Al Gillis was over from Wamic Saturday, arranging for the big show at the county fair August 30-31 and Sept. 1.

Carl Duug and family were in from Criterion yesterday, coming in for the purpose of trading with Maupin merchants.

W. E. Hunt, wife and sons, Billy and Clarence, and daughter, Genevieve, visited with friends at Wamic on Sunday last.

Little Marjorie Gallagher went to Portland Sunday and will remain there a time as the guest of some of her former schoolmates.

Sol. Hauser came over from Ellensburg, Washington, this week and will spend a few days at the home place at Tygh Valley.

Chas. Crofoot and family, with the former's sister, Mrs. Lester Kelly, attended the funeral of Mrs. R. L. Gerity at Wamic yesterday.

Emmett Zumwalt, postmaster at Wamic, with his wife and mother-in-law, Mrs. H. H. Johnson was in Maupin on business last Saturday.

Dr. Arthur Clarke, optician of Portland, and an old friend of The Times man, was correcting the vision of several Maupinites on Monday.

Bate Shattuck and wife left Monday morning for the Bend country, where they will enjoy an outing. They are expected back tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrigher, the former highway engineer in charge of work on the cut-off, have moved to Wapinitia and are occupying the Cunningham house.

T. H. Woodcock and son, Vernon, came over from Wamic last Saturday and accepted delivery of two Jersey calves, which had been shipped to them from Tillamook.

E. C. Copple, attendant at the Maupin garage, returned Sunday evening from a week's visit to Newport and other points. He made the circle, going around by way of Medford, Grants Pass and Klamath Falls on his way home to Maupin.

Doris Kelly improved her time on Tuesday by helping gather the cherry crop at the Greene orchard.

Mrs. Clark Richardson visited with her daughters, Mesdames St. Dennis and William, a couple of days the first of the week.

Marion Lister has concluded his work at Oak Springs and is at home on this side again. He is employing his time in enjoying rides in a newly-purchased Ford Coupe.

The smoke tree set out by W. H. Williams several years ago, is now in blossom. From a distance the tree resembles smoke from a camp fire, and is a rarity in this section.

Ninty Acres of Alfalfa
J. S. Brown has 90 acres of alfalfa in the cock. It was caught by the rain of Tuesday but was not injured in the least. Mr. Brown expects to supply the graving camps on the cut-off with hay this season.

ELEVEN YEARS AGO

From The Times June 22, 1917. Beavers have caused much damage to the water ditch in the neighborhood of Smock. Men from that place recently repaired several stretches of the ditch and found some havoc wrought by the fur bearers.

The work train crew has done some work leveling off the site for the new Woodcock flour mill. Work is also progressing on the new elevator on the O. T. track, the pit having been completed and is now ready for the cement, a carload of which came in Monday.

A delegation from The Dalles was here Wednesday night and at a meeting held at that time succeeded in adding to $600 already subscribed for Red Cross work $200.00 more, making $800.00 for Maupin.

Judge Gunning and Attorney Dick were out from The Dalles yesterday holding court at Hotel Kelley in the Philip Winfree divorce case.

Wamic was visited by another heavy frost the first of the week. It is feared fruit has suffered to a considerable extent thereby.

Pick Ups About Town

E. S. Copple, the "dimunative" service man at the Maupin garage, recently made a trip to the sea shore. He returned last week, but we have failed to see any improvement in his physical condition. He went away with a surplus of averdupois and returned with the same "heft."

Freddie Martin is a working fellow. He recently completed a siege of summer fallow work and this week proceeded to sink a hole toward China. Freddie says digging is not so hard, it is the rocks encountered that makes the hole go down so slow.

Nick Karolus will soon seek the high spots. He goes there for the dual purpose of taking a rest and at the same time to gather in a supply of huckleberries. He has given his dog away and will not be bothered by anything, unless his cousin, Jack, who goes along, can be considered bothersome.

Dr. Elwood says that "Dad" Richmond is the most accomplished mathematician in this section. Dad is a cribbage player par excellence, and can make more fifteen-twos than any player in this neck o' the woods.

Oliver Resh believes in signs. At least one would be led to believe that when he gazes upon the huge signs on the side of the Resh store building, which denotes that "Meats and Groceries" may be obtained within.

The Times man like his rest, especially in the morning. But who can sleep when a flock of dang fozeled trucks keeps up a continual grind, starting at six o'clock in the morning?

Wapinitia Baseballists took the Metolius players into camp to the tune of—well, won the game by a big score. The visitors numbered in their line up several players who had seen better days on the diamond, but were outclassed by the hay pitchers from Juniper Flat. It is safe to say that if apprehended that thief will receive all the law allows for such work.

Billy Hunt raises sheep. He shears them and ships the wool. Sometimes he stores the fleeces before chipping. He does that in order to realize a profit. His profits on about 500 pounds of good wool were knocked into a cocked hat last week when some thief helped himself to that amount of wool from the house wherein it was stored. It is safe to say that if apprehended that thief will receive all the law allows for such work. Andy Mann is painting the new home of Frank Stuart, and is making a good job of it. Andy says that packing for a sheep camp is not in it as compared to decoration work, and that he will devote this season to the work of making over interiors and exteriors of many residences here and at Portland.
