REAL PUBLIC SPIRIT

Real public spirit is that shown when there is a chance to obtain property at the expense of a mortgage foreclosure and which is refused because of the good the mortgaged property does to the community generally. Here is a case in point:

W. E. Hunt has a mortgage on the property controlled and operated by the Southern Wasco County Fair association. At the recent meeting of the stockholders and board of directors of the association, it was suggested, in view of the fact that the fairs have not been productive of sufficient profits to even pay the interest on the mortgage, that Mr. Hunt foreclose and take the property over.

Mr. Hunt emphatically refused to follow the suggestion. He said the fairs were educational, that they tended to bring people together and were the means of spurring movement to better stock, better vegetables, better grains, and above all, were an object lesson to the young, in that they were given an opportunity to learn the ins and outs of the agricultural and stock raising business by competition as members of the various clubs.

Mr. Hunt further said that he enjoyed attending the fairs. He enjoyed the stock exhibits, the horse races, the displays of grains and vegetables and the chance offered to learn the better grades of all kinds of agricultural products, all of which worked to the betterment of the rancher.

That is the spirit which makes for the interests of the county. It shows that money is not everything and that public welfare is sometimes placed above sordid gain. W. E. Hunt is one man in a thousand, for his sense of public benefit is far above that of money making and his expressions favorable to a continuation of our fairs and his refusal to take advantage of a privilege given him by law show the real stamina of the man. Would to God there were more like Billy Hunt.

A DEMOCRATIC ESTIMATE OF HERBERT HOOVER

Candidate Would Not Give Up His American Citizenship for High British Title

During the Wilson administration Walter H. Page was American Ambassador at the Court of St. James. It is interesting to know what this prominent Democrat wrote to President Wilson regarding Hoover and his work.

The following will be found in Volume 3 of the Life and Letters of Walter H. Page, page 312.

December 30, 1916. Written not for the sake of the gentleman mentioned but for possible help to the President and the service:

HOOVER: Mr. Herbert C. Hoover, Chairman of the Commission for Relief in Belgium, would, if opportunity should offer, make a useful officer in the State Department. He is probably the only man living, who has privately (without holding office) negotiated understandings with the British, French, Dutch and Belgian Governments. He personally knows and has direct dealings with these governments and his transactions with them have involved several hundred millions dollars. He is a man of very considerable fortune—less than when the work began, for this Relief Work has cost him much. He was approached on behalf of the British Government with the suggestion that if he would become a British subject the government would be pleased to give him an important executive post and with the hint that if he succeeded a title might await him. His answer was: "I will do what I can for you with pleasure but I will be damned if I give up my American citizenship. Not on your life!" Within the last six months two large financial organizations, each independently, have offered him one hundred thousand dollars a year to enter their service and an industrial company offered him one hundred thousand dollars (to start with.) He declined them all. When the Belgian Relief Work recently struck a snag Hoover by telegraph got the promise of a loan in the United States for the British and French Governments for the Belgian Relief of $150,000,000! I do not know but I think he would be glad to turn his European experience to the patriotic use of our own government. He is 42 years old and is a graduate of the Leland Stanford University.

CARE BETTER THAN CURE

Many Fires Could Be Prevented if A Little Care Taken

A smoldering cigarette butt, a match dropped into a waste-paper basket, an iron left heating on the board, a discarded pile of dirty, greasy rubbish, or endless other such petty risks caused by carelessness, may be the means of transforming a home or factory or office building into a smoking ruin.

A large majority of homes have fire hazards that can be removed with a small amount of work or at slight cost. Poor wiring, carelessly handled heating and electrical devices and collections of rubbish are among the most common risks and account for many serious conflagrations. The danger lies in these everyday risks being overlooked or discarded.

Fire is practically preventable. Authoritative estimates state that 80 per cent of all fires result from carelessness or ignorance. With a little caution and understanding of possible hazards, homes and buildings can be protected. Preventing fire is better than trying to repair damage.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

Prolong the life of shoes in wintertime, especially those worn by men and boys without rubbers, by soaking the soles in a grease that will make them waterproof. The United States Department of Agriculture recommends several simple formulas for the purpose.

Rice can be cooked in an open kettle in 15 to 20 minutes. A large quantity of water should be used. As soon as a grain pressed between the thumb and forefinger is soft and has no hard portion in the center, the rice should be taken from the fire, drained, covered with a cloth and allowed to steam until the grains swell and separate.

In cake recipes with a number of eggs, it is possible to substitute baking powder for one of two of the eggs called for, during the period of egg scarcity. Of course the cake will not be so rich as when all the eggs required are used. Allow one-half teaspoon of baking powder and two tablespoons of milk for each egg omitted. From half to two-thirds of the eggs called for should be used when this substitution is practiced.

The hen that lays a small egg is a bad influence. It takes nerve to cull her out of the flock, especially if she is a high producer, but rigid culling of small-egg hens must be done to improve the flock and to avoid price cuts that go with small eggs.

New models and THE OPEN MIND

THE public, with its healthy desire for the new and the better, insists upon continuous improvement, and will withdraw its patronage from any product or service which stands still.

Nowhere is this more true than in the automobile industry. The car is more than a utility. It is a personal thing, involving your convenience, your comfort, your safety, your sense of beauty and color, your pride of ownership, your complete environment for many hours of your life. Customs and habits of living change fast; and the past holds many warnings of how quickly your favor can shift when an automobile, for even a single year, fails to show progress.

So continuous improvement is more than a policy with General Motors. It is a vital necessity.

THE PUBLIC DEMANDS NEW MODELS

And the public is right. Out of that demand have come electric starting and lighting, the closed body, Duco finish, four-wheel brakes and hundreds of refinements, big and little. Improvements that might have taken a generation have been born within a few years because people want greater performance, beauty and comfort.

Equipped with the largest research laboratories, proving ground and body building plants, and guided by an Open Mind which is ready to revise its thinking in response to new facts, General Motors believes that it is peculiarly fitted not only to sense but to anticipate public demand and to give the people better automobiles at better values year after year.

As evidence of that faith we presented some months ago the New Chevrolet, the New Pontiac, the New Oldsmobile. And now we offer, with equal pride, the New Buick, the New Cadillac, the New LaSalle and the New Oakland.

CHEVROLET. 7 Bigger and Better models, $495 to $715. 4-wheel brakes. More powerful engine. Luxurious Fisher Bodies. New colors. Also Light Delivery Truck chassis; $375; Utility Truck chassis with 4 speeds forward; $520.

PONTIAC. 7 models, $745 to $875. Lowest priced General Motors Six—now offers more power, greater economy—more speed, greater acceleration. Arresting beauty of bodies by Fisher expresses the vogue of the hour.

OLDSMOBILE. 7 models, $925 to $1085. Also 5 DeLuxe models, $1145 to $1235. "The fine Car at Low Price." Completely redesigned and improved by General Motors. More powerful, 4-wheel brakes. Longer, roomier Fisher Bodies.

OAKLAND. 7 models of the new All American Six, recently announced, $1145 to $1375. Distinctively new original appearance. Solid new performance. Luxurious appointments, in new bodies by Fisher. A car you'll be proud to own.

BUICK. 18 Silver Anniversary models on 3 wheel-bases. $1195 to $2145. Lightning flash getaway. Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher. Comfort and luxury in every mile. Power for the steepest hill and the longest run.

LASALLE. 13 new models, $2295 to $2875. Attractive car of Continental lines. Companion car to Cadillac. 90 degree V-type 8-cylinder engine. Beautiful Bodies by Fisher. Striking Duco color combinations.

CADILLAC. 26 models, $3295 to $7000. Standard of the world. Famous 90 degree V-type 8 cylinder engine. Luxurious Bodies by Fisher and Fleetwood. An extensive range of color and upholstery combinations.
