taking a course in pharmacy at the North Pacific College of Pharmacy. He will remain until after the holidays.

Pernell Marks came over from Longview, Washington, Sunday and has been visiting with his father at the Oak Springs power plant. He expects to return to Longview Saturday.

Marcus Shearer went to The Dalles on Tuesday for the purpose of having his physician examine his wounded leg. He was told that in about another week his condition would be such as to warrant his discharge from medical attendance.

J. C. Redifer, who has the contract to haul telephone poles for the new toll line, and who, with his family, has been here for some time, left for The Dalles last Friday, having completed his contract in these parts.

More Kids Arrive—
Two new babies were born to people of this section recently, one of them, an 11-pound boy, making his advent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Brittain, living at Smock, last week Monday while the other a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hartman, Wapinitia, arrived last Saturday. All concerned, parents and babies, are doing well under the care of Dr. Elwood.

Bought Show Shop—
George Miller has concluded negotiations for the Nahouse picture house at Grass Valley and will show there weekly hereafter. George now has a chain of show houses and is showing a quality of pictures that appeals to people in each town he visits.

Had Narrow Escape—
Last Friday morning, while trying to loosen some candy in a pan, Mrs. Andrew Cunningham, who was uting a butcher knife for the purpose, had the utensil slip, the point entering the left groin, narrowly missing the femoral artery and causing a deep, long wound. Dr. Elwood attended to the injury and the lady is getting along in fine shape.

Put Up Road Signs—

A representative of the State Highway commission has been at work in this section for the past two weeks, engaged in putting up road signs. The markers include, "cross roads," "curve," "danger" and "caution" signs and will be of great service to motorists. Jesse Addington was employed by the official as helper.

Much Christmas Business—

Maupin merchants reports a greater volume of business this year than for any year past. The rainfall and snow covering on wheat fields caused a feeling of optimism to pervade the ranchers and each one responded with a little more spending money for Christmas gifts than would have done had the dry weather continued.

Visited in Town—

O. P. Weberg and family gathered together at the family table yesterday and ate Christmas dinner together. Those from out of town were Leonard Weberg, wife and little daughter, and Harry Weberg, who is at work on the Claud Wilson ranch on Bakeoven.

Entertained at Dinner—

L. C. Henneghan and wife enjoyed the company of Mrs. Henneghan's sister, Mrs. Knowles, of Dufur, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Staats who they entertained at Christmas dinner at the Henneghan home yesterday.

Chief Gets Cap—

James Chalmers, chief of the Maupin Volunteer Fire department, was most agreeably surprised Tuesday evening when a delegation of firemen appeared at his home. Jim was wearing his old cap and one of the visitors took that off and in its stead placed a fine firemen's uniform cap on the head of the chief. The new headgear is decorated with the word "Chief" and pleased the recipient more than words can express.

ELEVEN YEARS AGO

From The Times Dec. 27, 1918
Three inches of snow fell at Wapinitia last Tuesday night, while the thermometer stood at 15 above zero. Fog and wind also were experienced.

Dolph Mayhew, who has been with the army, came home last week, being the first one from this section to return, owing to cessation of war.

Dr. Elwood arrived on the afternoon train yesterday, having a three-day leave from camp. He expects to be discharged from the army in about 10 days.

L. C. Wilhelm reports that the rebuilding of one half of L. D. Kelly's big barn is about completed, and that the other half will be built in the spring.

Mrs. Frank Chastain of Juniper Flat received a telegram yesterday stating that her brother, Bert Linville, had died in California. The body will be brought and laid away in the Kelly cemetery.

Maupin's quota to the United War Work campaign was $519.00, but owing to a change in the state quota we were raised 50 cents more, which we met, and then some. Total donations received were $788.10.

Mr. and Mrs. Laco DeCamp have rented the Maupin hotel and are making preparations to open same to the public.

J. P. McGlassen, principal of the Maupin schools, is at The Dalles this week, taking an examination for a life teaching certificate. He is the only one taking the examination at this time.

Pick Ups About Town

Oliver Resh demonstrated his strength Tuesday morning, but at the expense of the steering wheel of his Star car. Oliver was about to alight from the car when opposite the bank. In doing so he kept hold of the wheel and when he reached the ground level found a segment of the wheel in his hand. Oliver is no light weight, is very strong and didn't realize he had hold of the wheel while getting out of his car.

Published in the interests of the people of Maupin and vicinity by
THE TUM-A-LUM LUMBER CO., Phone Main 72
Vol. 1 Maupin, Oregon, December 26, 1929 No. 10

THANKS, FOLKS!

If it wasn't for the trade you folks give us we couldn't continue in business, that's all. You just bet we are mighty thankful for your patronage during 1929.

To make our business of even greater value and service to you individually and to the community at large is going to be our guiding principal again in 1930. The past year may have brought its disappointment and troubles but let's not carry them over into this year for we probably will get some nice new ones without even looking for them.

A new Year! Say, folks, if we had a monopoly on happiness and prosperity we could certainly pour out a mighty generous share for you in 1930.

We Could Do Without
The man in the office could do without one meal a day, but he would not like it. The man on the farm could get along without a seed drill or corn planter—he could do his planting by hand. And a woman could get along without many labor saving conveniences in her kitchen. We men folks never hesitate to buy equipment that will save time and work. Why shouldn't we be as considerate of our wives as we are of ourselves? A built in kitchen cabinet, new floors and a coat or two of fresh bright paint on the wood work is what she wants—and we have 'em.

Be careful of too many New Year resolutions.

Shepflin residence is nearing completing. Inside is finished with the new Gypsum wall board. Contractor Job Crabtree is doing the work.

Contractor Crabtree is doing repair work at the school house during vacation.

The man getting his hair cut noticed that the barber's dog had his eyes fixed on his "Nice dog," said the customer. "He seems very fond of watching you cut hair." "Tain't that," said the barber. "You see sometimes I makes a mistake an' nips off a piece of a customer's ear."

Proud, did you say? Yes, and proud of it, is our genial chief of the fire department. And why shouldn't he be? With a fine chief's cap and silver badge to wear with it Jim is as proud as the boy with his first pair of boots. He has been at the head of the fire department since its organization and under his supervision all things connected with the water service of the city has been well taken care of.

Charlie Steele evidently had formed the idea that he was to be forgotten by his friends in the matter of a charivari, as some time had elapsed between his marriage and last Sunday night. His friends, however, were sleeping with one eye open, and that one looking out for the right kind of weather. Sunday evening last proved an ideal time and several, yes, a great many friends loaded themselves with all kinds of noise makers and proceeded to the Steele home where they made the air resound with hideous sounds. Charley responded like a little man and the "serenaders" departed after wishing the newweds all kinds of success and happiness in their wedded relations.

The Times folks' table was graced at Christmas dinner with a fine fat turkey, one of the flock that Ernest Confer had been fattening for the occasion. Of course the family did ample justice to the bird and all (or nearly all, the editor especially) had to push the table away from them, so well filled were they with turkey, stuffing and the other things that usually accompany a Christmas dinner. Ernest shipped a consignment of turkeys to Portland Sunday, receiving top price for his birds.

The coming smoker at The Dalles, on New Years night, will show Floyd Holloman of Maupin in the ring with his late antagonist, Jimmy (Del King) Larson, as King has been a head-liner in Portland fights for some time. This time the Portland lad may meet a Waterloo, as Holloman has been working out with Vic Eads, who knows the fight game from A to Izzard. It is expected many from here will attend the smoker.

In a letter to The Times man from a friend at Longview we were told that the reason our friend did not accept our invitation to Christmas dinner was that our roads were too crooked; also that our highways had a reputation of being used by people somewhat under the influence of moonshine, which was a menace to his travel. All right, old man, we are sorry you couldn't come over but your further excuse of too much snow won't go down with us, for this section is enjoying the finest spring weather ever experienced at this time of year.

We were asked what we thought of another camp ground being started in Maupin, and we answered "Nix on that idea" Maupin is singularly blessed with two good camp grounds, one on the east side and the other at the west end of the bridge. Connected with each is a neat store, carrying all such goods demanded by campers, gas tanks, oils, accessories, etc., as well as the
