Entered as second class mail matter September 8, 1914, at the post-office at Maupin, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

People will recall the awful howl that went up when a New York publication located Multnomah falls in California. Now this county has a chance to let out a howl against the Portland Oregonian. In Sunday's paper, accompanying a story of the appointment of a state board of education, Edw. C. Pease, a merchant of the Dalles was given residence at Medford. Howl, The Dalles, now howl!

The city date of Maupin did themselves proud when they induced the county court to loan a county grader and caterpillar, manned by county workmen, to straighten and level our side streets. When they go farther and cover the streets with gravel they will accomplish more than has been done since. Maupin took on the responsibilities of an incorporated city. Let the good work go on.

A Once-a-Week Service to Weeklies and Semi-Weeklies

Fine steel wool makes aluminum saucers shine. It is sold under various trade names. Whiting, or vinegar, or dilute oxalic acid, may be used to remove food discoloration. Never use strong alkalis such as soda or lye on aluminum or even scouring powders or soaps containing free alkali. After cleaning wash the utensil thoroughly before cooking in it.

Eat plenty of any kind of fish, but especially the salt-water fish and shellfish, both fresh and canned. All fish contribute to the day's supply of "efficient" protein, similar to that furnished by meat, eggs, milk, poultry and cheese. The saltwater fish, or true "sea foods" are also the best known sources of iodine, one of the minerals needed to keep to body strong and healthy. Lack of iodine leads to disturbances of the thyroid gland, which result in goiter.

STRANGE HAPPENINGS

Woolen materials can often be darned with threads of the material, split silk, or hair so that the garment may be presentable.

Mrs. Edith Foster, a St. Louis nurse, routed two burglars who had entered the home of her patient.

Robert Seaton and his son fought in the final bout of a boxing tournament at Willesden, Eng., the father winning on points.

STORE IS EVERY ATTRACTIVE

New Paint and Kalsomine With Beautiful Trimmings

Oliver Resh has been hard at work the past two weeks changing the interior of his store. He has painted the woodwork, kalsomined the ceiling and on top of the goods shelves has erected beautiful lattice arches. Within these he has arranged various lines of goods, each of which is embellished with illuminated advertising calling attention to the lines. Oliver believes in making his place attractive and the recent improvements show he knows how to make an appeal to the eye.

Track Work

The assembly held last Tuesday was one which interested the students and faculty. Mr. Poling brought up the subject of track work and the equipment that would be needed in preparing the participants for the event. We will need standard material to work with in order that we may be prepared to do our best and are planning on purchasing a stand shot-put, discus, and baseballs. Those who are interested in the events in which they have ability, have listed their names and will begin work the latter part of the week.

Several officials from other schools expressed a desire to hold a district track meet, such as was done during the basketball season. The participants who win in the local meet will have a chance to compete against those found best in other parts of the district. This would be an interesting undertaking and the cooperation of the schools would make it a possibility.

A meeting of school officials will be held in the Maupin High school next Saturday to determine the day set for the meet, the qualifications for entering, and the events that will be run off on that day. If we win this year we become the permanent possessors of the silver loving cup which goes to the school which wins the highest number of points for three consecutive years. Naturally, we are very much interested in all that concerns it this year, and will work hard to become the proud owners of the cup.

The Scenic Deschutes

(By Harold Kramer)
The scenic Deschutes river has its source in a cluster of lakes and streams, in the counties of Klamath and Deschutes. Among these headwaters are Crescent Lake, East Lake, Odell Lake, Saddle mountain, and Squaw creek. At Bend this river is wide and shallow. It can be forded with an auto or even waded. Other tributaries of the river are Cline Falls, the Metolius river, and the Crooked river, that is crossed by the highest single span bridge in the world. The Warm Springs river begins at Warm Springs lake on the Warm Springs Indian reservation. Hay creek is the next tributary. Bakeoven creek empties into the river at Maupin. White river, that comes from Mt. Hood, white with glacial sediment, is the last tributary to the river. There it winds its way to empty into the Columbia about fifteen miles from The Dalles.

The Deschutes flows three hundred and twenty miles from its source in Crescent lake, to the Columbia. One hundred and forty miles of its course is through ancient lava beds and canyons to the Cascade ranges. It is very deep and swift and at most places cannot be traveled by boat because of the rapids, fall, and numerous whirlpools. The swiftness of the river prevents its freezing and the narrow deep channel has few islands.

The river flows north, beginning in Klamath county, through Deschutes, Jefferson and Wasco and west the boundary of Sherman county.

The Deschutes is capable of great water power development, having a three thousand foot drop from Bend to Maupin. A power plant was started at the narrows of Sherars Bridge, and there the river was so deep and swift that three men were drowned. The project for the time has been abandoned.

It furnishes wonderful trout fishing throughout, with salmon fishing at the mouth. Every summer a special train comes from Portland bringing fishermen to North Junction, where the station agent has accommodations for them.

There are two railroads following the river on either side. The O. W. on the east bank and the O. T. on the west bank. The O. T. crosses a railroad bridge at North Junction to the O. W. side. They then travel the same track to Bend.

The Deschutes also furnishes water for irrigation projects. The Tumalo project at Bend gets its water from the river. There are numerous small projects. They are used for fruit orchards, gardens and alfalfa fields.

Maupin on the Deschutes is the only highway crossing between the Columbia river and Bend. Maupin is a noted fishing center because of the auto camps, good hotel accommodations and garages. The train service that the town has makes it available to fishermen. The Dalles-California highway, too, is always in good condition and a person can come from Portland in a few hours to view the wild beauty of the turbulent Deschutes where it threads deeply among the ancient canyons.

Boy Scouts

(By Ivan Donaldson)

The Dufur play, under the auspices of the Boy Scouts of America Troop No. 33, was well attended by Maupinites, partly for the benefit of the Boy Scouts and also to see the play.

Some of the Boy Scouts' mothers made candy, which was sold by Jim Slusher and Herbert Kramer, netting $9.10. The total gate receipts for the play were $66.20. The boy Scouts received half of this, so their total income was $42.20. This will pay for the uniforms, and the money that the boys have turned in will be kept in the treasury.

Five boys will be picked from this troop to attend the "First Aid" rally in The Dalles. A second class test will be taken on April Fools Day.

Edmund and Ivan lead a part of the troop in the search for Mr. Jewell among the canyons east of the Deschutes. This occasion was a good opportunity to display the duties of a scout and was eagerly accepted by the boys.

Mr. Poling has been instructing us in squad marching, such as is done in the armies of the United States. While at college Mr. Poling was the instructor in this work, so we are getting it first hand.

Senior Play

In the presentation of the Senior play, "Billy," in April the Seniors will be cast as follows:

- Billy Hargrave Art Appling
- Alice Hargrave Irene Mathews
- John Hargrave Harold Kramer
- Mrs. Sloane Crystal Stuart
- Sam Eustace Andrew Crabtree
- Steward Estel Stovall
- Beatrice Sloane Merle Snodgrass
- Ship's Doctor Clarence Hunt
- Boatswain Kenneth Snodgrass
- Sailor Ira Kidder
- Captain Clarence Hunt

Two Juniors will assist; Avis Crabtree as Mrs. Hargrave, and Lelah Weberg as the stewardess.

The characters will be drilled for the most part individually, as this method develops a self-confident proficiency which enables joint rehearsals to progress rapidly.

Club Work

A new system of awards is being planned by the club leaders. To the club member finishing one year's work a bronze pin will be given. The third year pin is a silvered four leaf clover. An enamel pin with green clovers in the center will be given at the end of the fourth year's work. After completing the fifth year's work a silver pin with an inlaid enamel four leaf clover will be given to the club members. The final and greatest award for achievement is the gold pin with an inlaid green enamel four leaf clover in the center. These pins will be presented publicly. A card index file of all club members is also started this year. It gives the name, age, address, date of birth, and of the prizes he has won.

Maupin Defeats Tygh

Maupin was requested by Tygh Valley to play the return game which they had previously played here. We did not feel that we could afford to lose twenty dollars from our Student Body in order to cancel the game and so we went to Tygh Monday evening. The floor was not one which plays could be played and carried out successfully. We were lucky in securing 29 points against our opponents' 14.

This was the last game of the season and it is not with reluctance that we lay aside our suits for other activities. We feel that we had won a fair amount of games and that our best efforts had always been put forth. And also we bid farewell to it, come of us knowing well that we will probably be out of the games played in the future.

Fashion Tea Postponed

Owing to the fact that every girl in the sewing class is either at home ill with the flu or at school suffering from a bad cold, the class regrettably postpones their entertainment planned for this week Friday until next Friday. They accordingly invite their friends to inspect their work on Friday afternoon, March 22, from 2:00 to 3:30.

Mabel Weberg Winner

The first award for typing this year was given to Mabel Weberg, who made a record of 28 words per minute for 15 consecutive minutes. This is a very creditable record for anyone who has been in the class only for one semester and an accomplishment which one is to be proud of.

Several of the boys and girls have been absent, necessitated by an attack of flu.

We are sorry to hear that Arlene and Ina Linn are leaving this school. They have not been enrolled here very long but have become one of us, endeavoring to help us at all times. They are moving with their folks to the Valley.

The stop watch which the Student Body bought has arrived and will pay for itself many times over in track training.
