Pine Grove News

John Davis and wife gave a dance at the Harpham home, east of Wapinitia, last Saturday night. The neighbors came in and unlimbered their rheumatic bones to the time of the tunes elicited by Mose Delore and other fiddle bow wielders.

W. A. Bullock of Klamath Falls is visiting friends in southern Wasco county and looking after his insurance business.

Among the Pine Groves to visit the Odd Fellows lodge at Maupin last Saturday night were Car. Powell, Ben Richardson and W. A. Dane.

Walter Sharp and wife were hosts last Sunday to the Charles Lewis and John Boen families. The men took advantage of the day to butcher Sharp's meat.

Melvin Walters and Lee Laughlin go to school via the Walters gas bug every day. Wilbur Mathews also drives his car to Wapinitia, while the Sturgis and Tuttle cars are driven from the old Sam Brown place.

Ed. Mathews is hauling hay and straw for winter use.

Walter Sharp has built a fruit cellar at the rear of the First and Last Chance filling station, in which they will keep fruit, tools, soft drinks, etc., against cold weather.

Frank Richardson and young Harvey went to the Davis party Saturday night.

Andy Booth is cutting wood on the W. A. Dane ranch.

the O. S. Walters family at her home on Sunday last. She had been away during the week at George McDonald's in Maupin, where she is assisting Mrs. McDonald.

Carl Powell attempted to ear mark his brother-in-law with a carpenter saw last Saturday. Andy seemed to object to the procedure. At any rate when the saw teeth took hold Andy vacated the premises.

The stock water supply is again flowing over the Flat. The freeze in the mountains cut it off for a period of 10 days.

BOYS AND GIRLS

Little Fatsy Kelly, a child of the New York tenements, a few months ago got her chance to shine in a vaudeville show and is now featured in a high class musical production.

Jan Mannering Sanders, 14, is the youngest artist in England to have ever had a painting accepted at the Royal Academy.

Worth Nichols, a school-boy of Tulsa, Tex. made enough money from two pure-bred Jersey cows to insure him a college education.

Agatha Robbins, a young girl of Trentham, Eng., although suffering

Linn & Son's mill is moving to the west line of the Dane tract so as to be in the timber for the short winter haul.

Dewey Linn's coyote farm was the scene of a three-cornered fight last week. His coyotes saw some small pigs near the fence of their enclosure. One big coyote broke through the screen and took after the porkers and the old sow defended her offspring with vigor. The noise of the fight brought Dewey to the scene with his gun. He killed the coyote and since then has reinforced his fence.

Mrs. Katie Peterson entertained
