 Entered as second class mail matter September 8, 1914, at the post office at Maupin, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Much used to be said about the "march" of progress, but the American people aren't doing much marching in these days when all they have to do is to step on the gas to get anywhere.

It is suggested that the proceeding of Congress be broadcast by radio, but some folks would not listen for fear they might learn something.

Foreigners claim that American girls get tired too easily, but those of Maupin are rarely too tired to go to a dance.

Everybody Gardening—

Every Maupinite with a space large enough for spuds and a little other garden stuff is spading up and scanning the seed displays with an eye to putting in a garden. If all stuff planted grows according to expectations those outside fellows who bring green stuff to Maupin will be sadly out of luck, so far as a market here is concerned.

Charvari For Newlyweds—

Elmer Conley and Sylvia Ayers decided to join issues for life, consequently hid themselves to The Dalles last Thursday and were there made man and wife. They returned to Sherars Bridge and Sunday evening a number of their friends decided to give them an old-fashioned charivari. Several Maupinites aggravated the party and proceeded to initiate the newlyweds into the mysteries of a wedding by serenading them with all the noise possible. Elmer came back with the usual cigars and—thanks.

Dance Most Successful—

The St. Patrick's dance at the Legion hall last Saturday under the auspice of the Altar society of the Sacred Heart Catholic church, was one of the most successful functions held in Maupin this season. The music by Seck's Columbians gave good satisfaction, while the cafeteria supper came in for much praise from those who partook of it. The proceeds amounted about $160.00.

Will Play a Solo—

As an added feature to the assembly at the High school next Friday, J. H. Woodcock has consented to render a violin solo. Jim has quite a record as a violinist and that he has consented to play for the assembly is a commendable action on his part.

Home on Vacation—

Miss Velma Crofoot came up from Monmouth Tuesday, she having joined her mother, who was at the Rebekah convention at The Dalles, the previous evening. Velma says she is enjoying life at the Normal school to the utmost and also that she is making good progress in her studies. She will enjoy a mid-term vacation of five days before returning to Monmouth.

New Mechanic—

Elmore Fritz a young auto mechanic from Taft, California, is the latest acquisition to the working force at the Maupin garage. Mr. Fritz was at one time a co-worker with Wm. Schilling of the local shop and comes here to again work under his old-time foreman.

Attended Meeting—

Oscar Renick, as manager of this unit of the Tum-A-Lum Lumber company's chain yards, attended a meeting of managers of this district at The Dalles last Saturday. Oscar reports a large attendance and also that much information was gained by him from the discussions during the meeting.

Visiting in Portland—

Mrs. R. E. Wilson left for Portland Sunday morning, being taken to The Dalles by her husband and from there continuing via stage. She was accompanied by her mother who had been here for a time and will visit with her daughter, Jean, for a week or so.

Of interest to every car owner:

A statement of General Motors' Policy

by Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., President

THE public has been visiting the automobile shows in the larger cities of the country to see new models.

Suppose you could drop a curtain over the 1929 automobile shows and raise it immediately upon the shows of ten years ago. How vividly the changes would then appear!

Go back five years, or even three, and the contrasts are amazing. So fast have the improvements followed one another that every year has offered you more for your automobile dollar—in performance, in comfort, in safety, in beauty and in style. Never was this fact quite so impressive as in the cars now on display.

This is real progress, and inevitably General Motors has been a leader in it. You cannot have hundreds of engineers, in one organization, thinking and working day and night without knowing more about making automobiles than was known the year before. You cannot have great Research Laboratories, the Proving Ground and the unmatched resources and skill of Fisher body without developing constantly better processes and new ideas. The patronage of the public makes possible all this machinery of betterment; so the public is entitled to each improvement as promptly as it has been proved.

In this way came the self-starter, the closed body, durable Duco finish, four wheel brakes. By the same process one of the remarkable feats in industrial history has just been effected: Chevrolet has been transformed into a six-cylinder car within the price range of the four—almost overnight. Similarly, the new brakes and transmissions of Cadillac and LaSalle are a fundamental improvement; while the new models of Buick, Oldsmobile, Oakland and Pontiac all represent values that could not have been offered before.

Such progress, born of the inherent ambition of an organization of active minds to do better and to give more, is of benefit to all. It offers you more for your money with each succeeding year. It gives you more value for your present car when you trade it in.

This is our policy. This is real progress.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr.

HOME POINTERS

When boiling ham to be used cold, letting it cool in the liquor in which it has been cooked helps to make it juicy and tender.

A delicious icing for a layer cake consists of one pound of confectioners sugar creamed with one-half cup of butter, three tablespoonfuls of cold coffee. Two teaspoonfuls of cocoa and one teaspoonful of vanilla extract. These are mixed thoroughly and spread on the cake.

When baking doughnuts, a small piece of raw potato dropped into the hot fat will prevent the doughnuts from burning.

A pinch of soda in the milk when making cream of tomato soup usually prevents curdling.

When serving grapefruit it is made easier for the person eating it, if the center core is removed, cut around the edge of the juicy membrane and cut into individual sections by severing the connective tissue. A cherry placed in the center improves the appearance.

Syrups from canned fruits may be kept and blended for making jell desserts. They give an unusual flavor and often a nice color.

Saw Them Made—
 Visitors have passed through the plants of the Ford Motor company at Detroit in such large numbers during the last year that on some months more than 50,000 persons witnessed production of the model Ford.
