

CAMEL CIGARETTES

WHY CAMELS
ARE THE BETTER CIGARETTE

Camels contain the choicest tobaccos grown . . . expertly blended for matchless taste and fragrance.

They have a welcome mellowness and mildness that you will find in no other cigarette. Smoke them as often as you like, Camels never tire your taste.

The quality of Camels is never permitted to vary.

Only a superior cigarette could have won and held world leadership for all these years as Camel has done.

You can bank on the quality of a cigarette that continues to be the biggest success in smoking history

Pine Grove News

Among the many Sunday visitors to pass through Pine Grove on the way to the mountain shade and play grounds were: Art Gutzler and family, Oscar Renick and family, R. W. Richmond and family, Dr. L. S. Stovall and family, Ernie Endersby and Robert Holman.

Calvin Burnside and Weisbeck came out of the mountains over the week end and visited at Pine Grove and Tygh Valley.

"Cod" Powell and W. A. Dane were out from the roads camps over the week end.

The Wapinitia Irrigation company suffered a wash out of a spillway near the break of last week. The following men responded to the call for workers to repair the break: John Davis, Floyd Eubanks, John Bren, Lester McCorkle, O. Bronner, Arthur Pechette, John Powell's hired man, Olmstead, Roy Batty, George Claymier, Arthur Morris, Roy Crahtree, Wm. Moore and N. G. Hedin. The crew also did some repair work at the end of the flume that carries the Frog creek flow.

The water that flows on the Flat is still yellow, caused by the clay that washed out of the big cut.

Engineer Humphries and crew are checking up the irrigation area on the Flat for the state files on Nichoote right.

Roy Batty and George Claymier were up in the mountains looking up wood and posts.

The sons of A. B. Linn and their families and Ella Shepflin spent Sunday at Pine Grove and at Maupin.

Ella Shepflin, who is attending business college at Portland, reports Dorcas Hedin Leaf as gradually improving after her long siege of illness, she having been stricken last Thanksgiving.

Robert and Cecil Ellinwood and children are due in Portland after spending a time in Los Angeles and San Francisco. Daughter, Cecil, who was run down by a speeding autoist in Los Angeles, has recovered sufficiently to permit traveling. The car number was caught by Mrs. Ellinwood. The company in whose employ the driver was at the time carried accident insurance and the company settled the claim out of court for a substantial sum.

Many Wapinitia and Pine Grove folks visited Maupin Sunday night for the purpose of listening to the baccalaureate sermon delivered by Dr. Poling.

The Wapinitia Sabbath school will be host to the Pine Grove school and all Wapinitia friends on Children's Day, two weeks from the last Sunday. A program is in course of preparation, and a basket dinner, cafeteria style, will be served. To miss this union meeting is to miss a real community treat in two ways.

A Once-A-Week Service to Weeklies and Semi-Weeklies

The higher the grade of a feeder steer, the more economical will be its use of feed. A high-grade steer has greater capacity for feed and makes more economical use of it in laying on flesh in the regions of the valuable cuts.

An acre will furnish pasture for from 5 to 15 hogs averaging 100 pounds. It is a good plan to have two pastures for each lot of hogs. By alternating them the pastures may be grazed fairly closely and still provide good, succulent feed. Pasture crops that are allowed to mature don't furnish good feed for hogs.

Mushrooms the temperamental and exacting in their requirements, but they can be grown successfully by the amateur if careful attention is paid to these three points: Good manure, pure spawn, and a constant temperature. Contrary to most other crops, mushrooms don't need sunshine, or even light, and require manure in stead of ordinary soil.

Cottontail rabbits show remarkable discrimination in selecting certain varieties of crop to eat. In Oregon they have been known to eat Arabian alfalfa down to the ground but do no damage to other varieties in adjacent plots; and in Tennessee the Mammoth Yellow variety of soybeans is about the only one to suffer from their depredation. When the field to be protected is not large, it pays to build a rabbit-proof fence of woven-wire netting.

A little hunger is much better than indigestion for hogs on their journey to market. They should not be fed heavily before being shipped.

Bull calves in the dairy herd can be fed and handled much the same as the heifers, except that it is better to delay weaning until 8 or 10 months of age. If raised on skim milk, bull calves over 3 months old should have a little more grain than heifers. Good-sized bulls are always preferred, and this method of feeding lets them get their best size and development.

Young pullets are very sensitive to strange conditions and objects, and should not be disturbed or moved around from place to place. Pullets intended for laying should be kept by themselves and so handled that they will grow well and be in good-laying condition by the middle of the fall. Free range on clean soil and plenty of green feed and shade are essential to good growth.

Few dairymen with medium or small sized dairy herds can afford to own a first-class purebred bull; but every dairyman can afford to own a share in one. A cooperative dairy-bull association is the best and cheapest way for the small dairyman to obtain the use of a purebred bull to improve his herd. Farmers' bulletin 1532-E, obtainable from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, gives information on dairy-herd improvement through cooperative bull associations.

Kale and alfalfa, supplemented with green oat and vetch or wheat and vetch in the spring before the alfalfa hay is ready for cutting provides a continuous green feed supply for poultry throughout the year west of the Cascades, finds the Oregon experiment station. For each 100 birds, five of six pounds of excellent green feed, run through a cutter, is satisfactory in most cases. Too large a consumption of green feed may cut down the amount of grain and mash consumed, resulting in a drop in production. Excess green feed also darkens the egg yolks.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

Pongee silk will not spot if ironed when dry.

There is no difference between refined beet sugar and cane sugar for use in canning, or in jelly making and preserving.

Celery seed vinegar is good for use in salads and in many other ways. To make it bring 1 pint of vinegar to the boiling point, cool for 5 minutes, and add to one-fourth cup of celery seed and one-half tablespoon salt. Let stand two weeks, strain, and bottle.

Tall thin women who want to be well dressed should have plenty of fullness in their clothing, choose designs with lines that go around the figure and apparently give breadth, accent the outside lines of the figure in decoration—the hips, sleeves, or shoulders,—wear flaring lines rather than straight ones, and be sure their clothing fits, as too loose clothes will emphasize their thinness.

HOME POINTERS

(From School of Home Economics)
If the liquor from pickled peaches is saved it can be used to advantage in mince pies or sauces.

Creamed butter added to honey that has been whipped makes a good syrup to use on waffles.

After freezing ice cream if the ice is emptied into a sack, nearly all of the salt will remain after the ice melts and can be used again.

Peas that are too hard for serving plain may be cooked until tender, pressed through a sieve and the pulp used for soup.

Left over plain lemon jelly dessert may be cut up into cubes and mixed with fresh vegetables for a salad.

Paving project in business section of Burns will start in near future.
