Pick Ups About Town

Tom Henneghan, next to fishing at which he is the boss of the Deschutes river, has grauated as nurse to a flock of lambs. He has been at Millican for the past two months, and the little woolies he took care of came through without loss of a single one.

Frank Lister, not following the Arabs, who fold their tents and silently steal away in the night, is without the bed. One day last week Frank came in from Fargher's and deposited his bed roll on his front porch while he went to Fischer's to get a bunch of snooze. When he returned his bed was gone and Frank was compelled to replenish his night covering.

Ben Fraley is as full of ideas as a dog of fleas. His latest flight is to install a series of sleeping rooms in the Rainbow, moving the dining table to the store room. Well, Ben will make a go of any venture he undertakes, but is not satisfied unless he can see the coin rolling in in bunches, and is going after that roll.

It does beat the Dutch how forgetful some people are. Last week we asked a brother of a recent groom for particulars regarding his brother's marriage and all the information we gleaned was "I don't know any more than you do about it." The one asked was with the groom when he got his license and knew the facts about the occurrence, yet professed ignorance. Maybe he was right in that showing.

Nick Karolus is a funny fellow. He objects to having his doings published in the paper, yet he does things that call for such dissemination. Nick cannot call us to task for mentioning his wife—he has no such appendage—his dog is a brother of our dog, and his cousin, Jack—not Cornish, by the way, is not a bit reserved when it comes to having his name in the paper. Nick is peculiar, to say the least, but at that is a good fellow.

Timley Croft dislikes serving on a jury. He sat as such in a recent case and the evidence adduced there gave him the idea that a corkscrew has nothing no come people—at least the machinations of some people are many and varied.

Alvis Martin had made arrangements to take a vacation and spend a time with relatives near The Dalles, but Wallace Fargher needed an old head to assist in hearing so impressed Alvis in the work. While our worthy neighbor is up Bakeoven the fish in the Deschutes are getting a well earned rest.

Frank Stuart travels on an even keel. He is remodeling his residence and when completed the home will be of the ultra modern sort. At that we do not think Frank will lose his urbanity, for there is nothing on earth can destroy his natural level, therefore ownership of the finest residence in Maupin will in no way make a difference in Frank's general suave attitude.

There is one moonshiner who has a clientele in Maupin who had better improve the quality of his product. The stuff he has been delivering lately partakes of the venom of rattlesnake poison, and unless he substitutes copper for tin in his worm will have some destroyed lives to his credit.

News of Criterion

Mrs. Lindley visited at Floyd McLeods one day last week.
 Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Kramer visited with Criterion folks last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Rutherford and children visited with Mrs. Rondeau at Dufur Sunday.

All the Criterion children who took the state examination in May passed with good grades.

Miss Elizabeth Rutherford spent Tuesday night with Mrs. Cantrell at Maupin.

Last Tuesday Floyd McLeod went to the Mays ranch and purchased a pure bred bull. It was brought to Maupin Thursday by truck, Floyd driving it home from there on horse back.

Mach Schmidt was at Applings Sunday after a sack of Sudan grass seed.

"Buster" Skinner and his friend, Jack Burns, were in Maupin Friday night.

Those from here who attended the grade school picnic on the Maupin camp grounds were: Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kirsch and children, Mrs. Duus and children, and Dave Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Tomalin from Sherman county visited at the Duus home last week end.

Otto and Ed. Herring were guests at the Kirsch home Sunday evening.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Duus and family with Mr. and Mrs. Tomalin and a basket of good cats went to the fish fry at Madras. They reported a good time and said they had had all the fish they wanted to eat, including camon and trout.

George Mickle was at Floyd McLeod's one day last week. He is riding for horses for Mr. Conroy.

Mrs. D. B. Appling with her brother, Ernest Patrick, little nephew, Dale, and her daughter, Margaret, left for Chehalis, Washington, Tuesday for a few days visit with her mother, Mrs. Patrick.

Little Louise Duus was a supper guest of Jean Caton Friday evening after the school picnic.

Harry Rutherford helped his father plow all the week finishing Saturday.

The Criterion corn club children are planting their corn this week. There is one exception, Arthur Appling, planted his earlier and it's all up and growing nicely.

Mrs. Dave Wilson and children called at the Kirsch home Sunday.

Virgil Griffiths and family drove through from Missouri by auto this month to visit Mrs. Griffiths' mother, Mrs. Tom Plaster. They were accompanied by another car driven by Ellis Barnes, a nephew of Mrs. Plaster's. They had a very successful trip, arriving here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Plaster spent last Sunday in Shaniko.

Dave Wilson drove into Shaniko Tuesday night after repairs for his gang plow.

Harold Kramer is visiting with his brother, Sylvester, at Dufur this week.

Frank Heatly and family, who worked for Dave Wilson, left for Idaho for the health of a nine-year-old son who has heart trouble.

There are three Criterion club boys chosen to attend the summer school at Corvallis. Each boy going by different selection.

Harry Rutherford won his trip on potatoes and his way paid by the late fair board.

Arthur Appling was appointed by the club leaders of Maupin club, and Bonney Duus was voted on by all the Maupin club children, he getting the most votes.

Thieves have been in the neighborhood again. Mrs. Duus is short a number of her nice hens since Wednesday night. Several of the farmers, including Mr. Duus, have things fixed to make it at least more difficult for the next thief who comes.

The club children are interested in the coming of the club demonstration meeting to be held in Maupin June 6th.

Years of Service in Model T Fords

Expenditure of few dollars may enable you to get thousands of miles from your old car

THE Model T Ford is still a great car. It led the motor industry for twenty years and it is used today by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service in city, town and country, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer at very small up-keep expense.

The cost of Model T parts and of necessary labor is unusually low because of established Ford policies.

New fenders, for instance, cost from $3.50 to $5 each, with a labor charge of $1 to $2.50. Tuning up the motor and replacing commutator case, brush and vibrator points costs only $1, with a small charge for material. Brake shoes can be installed and emergency brakes equalized for a labor charge of only $1.25. A labor charge of $4 to $5 will cover the overhauling of the front axle, rebushing springs and spring perches, and straightening, aligning and adjusting wheels.

The labor charge for overhauling the average rear axle runs from $5.75 to $7. Grinding valves and cleaning carbon can be done for $3 to $4.

A set of four new pistons costs only $7. For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. Parts are extra.

All of these prices are approximate, of course, because the cost of materials needed will depend on the condition of each car. They show, however, the low cost of putting the Model T Ford in shape for thousands of miles of additional service.

See the nearest Ford dealer, therefore, and have him estimate on the cost of re-conditioning your Model T Ford. He will tell you, in advance, exactly how much the complete job will cost.
