Neighborhood School Notes

Wapinitia

The boys are hunting up their baseball materials and bringing them to school. Baseballs are being hunted up from last season and a real baseball training camp may now be seen at Wapinitia.

The following pupils were absent from school Monday morning: Ernie and Avis Endersby, Ruth Walters, Eva Linn and Wilbur Mathews.

With the basketball season about over, Wapinitia has not been able to schedule any more games.

The team is planning to play at the tournament if there is one. We have not received any word concerning the tournament as yet.

Albert Hachler brought the Hachler children to school in his car on Monday. That was the first time he has been able to make the trip in his car for some time.

The janitors still have a hard job, as the school ground is still covered with a layer of mud.

The Bookkeeping class is making the Trial Balance for the month of April in the Keeland Practice set.

Wapinitia Jottings

Eva Linn spent the week end at her home at Pine Grove.

Lenora Hammer spent Sunday at the home of Jim Hartman.

Mrs. Evick, who has been ill the last week, is better.

Frank McCoy has been ill the past week.

Bill Foreman made a trip to The Dalles last week.

Fank Heckman, High school principal, spent the week end in The Dalles.

Hazel Laughlin spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Laughlin.

Joe A. Graham made a trip to Bear Springs last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis McCoy and Arnold Gosnell went to Maupin on Saturday.

Miss Mary O'Brien spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. O'Brien.

Frank Hachler visited with his parents over the week end.

The Spickerman truck got in late last Friday. The driver, not knowing the soft places in the road, caused by the thaw, succeeded in getting

The best speller at the present are: For the Freshmen class, Zelma Teschner and Gerald Claymer, each 88 per cent; for the Sophomore class, Wilbur Mathews, 100 per cent; and for the Senior class, Avis Endersby, 100 per cent.

THE PLEASURE OF MILKING COWS

(Billie West)

You get out of bed about half past five, put on your clothes, and hit for the barn. When you arrive, after walking through four feet of mud, you wipe an old cow off with a sack and start milking.

By the time you have milked about one hundred and fifty or two hundred streams your hands begin to get tired, first a finger, then your wrist, then your whole hand. While that is happening the old cow wipes her tail across your face and keeps your mind off your hand.

After she has wiped her tail two or three times you get tired of it and kick her, for which she retaliates by kicking over the pail, and as a result your milk, labor and worry is lost.

stuck. Chains were put on and the truck released.

Members of the John Boen family have been having the flu during the past week but are better at this writing.

Principal Heckman of the Wapinitia schools, went to The Dalles last Friday, returning Sunday. He went down with the Spickerman truck.

J. E. Hartman and family started for Wapinitia last Sunday, intending to visit with their parents, have returned to Portland to work in a woollen mill.

The school board held a meeting on Monday evening.

Frank McCoy was brought in from the Abbott sheep camp last week and has been confined to his bed with flu since coming in.

Harvey Wall, who has been very ill for some time, has so far recovered as to be able to come to town occasionally.

It has been learned from a letter received by Mrs. May McCoy sent by her father, Hank Harpham, now in California, that he recently was granted a patent on a novel advertising device for service stations. Some time ago Mr. Harpham received a patent on a folding bed. Hank is to be congratulated on his achievements.

Ernie Endersby is the last of our people to be taken down with flu.

Cleo Holloman, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Holloman, has returned to school, having been absent since the cold weather set in. She is staying with Mrs. E. A. Hartman.

Mrs. Susie Woodside has been ill with flu the past few days.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

Starch clothes wrong side out. Leave them wrong side out until they are sprinkled.

Left over egg yolks have many uses. They are a valuable source of iron and so should always be utilized. They may be hard-cooked in the double boiler, mashed, and seasoned for sandwich filling. Raw or hard-cooked egg yolks make a good foundation for salad dressing. Several good egg sauces for fish or meat can be made with the yolks only, and soft custard for dessert is still another use. Pastry trimmings cut out like cookies and brushed with egg yolk, sprinkled with sugar and cinnamon or sugar and grated orange rind, and baker, make delicious tea cakes.

HOME POINTERS

Colored bag tape binding will brighten up kitchen curtains.

The "pinch" type of clothespin is useful to hold back bedroom curtains when windows are open at night. They may be painted with odds and ends of paint left over from other decorating.

The mother who is "up in the clouds" one day and lets Tommy do anything he pleases, and the next day scold him for doing the same things, because she is "down in the dumps" is not helping his nervous balance.

The city house which permits icing of the refrigerator from the outside and delivery of groceries through an opening in the wall or onto a table near the delivery entrance will save the housewife much work in cleaning.

In order for dress accessories to add the touches necessary to complete the beauty of the costume, they should harmonize with the garment worn not only in color but also in their type and texture.

The short person with a short neck is wise if she wears a scarf that adds length, leaving the square or triangular scarf for her taller, more swan-necked sisters.

When proper places are provided for personal equipment, it is much easier to teach children the important lesson of putting away articles as soon as they are through with them.

FARM REMINDERS

Oregon's export market for dairy products is becoming more discriminating as to quality:

Fifty-six pounds of burned lime is equivalent to 74 pounds of hydrated lime, of 100 pounds of ground limestone, according to the Oregon Experiment station.

Fowls which develop leg weakness and do not show a marked improvement within a few days are best disposed of, says the Oregon Experiment station.

Oats is the universally preferred grain for work horses.

Cutting or grinding of hay for horses is not usually recommended, as it is usually dusty and has a bad effect on their breathing.

Removing all twigs and small growth on the under side of the limbs of prune trees and thinning out the small twigs in the top of the tree will make the remaining bud, stronger and will also allow more light to get in all over the tree, says the Oregon Experiment station.

The Oregon Experiment station recommends the following formula for a balanced mash for baby turkeys:

70 pounds of ground corn, yellow corn preferred.

40 pounds of ground wheat.

30 pounds mill run, without screenings.

28 pounds ground oat groats (ground hull-less oats might be used here, or heavy oats ground with the hulls sifted out.)

30 pounds dried skim milk.

1 pound table salt.

6 pounds bone meal.

3 pounds ayter shell flour.

It is best to add 2 per cent alfalfa leaves and blossoms to the mash if the turks are getting no other green feed. The mash is fed in addition to the scratch grain.

Filbert blight is easily spread during pruning operations, especially in winter or early spring, unless precautions are taken to disinfect the tools used and cuts made. A disinfectant made of 500 parts by weight of water, 1 part by weight of corrosive sublimate, and 1 part by weight of mercuric cyanide is recommended by the experiment station. A little dye may be added to this Does your food allowance ever try to play hide-and-seek with you, and threaten to disappear for days? If so, just pick up this article and haul Mr. Allowance out of hiding by the scruff of his neck and show him this menu for a dinner for four people for a dollar. It will make him come to heel without loss of time.

And if you want to know how to prepare the dishes:

Corned Beef and Potato Puff: Boil and mash one and one-half pounds of potatoes; add two tablespoons of butter, one-fourth cup of milk, salt and pepper and beat until light and fluffy. Shred the meat from half a 12-ounce can of corned beef, add to potatoes, and beat again. Pile lightly in a shallow, buttered baking dish. Sprinkle one-eighth pound of grated cheese over the top, and brown in a very hot oven.

Cherry Marshmallow Jelly: Soak one tablespoon of gelatin in two tablespoons of cold water, then dissolve in the boiling juice from a number 2 can of red pitted cherries. Add six tablespoons sugar and three tablespoons orange juice. Pour a little of this mixture in the bottom of a wet mold, arrange four marshmallows cut in pieces on it, and set away to harden. Add cherries to remainder of liquid, and when the first layer is hard, pour this on top. Boil and mash one and one-half pounds of potatoes; add two tablespoons of butter, one-fourth cup of pupils in their study of Holland.

The First graders have completed

The pupils are looking forward to Valentines Day. The valentine box is well filled.

Several of the Second graders have made recent appointments with Doctor Short. Jack Rothwell made his own appointment with the dentist and seems well satisfied with the results.

Primary

The First and Second graders have a very attractive Dutch black-board border.

Several books of Dutch stories were received from the Wasco county library. A Dutch village is being made on the sand table to help the Elton Primer and are now studying the Beacon Primer.

Mrs. Confer contributed several slips of Wandering Jew to the flower collection. We wish to thank her for her thoughtfulness.

Attractive valentine pictures are upon the bulletin boards. The pupils found it agreeable to prepare these valentines. They are planning a party Friday.

Inspectors for this week are Beulah Richmond and Mae Greene. Glen Chastain has charge of the wraps.

Naomi Schilling was absent on Monday.

Fifth and Sixth

The Sixth grade has almost completed history stories of "American Beginnings in Europe."

Allene liked to learn of the way the early Greeks lived.

Franklin, Earnie and Nina were interested in knowing the ways of life in the early stone age.

Kathleen enjoyed the days of Queen Elizabeth.

Earnest liked to hear how Drake took revenge on Spain.

The Crusaders appealed to Alice. Emery Crofoot has been monitor to close the hall doors after each intermission during the cold weather. His duties are now lightened.

Lena is absent with near pneumonia.

All enjoy keeping step to the new march which Nina Chastain plays for us.

Rex Duus visited school Friday and was a model in quiet behavior.

The Fifth grade are reviewing spelling with part of the Sixth grade, working with them for practice.

Ernie has made great improvement in his spelling, which proves that improvement is possible to all who try.

Seventh and Eighth

The Seventh grade has just finished learning the poem "If" by Kipling.

In grammar the Eighth grade has finished studying about transitive and intransitive verbs.

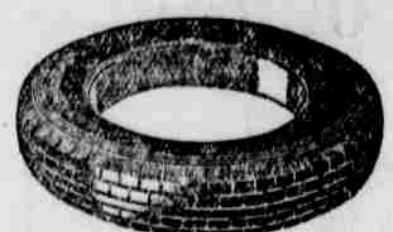

The Seventh and Eighth grades have completed the valentine box and it is now almost half full of valentines. These will be distributed at the High school party Friday afternoon.
