Bill Williams has a new bee in his bonnet. Our worthy Mayor of East side Maupin has decided that the only way to decide the probi-bition question is by debate, he to champion the repeal or modification of the 18th amendment, with one other, the negative side to be defended by Newt. Hedin and one other. No doubt such a debate would have a great bearing on the national question and The Times is pulling for Bill to bring it about.

Pick Ups About Town

Ed. Edmunds, the man who is assisting Al. Gillis around the fair ground, while a lover of horses has no use for that long-eared hybrid, the mule. Ed. has been occupying sleeping quarters at the grounds, next to where Everett Wilson has stalled his trick mule. The animal, like all others of its kind, occasionally indulges in a song, which is more ear-splitting than musical. It usually starts singing in the wee sma' hours of the morning, just when Ed. is getting his beauty sleep. The trackman stood the noise as long as possible, then arose one morning and turned his mulets out on the road. He declared he could not stand for the strains emanating from the vocal cords of the "Rocky Mountain canary."

Billy Heckman has spent part of the summer as assistant to a hotel man at Swim. Hearing that experts with a pick and shovel were required in building the new bridge, Billy packed his turkey and trekked to town. He is now in his element, digging down toward China, and at the rate he is working will soon have the excavations for the abutments completed.

Johnny Williams was somewhat perturbed on Sunday. There were several tourists who wanted cabins and Johnny was holding a few of those campers' delights for people who had been there, but who had gone away with the word they would return soon and wanted the cabins. Some of them failed to show up as promised, which rather put our genial camp ground man off his feed for a time.

The "Tourbadour Four" Maupin's premier orchestra, played for the dance at Legion hall Saturday night. Some who attended say the music was good, while others declared the musicians were falling off in their playing. It is a sure thing that any orchestra cannot play as it should without rehearsing, and that is the one thing necessary for the home band to do if the members desire to merit commendation. Get together, folks, rehearse new music and show our dance lovers that you have the goods. We know you are capable of delivering the best, so why not get on you toes and pep up?

There are some people in Maupin who are of the "rule or ruin stamp." They are continually knocking others and seems to be obsessed with the idea they are just what the doctor ordered when it comes to making themselves conspicuous. The truth is that those people have no conception of what leadership really is, that everything they attempt is a flat failure. They are old enough to know better, but their mania for self aggrandizement is so strong that whenever they fail to rule they will ruin. They know who they are, therefore we refrain from publishing names, hoping that they will wake up and change their tactics.

Now that the merchants have decided to close their places of business at 6:00 p. m. each evening, our people who have been in the habit of waiting until after supper to do their trading for the next day, will have to get a move on and visit their store before the hour set for closing. The help as well as proprietors are en-
