

Personalities:

Ray Kaylor was at the county seat on Tuesday on a business mission.

Floyd Richmond and wife drove to the county seat on a business trip Tuesday.

T. B. Slusher and Harve Morris were transacting business at The Dalles on Tuesday.

George Mallatt and wife passed through Maupin yesterday morning, being on their way to The Dalles.

Frank Creager has completed his time of servitude in the grain and hay harvest and is again at his home in Maupin.

Signe Fischer will begin a month's vacation from her labors at the Rainbow next Monday, having decided to take a good rest.

J. W. Tallman, of the Tallman Piano store, Salem, was in Maupin on business yesterday morning, going from here to Criterion.

Mrs. Sylvia Stone, son and wife, visited at the Staats home in this city from Saturday until Monday. They were on an auto trip around the main highways.

Frank Dyer and wife returned from Portland, to which they had gone to consult a doctor regarding Frank's health, Tuesday night.

Johnny Williams was at The Dalles regarding tax matters on Tuesday. Johnny had been taxed with property he did not own and went down and had the matter straightened up.

Cornell Millington and wife, the latter a daughter of O. J. Williams, with the gentleman's parents, came up from Portland last Saturday and visited at the Williams home until Monday.

Mrs. Ernest Troutman and children have come out of the mountains, where they were vacationing, and are at home in Maupin. They came in at this time so the children might get ready for school.

Cyrus Richardson and wife visited with relatives here over Sunday. Mr. Richardson is a brother of Mr. O. J. Williams and Mrs. Albert St. Dennis and a son of Mrs. Clark Richardson. The visitors live in Portland.

Died From Injuries
Mrs. Florence Hurt, a widow was injured in a wreck on the highway about five miles south of Dufur on Saturday. She was taken to The Dalles hospital, where it was found she had sustained a rupture of the liver, that causing her death on Monday. The remains were taken in charge by Callaway's Undertakers, and were laid to rest in the Madras cemetery yesterday.

Andrew Crabtree Winner
In the boxing bouts at the fair grounds on Friday Andrew Crabtree of Maupin figured among the winners. His opponent was Arie De-Vall of Moro, a clever boxer. Andrew's strength was too much for the Moro lad and at the end of the bout the referee raised the Maupin boy's hand as a signal that he was the winner.

Home From Mountains
Sam Brown and wife returned from a trip to East lake last evening. While there they learned of the finding of the bodies of the young men, Cramer and Ferry, lost in a blizzard two years ago. Mr. Brown says that Cramer had been laid out as though by his partner, but that the body of Ferry laid near the trail in a huddled position.

Baker Lawyer Calls
Blaine Hallock, an attorney from Baker, was a caller in Maupin last Saturday. He suffered a break down of his car and laid over a day while repairs were being made to the vehicle. During his stay in Maupin he improved the time by catching some trout, he being an ardent fisherman.

Here From Grass Valley
Ellis Hughes, a rancher of Grass Valley has moved his family to Maupin and they are occupying the Butler cottage, next The Times office. The reason for coming to this city is that the children might enjoy our excellent school privileges.

Recent Fair Surpasses All Previous Efforts

Exposition Building Contained Best Displays Yet Made in This County—Races Good

Another milestone has been passed in the history of the Wasco County Fair association and that stone signified that one of the best fairs yet held in Wasco county had been concluded.

The displays of vegetables, grains, grasses, fruits, fancy work, canned goods and others listed in the premium book far excelled those of other years both as to number and quality. In fact, nearly equal were most of the displays that the ingenuity of the judges was taxed to definitely determine just which ones were entitled to the blue ribbons. The displays in cattle, hogs, sheep, goats, horses and poultry were extra good. The stables and pens were comfortably well filled and some of the best stock in the west was shown.

The 4-H club showing was more than good—in fact it was incomparable. A feature of that display and its accompanying contests in matters taught the members were the sewing, patching, canning and cooking by both boys and girls. The boys showed they were not behind the girls in these, in fact the wearers of overalls and embryo whiskers forged ahead of the skirted contestants in many instances. Their efforts are given in another story in this paper.

A commendable feature of the fair was the almost total absence of carnival "gimme" games, in which the operators got 99 per cent and the players the remaining 1 per cent. A circus took the place of such stands and gave satisfaction, while the free acts made up in a large measure the absence of the carnival spots.

The races were up to expectations, the Indian contests being especially good. Many horses from outside were entered in the races and a spirit of harmony and good fellowship permeated the grounds all three days. The attendance might have been larger, especially of people from the western and northern end of the county. Those who did attend, however, were loud in praise of both fair and Secretary Gillis and President Hunt for their efforts in giving them an opportunity to enjoy one day in viewing the products of this county. Take it up one side and down the other we are frank in saying that the fair of 1929 was by far the best yet held and in another year many needed improvements and innovations will be provided for the entertainment of a much larger attendance.

GRADUATES AS A MORTICIAN

Ben Calloway Will Be Associated With Father October 1

Ben Calloway, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Calloway, undertakers of The Dalles, will graduate from the Cincinnati School of Embalming on October 1 and will thereafter be associated with his father. The young Mr. Calloway has taken an advanced course in embalming, combining that course with that of plastic surgery. The latter course was taken with a view of restoring lacerated facial organs to their natural condition, thus making patients at the mortuary more presentable after death.

The Calloway funeral parlors are among the best in the state and are enjoying a most liberal patronage, as the work done there is of a superior order and creates a demand for the services of the estimable undertakers.

Has Golf Bug

Bates Shattuck and wife spent Sunday last on the golf links at The Dalles, each having a predilection for that ancient Scottish game. We doubt very much that Bates is as yet able to make a hole in one, but his enthusiasm is such that he will keep on until he has acquired sufficient experience to take on some real good players.

Next Sunday's Show

A Carl Laemmle production, "The Shakedown," will be on the screen at Legion hall next Sunday night. This feature shows James Murray and Barbara Kent in the title roles and is a story of the work of a gang of crooked gamblers, whose long suit is the exploitation of faked prize fights and fighters. The machinations of the gang of "racketeers" are shown in a light that reflects nothing but discredit upon the members. James Murray and Barbara Kent are both well and favorably known stars of the screen and in "The Shakedown" have abundant opportunity to show their ability as winners among film artists.

"You are coming right to the front, aren't you?"

So observed an officer of this bank the other day during an interview with a young business man. "Yes," he replied, "and your friendly, helpful counsel and banking service have been important factors in my success. . . And, by the way, your bank is coming right to the front, too! And, deservedly—if the constructive assistance you have given me is a sample of what others receive."

The above, and many more commendations, show the relation in which we stand to the business interests of Southern Wasco County.
