CAMEL CIGARETTES

WHY CAMELS ARE THE BETTER CIGARETTE

Camels are made of the choicest tobaccos grown.
The Camel blend of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos has never been equaled.
Camels are mild and mellow.
They do not tire the taste.
They leave no cigaretty after-taste.
Camels have a delightful fragrance that is pleasing to everyone.

half months on account of a broken leg. Orion Pachette was able to return to school and take examinations with his class.

Primary Notes

The First grade has completed seven books in reading and Vivian McCoy of the First grade has received two buttons in writing this year. The little girl has done exceedingly well in her class, being handicapped, as she was the only one in her class.

The following pupils of the different grades received buttons in writing: Second grade—Agnes Lewis, gold star; silver star and Palmer method button; Kenneth Endersby, a silver and gold star button; Kenneth Birchard, a silver and gold button; Don Broughton, a silver and gold button; Pupils of the Third grade receiving buttons: Winnifred McCoy, Palmer method merit pin and progress pin; Harvey Wall, Palmer method button; Orval Evick, silver and gold star buttons; Wallace Woodside, Palmer method and merit pin; Alice May Sturgess, Palmer method button; Teddy Hachler, Palmer method button. The Fourth grade winners were: Laura Hartman, Palmer method pin, progress pin and an improvement certificate. Everett Hammer, Palmer method and merit pin; Frances McCoy, Palmer method, merit and progress pin, Ellen Hachler, Palmer method and merit pin; Norbet Wall, Palmer method pin.

Kenneth Birchard and Winnifred McCoy of the Third grade received certificates of attendance, neither being tardy nor absent during the school year.

The Second grade finished reading six books this year.

Frances McCoy leads in the spelling contest with Winnifred McCoy, Agnes Lewis and Kenneth Birchard close seconds.

Pine Grove News

Gertrude Laughlin has returned from a week end visit with friends in Portland.

A Mothers Day reading given Lillian Washburn as a special feature of last Sunday's service at the Pine Grove Sunday school.

Lucille Walters, who has been keeping house for Lewis Walters, is now employed by Ben Richardson at the service station.

Dimenson Bros., contractors, sent men in who removed two cat cractors. They rucked the snow out from the upper grade near the canal intake. Ben Richardson got gas to tractors from Pine Grove by truck delivery. Two Mack trucks loaded one cat and drove them to Portland for overhauling before they were to go out on a new job.

A party of Bureau of Public Roads engineers will start on road surveying as soon as snow has cleared from the Clear Lake divide.

Calvin McCorkle is cutting wood on the Hedin tract for his fuel supply for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Walters are happy over the arrival of a new boy at their home. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

Henry Holland has left Pine Grove where he joined Walter Sharp in the wood cutting business. He is looking up well drilling work for the summer.

Phil Mott and family visited Pine Grove last Monday, going to Camas ranger camp, where he had business.

Joe A. Graham came out Sunday from the Beaver creek road camp.

Henry Miller and wife have moved their truck bungalow to Bear creek and will set up camp there for the present.

J. Weisbeck and Cal Burnside, the pair of road-builders of the Mt. Hood national forest, moved into first camp at Boier camp, using the ditch company's cabin for living quarters, for the present.

Calvin Burnside spent a time at a reforestation camp in the Eagle creek division of the forest service. He told Pine Groveites that his nephew, Cloyce Burnside, now attending medical college in the east, would return to Oregon soon for his vacation. George W. Burnside is doing orchard work near The Dalles.

"Dad" Moore, veteran trapper, now employed by the irrigation company as ditch walker, has moved his camp to "Long Trough," the half way place from whence he patrols the upper canal to the big cut.

Big Snow Jam

Trying to speed up nature is not work when Hedin turned in a head of water in an attempt to melt the snow lodged in the upper canal. The snow jammed and forced the water over the bank at station 27, approximately one-half mile from the head of the canal. The break thus made caused 16 men to work all day last Thursday to make repairs. The splendid cooperation of the men who responded to the call, is a good example of what can be accomplished when members tackle a job, even under difficulties. Water has again been turned into the canal. It was increased on Sunday after the snow had cut out the big jam. Calvin McCorkle, Rufus McCorkle and N. G. Hedin spent part of last Friday watching the progress of the water in the upper canal. The men who went to station 27 to help repair the break, had to walk eight miles besides doing the work. They were George Caymier, Don Miller, Moas Delore, Ed. Walters, Roy Batty, Frank Batty's hired man, Floyd Eubanks, Arthur Pachette, Joe O'Brien, Wm. Sturgess, O. Bronner, Lester McCorkle and N. G. Hedin.

McCubbins gulch and the 10 miles west to intake, have been patrolled by Andy Anderson and John McFarlane to assist the ditch company in getting out the water supply. The distribution this season to be handled by O. Bronner and N. G. Hedin.

Attended Track Meet

Dr. L. S. Stovall and wife and son, Estel, attended the state high schools track meet at Corvallis last Saturday returning home Sunday. The doctor says the meet was one of the most successful he has attended, and that several state high school records were broken.

New school building will be constructed shortly on Weyerhaeuser site at Klamath Falls.

Baccalaureate Sermon

Dr. Poling will deliver the annual baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Maupin High school, at the school auditorium on Sunday evening next. During the evening there will be song by the men's trio and a trio of school girls, also a school chorus. The evening's exercises are to begin at 8:00 o'clock.

Gone to California

Elmore Fritts, who has been assistant at the Maupin garage for the past three months, was called to Taft, California on Monday by a wire from his father, who offers his son a partnership in a truck line operating between San Francisco and Los Angeles. Elmore left Monday evening for Taft. He has made many friends hereabouts by his genial disposition and pleasing manner and many friends will wish him success in his new venture.

Will Be Boss

While the Fraley family is away in California the business of the Rainbow cafe will be in the capable hands of Signe Fisher. That lady is a favorite with patrons of the Rainbow and the business will not suffer by the absence of Ben.

Wapinitia Items

Rilla and Lawrence Powell have gone to California.

Carl Powell has left the employ of Fred Alt logging company to work for Joe A. Graham for the summer. Earl Cunningham is breaking some new ground on the west pasture tracts.

Jog O'Brien is now in charge of a ditch repair crew. Most of the ranch sheep owners have sheared and marketed their wool.

Mose Delore is still turning stubble and says the ground still holds considerable moisture and plows good.

Wapinitia School Notes

The following pupils took the state examination in the Eighth grade: Lenore Hammer, Gerald Claymier, Tom Batty, Ellwyn Sturgess, William Hachler and Billie West.

Pupils of the Seventh grade taking geography are: June Hachler, Howard and Orion Pachette, William Hachler. Sixth grade physiology, Lee Woodside, Glen Hammer, June and Freda Hachler.

The Pine Grove and Wapinitia schools will hold a picnic on Thursday, May 23, at Bear Springs. Basket lunch will be served and other events of the day will be games of all sorts from horseshoe pitching to baseball.

The Fifth, Sixth and Seventh grades spent a short time in completing a grammar play, of which the purpose was to review the parts of speech.
