WORKING CONDITIONS ABROAD

"A Wage survey just completed in Constantinople is quite appropriate when considering foreign commodities placed on the American market and foreign labor is pitted against that of American," says the Republican Leader, Trenton, Nebraska, in a tariff discussion.

"The survey showed girls of 6 and 7 years bending over embroidery frames making minute cross stitches and hemstitching blouses. For the labor the wage scale commences at one cent per hour. Children are found working in cigarette factories more than half of which were found to be subnormal physically and mentally. They were working in the quarters with ventilation very bad.

"One hotel worker, a boy, was given to eat what was left on the patron's plates. In one beauty parlor a child worked 12 to 14 hours for a weekly wage of about 80 cents American money, while men's wages ranged from $40 to $48 per month and women from $12 to $20.

"All one has to do to believe in a protective tariff is to contrast this condition with that of the American scale of wages and living—American ideals and the American home."

MAKING WIDER HIGHWAYS

A future trend of road building will be toward constructing wider highways in addition to more new highways. For the past twenty years the good roads building movement has been an outstanding development of our national life. Highways passed rapidly from the luxury age to where they were necessities; today the community without sufficient paved roads is almost foredoomed to economic and social inertia.

It is a great deal cheaper to build highways sufficiently wide to start with than to widen them later. The use of road oils and a plastic materials make practical building of waterproof hard surfaces on thousands of miles of rural roads.

A little Maupin boy was bemoan-ing the fact that Resh & Co. were selling reindeer meat the first of the week. The little fellow said he was sure the market had stolen one of Susan's reindeer, which would make it impossible for the Christmas saint to come down this year.

Pick Ups About Town

"Stub" Lister has aspirations to shine as a pugilistic star. At that he has more than ordinary talent and shows it whenever he has a chance to don the padded mitts.
Sunday he almost met a Waterloo, the how of which is: Stub and another pugilistically inclined young fellow were working out. The opponent ducked a mighty swing of Stub's and in coming up his head collided with the doughty East Sider's chin, cutting a gash over an inch long and almost causing Stub to take the count. A couple of stitches and a yard of adhesive plaster fixed the embryo pug up and he expects to be in shape for the Smoker on Saturday night.

A fellow entered Kramer Bros' garage on Sunday and asked about tires. He said he had paid $4.00 for a tire there some time ago and had driven it but 4,000 miles when it showed signs of wear. He asked that an adjustment be made and seemed somewhat put out when Joe showed him his old tire had far exceeded its expectancy.

Tom Henneghan, John Confer, Freddie Anderson, "Dad" Griffin, The Times man and several other followers of Izaak Walton, have decided to lay aside all fishing tackle for the winter and let it remain in innocuous desuetude until about April 15th next. The fishing season of 1928 closed last Friday.

Bobby Davidson is usually a mild tempered fellow, but when a man does him dirt our hustling freight handler gets on his dignity and it is a hard matter to shake him off. He lately made a deal with a Portland commission man to look up and deliver live-tock to him, the Portlander promising certain things. Bobby found out he was being double crossed and now that commission man will not get a pound of pork, beef or mutton from this section if Bobby has anything to say about it.

W. W. Richmond and sons, Ralph and Roy, are busy as bees cutting up slabs at the Linn mill and hauling it to town. They have quite a respectable pile of short slab wood piled up here, ready for delivery, and that it is good wood we stand ready to testify. People desiring slab wood for either heater or range can get it by calling Richmonds' service station.

Oliver Resh has purchased Bates Shattuck's interest in the O. P. Resh & Co. store, and will conduct the establishment on his own from now on. No, we are wrong there, for Oliver has a balance wheel in the person of his wife, and with her in the store things promise to hum.
Mrs. Resh knows the store business from A to Z and does not keep customers waiting her pleasure.

Jim Baxter recently bought a Model A Ford motorcar from Kramer Bros. Motor Co. In that machine the gas tank is located in the hood. Jim lives on the breaks of the Deschutes where the road is somewhat precipitous. Jim declares that road is so straight up that the gas retains to feed into the carburetor, and that if he had cleats on the rear axles he could climb up any cliff in Eastern Oregon.

Everyone likes to take a chance once in a while. At the Resh store is a new proposition—called "3 in 1," and is one that should appeal to all of an economical turn of mind.
The plan, as we understand it is:
With each purchase a voucher is given, which is redeemed in fine silverware, clocks, automatic lighters and many other useful articles. All that is necessary to do is to pay one-third of the total amount of goods purchased and the choice you make is yours.

Health Report

The state health department, in its bulletin of December 1, says there were 13 cases of flu, two of pneumonia and one of chicken pox reported to the department for the previous week, in Wasco county.
In the state as a whole there were four cases of typhoid, 15 of diphtheria, 32 of scarlet fever, 48 measles, 418 flu, 45 small-pox, eight tuberculosis, 19 pneumonia, 34 chickenpox, two of meningitis. Cases of erysipelas were reported from Clackamas, Douglas, Harney, Klamath and Tillamook counties, while Clatsop county reported a single case of anthrax.

Stole Shot Guns

A short time ago Elmer Hornquist and two companions from Washington came to Maupin while on their way to the goose grounds in Gilliam county. They parked their coupe near the road at the hotel, leaving the doors unlocked. During the night some one with a penchant for shotguns appropriated two fine guns, leaving no trace. The guns belonged to the Washington youths and were valued at $80.

Recovering From Illness

Mrs. Wayne DeJardier, who has been confined to her bed several days with a throat affection, has so far recovered as to be able to be up a short time each day. She had a quinsey abscess which required lancing in order to effect a reduction.

Down With Scarlet Fever

We have been informed that Billy Fischer, his wife and two small children have been down with scarlet fever at their homestead home on the river a short distance above town. All are on the road to recovery.

Budget Adopted

A mass meeting of citizens gathered at the bank parlors last evening and adopted the proposed budget for the coming year. The budget calls for raising a tax of $1,500 to cover the expenses for the year 1929.

Thanks, Mr. Shepflin

Julius Shepflin is one of those men who believes the editor is entitled to some of the good things of life as well as other people. In practice of that belief Julius brought in a dandy pork roast, cut from a recently butchered hog, and some other dainty parts of the porker. You have our thanks for your gift, Julius.

District 49 Board Meets

The school board of school district No. 49, Bakeoven, met in regular session at the Geo. Mallatt home Wednesday evening. Matters of moment to the district were discussed and acted upon. Among other things taken up was the purchase of a stereoscope and a book of historical views, the whole costing $165.00.
This will be of great value to the students, as it will give them occurances to view the countries studied about.
