NEW FARM BILL

It is indicated that strong efforts will be made to pass a farm relief measure during the short session of Congress, although such an accomplishment is by no means certain. A new bill closely following the general lines of the McNary-Haugen measure, is being worked out by Senator McNary, but it will eliminate the famous "equalization fee" feature, which has been the chief bone of contention in the past.

It is understood that the proposed bill will be primarily intended to extend cooperative marketing of crops through government loans to farm associations at a very low rate of interest. By this means, while the credit of the government will be available to assist the movement, the farm organizations will not be subject to Federal control to the extent proposed by the equalization fee plan.

Regardless of the details of the plan which may be finally adopted, it is safe to say that the benefits to be derived from it will depend to a large extent upon the measure of cooperation accorded by the farmers themselves.

In fact, the whole farm problem is greatly influenced by the inability of farm leaders to form a really effective farm organization, and the failure of these leaders to agree among themselves respecting the best method of meeting the existing situation.

Therefore the wise farmer will do some earnest thinking and planning concerning his own operations, and will not depend too much on the promises of politicians.

HAIR-SPLITTERS AGAIN

Having nothing better to do, perhaps, some of our pedants are amusing themselves by criticizing the use of certain words in common use and in drawing hair-splitting distinctions with respect to their meanings. For example, the words, "candidate" and "president-elect."

The purists declare that when a person announces himself as an aspirant for office he becomes a candidate, but after receiving a regular nomination for the place he is no longer a candidate, but a "nominee." Again, they say that it is wrong at present to refer to Mr. Hoover as the "president-elect," because he has not yet been formally elected by the electoral college.

All of which will appear to practical people as being rather trivial, just as is this comment of ours.

James Whitcomb Riley wrote about Thanksgiving and told about the frost being on the pumpkin but failed to mention the cranberry. J. S. Dellinger, publisher of the Morning Astorian, goes better by sending to the publishers of Oregon the real thing in the berries. Cranberry sauce is the one thing that makes the Thanksgiving turkey really palatable, for eaten together one enhances the flavor of the other, with that of the berry predominating.

Lincoln Licorish, the young colored man who saved 20 persons from death by pulling them from the water and into a life boat when the ill-fated Vestris sank, is reaping the reward for his bravery by appearing in vaudeville in New York.

All strength to that Licorish.

Now that the turkeys have been eaten it behooves all to begin preparing for the Christmas feed and Christmas gifts as well.

Christmas Soon Here
The Christmas season will soon be here and the displays of goods for that season being displayed in Maupin stores. Shattuck and Wilson stores are opening up fine lines, while the drug store is not behind either. The Resh store is displaying a fine line of Christmas candies and nuts, and also have a fine line of canned goods and fresh vegetables for the holiday trade.

More Chickens Stolen
When Ollie Weberk went to his hicken house Sunday morning he found the door of same open and upon counting his flock discovered that four of his prime pullets had gone the way of others from various coops in his neighborhood. The door was opened by a key. There is a well grounded suspicion as to where he missing flocks went, but nothing definite enough to fasten the guilt on any particular person is known.

Big Thanksgiving Gathering
A gathering of relatives and friends will be held at the H. M. Greene home this afternoon, when A. H. DeCamp, Laco DeCamp and family, C. A. Duus and family, W. E. Kidder and family and "Tot" Chambers from Oklahoma, will put their feet under the table and partake of a big Thanksgiving dinner. There will be four big turkeys as well as all the fixin's that goes with them on the dinner table.

HOME POINTERS

To make a pretty mold of jelly, set a glass of jelly in a pan of water for two minutes or more. Let the water reach to the top of the glass. Then plunge into cold water for an instant, take out and turn bottom up on a jelly dish.

It is not best to leave coffee stand in the coffee pot for a long time. The acid in the coffee acting upon the metal turns the coffee dark and gives it an unpleasant flavor.

Paraffin paper from cracker boxes may be saved and cut up to fit cake tins. After a pan is greased, put a sheet of paper in the bottom to keep the cake from sticking to the pan. It is better to let the paper stay on the cake after it has baked, until cold unless frosting it to be used.

Corn-meal mush will brown quickly when fried, if a little sugar is put in the water while boiling.

When mixing mustard, add a few drops of sweet oil, or some other oil. This will prevent the unsightly black surface of the interior of your mustard jar. The paste will retain its original bright yellow color as long as a particle remains.

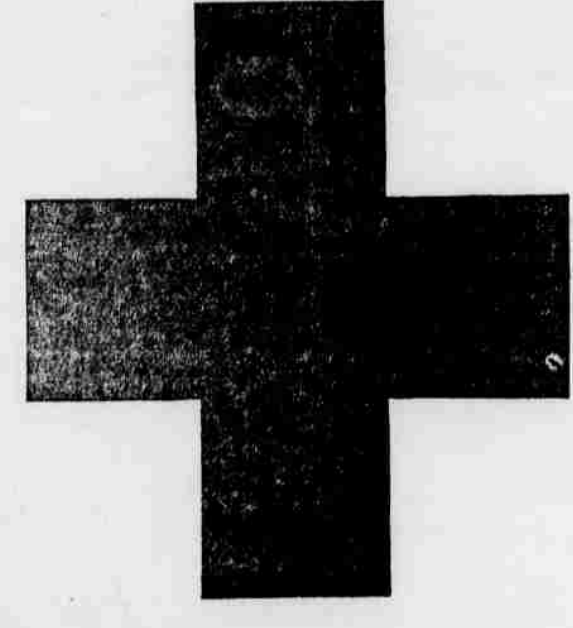

FARM REMINDERS

Honey in Oregon is stored in a warm dry place for best keeping quality, says H. A. Scullen, bee specialist at the state college. Honey so stored will keep for months, even years. It will not keep well, however, if stored in a cold, damp cellar. The cans can rust and, if it is comb honey, it is likely to draw moisture and granulate much more quickly than when kept in the pantry or other warm places.

Farmers desiring to grow more alfalfa had better buy their Grimm alfalfa seed supply early as the crop in Idaho is reported short. Several Oregon farmers in Umatilla, Union, Malheur, Crook, Deschutes and Linn counties will have certified Grimm alfalfa seed for sale.

Nicotine sulfate, commonly known as black leaf 40, which can be obtained from the poultry feed dealer, is a simple and effective means of controlling lice on poultry. It is applied along the roosts with an oil can in the evening.
