

For the School Lunch Box

WITH September and the beginning of the school year the struggle begins to fill the lunch box with food which will keep well, be appetizing and at the same time be economical and healthy.

In this class falls the popular pea put up in a sanitary enamel lined can to preserve its color perfectly. Peas are economical of both time and money, and the protein combined with the carbohydrate, vitamins and mineral salts which the little green pellets contain makes them an excellent part of a rather substantial lunch box meal.

Some Ways to Use Them

A particularly suitable food for this purpose is Pea and Walnut Roast. To make it, mix the following together lightly: one and one-half cups of pea pulp, one cup of soft bread crumbs, one-half cup of chopped walnuts, one-fourth cup of butter, two-thirds cup of canned tomato soup, one slightly beaten egg, and salt, pepper and onion juice to taste. Put the mixture in a buttered baking dish or loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven, 350° F., for 30 to 45 minutes or until set and brown. This may be served at the family dinner, then, when cold, sliced, the slices wrapped in waxed paper, and packed in the lunch box.

Peas in salads are always popular with child and mother. A salad made of a cup of peas, a cup of diced boiled potatoes, one-half cup of diced pickled beets and one tablespoon of chopped onions may be mixed with mayonnaise and put in a waxed paper cup with a tight-fitting cap. Celery salads may be packed in the original mold.

Not So Punky—

A certain fight promoter at The Dalles referred to Floyd Holloman as "the Maupin 'punk.'" Judging by the result of the scrap Floyd put up at the Legion smoker Monday night he must have carried considerable fire for a mere piece of punk.

Now in Washington—

H. N. Dodge and family, formerly of Juniper Flat, are now living near Manor, Washington, where Mr. Dodge is employed on a large dairy ranch. This information comes to The Times from Rev. J. I. Parker, who has charge at Manor.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

Baked apples may be served with roast pork or pork chops occasionally. Jellied apples, stewed or steamed apples, and other tart accompaniments also offer variations in the menu.

In making bread your results will be much more certain and uniform if you use a thermometer. Send for Farmers' Bulletin 1450-F for full directions as to how to make good homemade bread, what temperature is essential to good results, and how to bake the loaves perfectly.

Serve ice cream in the form of a "parfait" once in a while. Put a little ice cream in the bottom of a tall glass, then a spoonful of crushed fruit of chocolate or butterscotch sauce; then more ice cream, a spoonful of whipped cream, and on top a candied cherry or bit of colorful jelly or a malaga grape, or bit of date.

Apple butter can be made with or without cider. It is a good spread for school supper sandwiches. Wind-fall, specked, or bruised apples can be saved by cutting up the sound parts for apple butter. The proportions of apples, cider, sugar and spices used are given in Farmers' Bulletin 900-F, which may be obtained free from the United States Department of Agriculture.

In planning your Thanksgiving dinner menu keep in mind the preparation of each dish under holiday conditions. There will be interruptions when the guests arrive, you will have to look the house over and set the table unusually carefully, and as the turkey will probably fill the oven everything else will have to be cooked on the top of the stove or

Warning to Farmers—

The State Agricultural College warns farmers of Eastern Oregon against the operations of high-powered salesmen who are selling them lime at exorbitant prices under the advice that lime will reclaim alkali lands. The college authorities assure the farmers that sulphur treatment is the proper remedy. It is said that $20 a ton is charged for the lime by the salesmen, whereas the state price at Salem is $4.50 a ton.

Camels are for knowing smokers!

It's just too bad if any smoker because of false information denies himself the pleasure of Camels.

New smokers are not always in a position to have a real preference in cigarettes. But when they acquaint themselves with Camels they develop that sense of discrimination that leads to real smoking pleasure. Camels are made so carefully and of so good a blend of choicest cigarette tobaccos that even those with inexperienced smoking taste quickly recognize their superiority. They are for those who appreciate the taste of choice tobaccos, the fragrance of a perfect blend and the soothing mellowness of a really satisfying cigarette.

cally all he knows about farming and a new man with new ideas should be able to give more help and better satisfaction. In a letter dated Nov. 6th Mr. Daigh has this manly thing to say about the office he holds:

"The suggestion for a group of farmers as a farm advisory board or agricultural council is a fine thing and something we should look into, and no one deplures the fact more than I do that the office is located in the extreme end of the county making a lot of long trips necessary."

Yours sincerely,

6-pound hen laying 144 eggs in a year produces about three times her own body weight and one laying 240 eggs produces about five times her weight. For such hard work a hen must be vigorous and in the best of health.

Get rid of scrubs and inferior stock—they are wasteful of feed. Reports from livestock feeders over the country indicate the purebreds make about 40 per cent greater returns for their owners than do the scrubs or common stock.

Horses at hard work and dairy cows producing heavily should be fed three times a day. Young animals need to be fed at least three times a day, with the intervals between meals as even as possible. Two feeds a day for other animals are usually sufficient.

Screenings, or dockage, makes valuable feed for livestock and should be removed before grain is shipped. In North Dakota alone the annual farm feed value of dockage is estimated as $5,000,000 or more. Clean grain demands a higher average price and costs less to ship than uncleaned grain.

Mark the pullets that start to lay early. Then select the best for breeders next spring. The birds can be banded with aluminum or other bands. An easy way to determine the approximate time pullets begin to lay is to note the development of the comb and wattles and the width between the pelvic bones.

There is no drug nor combination of drugs which can be converted into a competent treatment for pyorrhea say medical authorities. this serious ailment.

Beef calves on the range that are weaned in late fall or winter should be fed liberally, as they make better use of the feed than when older. It is not usually advisable to feed yearling steers and heifers so liberally. Two-year-old steers must be wintered cheaply to insure profit in holding them until they are 3 years old. If steers come off the range in the fall fat enough, it may be more profitable to market them at that time. If they lack flesh for killing and the feeder demand is strong, they may be profitably sold as feeders.
