

Ranchers---

Why send small lots of cattle and hogs to Portland when you have a market here at home? We are in the market for fat cattle and hogs, and will pay good prices for same.

GROCERIES and MEATS
Prompt and Courteous Service
MAUPIN, OREGON.

Personalities:

A. J. Barkham was busy with court matters at the county seat on Monday.

W. E. Hunt is in the mountains, making arrangements to bring his sheep down to the home range.

Ben Fraley and family went to Grass Valley last Sunday and spent the day at the home of Ben's father.

G. W. Wilson the painter came over from Wamic yesterday morning and transacted business in Maupin.

D. B. Fraley, John Mary, "Shorty" Miller and Chester Crabtree were visitors at the county seat on Monday.

Tom Gallagher and family spent Sunday last at The Dalles, where they took in the shows and otherwise enjoyed themselves.

Ernest Kramer and Miss Ailene Greene spent part of last Sunday at the home of the former's parents at Criterion.

J. G. Kramer and wife came over from the Criterion section last Friday and transacted business with Maupin merchants.

Al Gillis of Wamic has been serving on the new grand jury, and his name is one of those signed to the report made to Judge Wilson.

Jesse Addington came in from the mountains Tuesday evening. He has been packing for Ernest Troutman and reports that the Troutman sheep were at the Shepherd ranch when he came to town.

EAST MAUPIN NEWS
About 30 men are now employed on the new bridge. Some of them are building the false work for the bridge, while others are excavating for the piers and abutments.

Mrs. Ed. Carter is the new assistant at the Maupin Camp grounds.

H. D. Hollis was among the many who registered at Hotel Kelly on Monday.

Mrs. Signe Fischer visited with her little daughter in East Maupin, Saturday.

A. J. Roy, who came up for a hunting trip, left for his home at Portland last Saturday.

John Williams returned from the Blue Mountains on Saturday, bringing a fine buck deer with him.

Mrs. Clarke Richardson spent Sunday last at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Johnny Williams.

LaVerne Fischer with his mother and little daughter, transacted business at The Dalles on Monday.

The crusher crew shot a "coyote" hole last week which completely filled the road leading to the Lester Kelly home ranch. It took the full crew the better part of a day to clear away the debris.

Johnny Williams has rented all of his cabins for the winter, they being taken by men who are working on the new bridge, as well as by some of the rock crusher crew.

The Conley boys of Tygh Valley with their string of relay horses, passed through East Maupin, bound for Redmond fair, yesterday. A bunch of horses and Yakima Indians also stopped on this side while on their way to the same fair.

Mrs. Albert St. Dennis and son, Albert Jr., left for their home at Snohomish, Washington, last Saturday. They had spent the summer here at the Maupin camp ground with Mrs. St. Dennis' sister, Mrs. O. J. Williams. The two mentioned accompanied Mrs. St. Dennis' daughter, Mrs. Howard Jones, back to her home.

Visited Maupin Friends.
The Misses Adeline and Genevieve Seethoff visited with former Maupin friends on Monday of this week. They drove up from Eugene in which city the family is now making its home.

Pick Ups About Town

"Shorty" Miller claims to have killed two and one-half deer during his recent expedition into the Blue mountains, but just how he figures in the half is beyond our comprehension. It maybe that he held a deer while another member of the party killed it with an axe, but as to that we are not in a position to say.

Mrs. Signe Fischer is some sewing machine agent. Early last week she notified The Times man to run an ad telling of a couple of machines she had for sale. Before we could make a note of the fact one of the sewers was taken and for delivery could be completed another was sold. Then our worthy lady friend proceeded to sell a third sewing machine to herself.

While hunting last week Oliver Resh placed his mark on one deer, his bullets creasing the animal on one hind leg and going through an ear. At that Oliver came in for a generous hunk of venison, for others of the party succeeded in bringing to bag several fine specimens of deer.

If there is anyone in this neck o' the woods who desires to own a real live Ford bug, he should call at this print shop. We have a couple such littering up the roadway in front of the shop, and one of them is for sale to the first person who has $25.00 to pay for it. New battery, good rubber and a disposition to run like a race horse.

Oscar Hammer came to town on Tuesday, entered Shattuck's store, looked over some suits and ended by making a purchase of a fine one. As there has been several marriages among the young people of Wapinitia Plains recently the surmise naturally arises, why the new glad rags, Oscar?

Wayne DeJanvier attended the dance last Saturday night, stayed up until the wee sma' hour: of the morning and then wondered what made him tired after fishing the Deschutes all day in the neighborhood of Oak Springs. We know, but won't tell.

Bob Wilson went to the mountains after deer. When he left his waist line measured up to that of a brewer, but now he is around the store looking sylph like without the least semblance of a rounding out. He says he can eat anything, and wonders if climbing the mountains and penetrating heavy brush had anything to do with the loss of avoirdupois.

"Dad" Richmond has not lost that hankering to own a muskrat farm. He has obtained a pair of hip boots looked over a prospective site and is about to look up a place to buy breeding stock. A muskrat farm should prove more remunerative than a fox farm, at any rate "Dad" would not be inclined to sell his breeding stock, but would keep them in order to increase his fur bearers in number.

ELEVEN YEARS AGO

From The Times Sept. 28, 1917.

O. L. Paquet of Wapinitia recently received a letter from Anthony Corvillia, who left last spring and entered the army. The letter was dated Liverpool, England and stated that the writer enjoyed the trip, over the water and that none were sick or died.

The new elevator has been completed and is now receiving grain. It now contains 10,000 bushels, fully 2,500 bushels being received last Tuesday.

The new flour mill began grinding wheat this week. It is equipped with the latest improved machinery. H. F. Woodcock and sons are proprietors and J. H. Woodcock will have direct management of the mill, intending to move here and make his home in Maupin.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Job Crabtree yesterday morning, a 5 1/2-pound boy.

Following a spirited chase thru southern Wasco county, Samuel McIntosh, who attempted to shoot members of the Woodcock family at Tygh Valley last week, was captured at Friend by Sheriff Chrisman. McIntosh was arraigned at Tygh, waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the grand jury without bail. Later he was taken to jail at The Dalles.

Arthur Morris and Miss Glennie Derthick were married at The Dalles the 18th, going from there to the Pendleton round-up, but have not returned up to our going to press.

The O. T. depot was moved in five sections to the new site this week. Enlargements to the building will soon be made and water has been piped thereto, R. S. Slusher and Dee Talcott laying the mains.

A message to the editor of this paper from GENERAL MOTORS

JUST about a year ago we published, in your advertising columns, a message in which we sought to give you and your readers an idea of what General Motors is and what it is trying to accomplish. At that time the public was purchasing our cars at the rate of about one in every three; and our Frigidaire automatic refrigerator and Delco-Light electric plants were leading in popular preference in their respective fields.

Since then each of our car divisions has introduced new, further improved models and public patronage has reached the point where almost one out of two automobiles purchased is a General Motors car. Frigidaire and Delco-Light products have showed comparable increases in sales.

The reason for this is two-fold. First, the public wants value for its automobile dollar and recognizes value when it is given. Second, General Motors is seeking so to conduct its operations as to deserve the goodwill of the public.

We are particularly impressed with the number of letters which have come to us from editors of small city newspapers during recent months. These editors, who are in a position to reflect local sentiment, speak of the goodwill which attaches to General Motors in their communities and express an obviously sincere appreciation of the character of General Motors' advertising in their publications.

For our advertising has been as much concerned with giving your readers facts of helpfulness to them in the purchase of automobiles as with the merits of our own products. Our messages have set forth the principles of trade-in transactions and used car allowances. They have dealt with time payments and the change in the public's attitude toward the used car. Other messages have told of the policies of General Motors and of how our resources are being employed to effect them.

That General Motors enjoys the goodwill of the people in the small cities and on the farms of America gives us an especial satisfaction and confidence in the future. It is in the country sections of the United States that half our population lives. It is there that the whole industry must look in increasing measure for maintenance of the production volume upon which high values and low prices depend. And it is there that General Motors is paying particular attention to its facilities for sales and service.

To our friends in your community we express our thanks.
