a supply of angle worms in anticipation of the opening day of the season. We gathered a box full when Billy Heckman was spading our garden, so if the trout don't bite when the big fat fellows are offered them said trout will be missing a feast.

A large flock of geese went over

Maupin Sunday night, their honking attracting the attention of many. Geese are a sure harbinger of spring, and if the weather man will only wake up to the fact that that season is at hand and give us a few warm days, then Maupin folks will feel more like putting in their gardens.

The coming track meet at Tygh Valley fair grounds promises to bring out a larger field of contestants than ever before. Nearly every school in the county has had a try-out and some good talent has developed. Just what Maupin is doing in preparation for the meet we have been unable to learn, for it appears to be a studied effort on the part of some of the school authorities to keep all such matters from The Times, thus depriving our readers of that news.

The Easter services at the church last Sunday night again demonstrated that Maupin is not behind other places when it comes to singing. The voices answering the trend of the story—"Love Triumphant"—blended in beautiful harmony and lent graceful color to the whole cantata.

The well drillers who have been at work at John Martin's struck water at a depth of 310 feet.

F. H. Woodcock and son are preparing to install a flour mill in Maupin in the near future. Part of the machinery has already arrived at the O. W. depot. The location for the building is as yet undecided, but a number of suitable sites are available.

Harry Pratt, Ernest Paquet and Ed. Rich, three Wapinitia boys, left on Monday to join the army. Several others from that place are figuring on joining the fighting forces in the near future.

The Tygh Valley Odd Fellows recently elected A. J. Black and K. L. Hauser as delegates to the grand lodge meeting at Eugene. Mrs. F. C. Butler and Mrs. A. J. Black will represent the Rebekahs.

Evangelist W. T. Klotsback, from St. Louis, is conducting revival meetings at the Free Methodist church. His attendance has been good and he is anticipating a gain of members.

Sunday's ball game between Tygh Valley and Maupin ended with a 3-3 score and went 13 innings. Next game will be played at Tygh next Sunday.

Peter Olsen and crew of 10 men are working on the Wapinitia road. They are camped near the John Confer ranch.

Mrs. J. P. Abbott returned from Portland the last of the week, having been called there by the illness of her son, James, Jr. She reports the boy much improved although he will have to remain in the hospital for some time to come.

Victor Mitchell came down from Eagle Creek on Wednesday and from here went to Portland, where he enlisted in Uncle Sam's army. Victor is a veteran of the Spanish-American war.

Millions of Model T Fords are still in active service

FOR nearly twenty years, the Model T Ford led the motor industry and it still is used by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service today—an indication of their sturdy worth, reliability and economy.

Because of the tremendous investment which people have in these cars and because so many of them will be driven for two, three, and even five more years, the Ford Motor Company will continue to make replacement parts until, as Henry Ford himself says, "the last Model T is off the road."

For the Ford Motor Company has always believed that its full duty consists not only in making a good automobile at a low price, but also in keeping it running efficiently for you as long as possible at a minimum of expense.

No matter where you live, therefore, you can still buy Model T Ford parts with the same assurance as formerly, knowing that they will give you the kind of service you have a right to expect, and at the same time protect the money you have invested in your car.

All Ford replacement parts, as you may know, are made of the same materials and in the same way as those from which your car was originally assembled, and are low in price because of the established Ford policy.

So that you may get the greatest use from your Model T Ford over the longest period of time, we suggest that you take the car to the nearest Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of any replacement parts which may be necessary. You may find that a very small expenditure will maintain the value of your car and will be the means of giving you thousands of miles of additional service.
