Tom Fargher Arraigned—
T. C. Fargher, indicted by the grand jury on charge of larceny by bailor, was arraigned before Judge Wilson Tuesday morning and given until October 3 to plead to the indictment.

Returned From Corvallis—
Dr. Stovall and wife returned from Corvallis, to which place they took their son, Estel, who enters Oregon State college. Estel enters the Freshman class as a student in the school of pharmacy.

Pick Ups About Town

Picked up around town.
Estel Stovall has entered the college at Corvallis as a freshman in Pharmacy. When he showed up on the campus he was invited to occupy quarters in a fraternity house and seriously considered the invite. He stayed a night of two and then informed his parents he would seek accommodation in the general dormitory. He had learned that a "Rookie" was invited by the fraternity brethren to become a member of their household and then was expected to serve as a sort of flunkie—black boots, attend the furnace, peel spuds, wait tables and perform all menial duties usually falling to the lot of servants. Estel's democratic esthetic disposition would not permit his descending to such depths, so "resigned" his invitation and will take pot luck with the general herd in the dormitory.

A gentleman connected with the U. S. District Attorney's office in Portland was in Maupin Tuesday looking up evidence against the man Andrus, who told of stealing automobiles and other infractions of law when apprehended at The Dalles in the summer. Andrus is in the Multnomah county jail at Portland and will soon be cited for trial.

"Editor" Renick of the Tum-A-Lum Tickler, occupying space in The Times, peeks some plain truths, even if disguised as jokes. His firm is the leading lumber dealers in this part of the county and the stories "Tum" is responsible for contain much meat easily digested and worthy of consideration of those who contemplate building or laying in winter fuel.

We are going to declare war on the bootlegger who purveys abominable moonshine in Maupin. His brand of goods is such that would take the lining from a copper boiler, and its effect are such as to cause users that dead feeling engendered the "night before" to feel the effect for a week after indulging. Either he must improve the quality of his bug juice or cease making Maupin his field of operation. A word to the wise is sufficient and should work on bootleggers.

"And the rain descended" and wet the ground, which had been parched for a time of better than 90 days. Yes, it really rained Sunday night, the witness proving the theory that an equinox always brought about an end of a drought. While the fall was not very heavy, still it had the effect of raising the spirits of grain growers as well as brightening the hopes of those who are anxious to hit the high spots in quest of venison. The latter people will have a chance to gratify their desires today when the ban on hunting was lifted.

Writing checks when there are not sufficient funds in the bank to cover same, usually proves to be a boomerang. At least that was the experience of a certain young man living not over a thou and miles from Maupin, during the past few weeks. While the check was issued in order to provide necessaries for the table, not mentioning a tank of gas and some oil for the car, still the fact remains that the practice is one to be passed up, for the kick-back is something awful to contemplate.

Sheepmen will soon be starting their flocks from summer pasture in the mountains, and bringing them to the home pastures. The general report is that sheep have put on more fat and wool during this season than for some years past, and that they will be better ble to withstand the rigors of a hard winter than last year. All of which is good news for people in this neck of the woods.

TUM-A-LUM TICKLER

Vol. 1 Maupin, Oregon, Sept. 26, 1929. No. 3

Let the wife convert the old home into a modern residence.

Howdy folks, here we are again and it is almost time for the first football game and the weather that goes with it.

Editorial

We think the Senate should engage Einstein to draw up a traiff that will please every one. At least we couldn't understand it.

Our idea of an optimist is a blind man looking for a black cat in a dark room. Also the person who waits till snow flies before putting in a supply of wood and coal.

The automobile and family carriage are kept under cover. Is this fair to the farm implements which make the farm pay.

Tum-A-Lum built-in fixtures in the kitchen save many a step and help to make the home more attractive. The living and dining room can also have these.

We have for sale the following:
Lumber—rough, smooth or medium.
Shingles and Roofing.
Cement, sand, lime, brick or what do you need?
Wood—for kindling and otherwise.
Coal—lump, nut, egg, and assorted.

Also a lot of ideas for helping you to remodel or fix up the house. These are free. No charge.

Then there was a Scotchman who bought a car because the salesman offered to throw in the clutch.

The Mayor of Chicago is to open the fall season by throwing the first bomb.

Before sending your money away elsewhere let us figur on your bill of material.
