Recipes for the Bachelor Girl

THE bachelor girl who likes to cook her own meals and occasionally have a guest has difficulties confronting her which may be summed up in the phrase: How to buy little enough food to avoid waste.

But several agencies have combined to help her. Canners put out fruits and vegetables in eight-ounce cans which hold a cup and cost ten cents. Evaporated milk solves her milk problem, for it obviates the nuisance of attending to milk bottles and milk tickets and the problem of storing milk. Evaporated milk will keep well after being opened, if it is not all used at once, and the unopened cans can stand on the kitchen shelf ready at all times for use.

Recipes for Two
Some recipes which serve two and include this time-saving milk are:

A danger in this fast age is that we may be more concerned in speed than about direction. Clark M. Smith, Pastor.

Double Freight Run—Tom Swett, local agent and driver for the Spickerman Truck line, made a double trip to The Dalles and back yesterday. On the first trip Tom brought a consignment of oil for the Shell company and on the next trip was loaded with general freight for Maupin merchants.

Building Cabins—Ben Richardson was in from Pine Grove today, coming after a load of lumber from the Tum-A-Lum yard. Ben is putting up a couple of cabins at his camp ground, they having been rented and the renters waiting their erection. Later Ben will erect two, more cabins, which will give him a total of six fine places for the accommodation of tourists and mill workers.

Pick Ups About Town

Lew Henneghan is at Hot Lake taking treatment for rheumatism. Lew writes that the waters there are proving beneficial, for which all his friends will be pleased. Hot water is a great specific. But when it is applied to one's back by an irate woman the pleasure is all her's. Many a man has been marked for life by a liberal application of hot suds to portions of his anatomy, and in such cases the assistance of a doctor is usually solicited. Lew's doctor applies his libations according to rule, so there need be no worryment on the part of friends regarding our mayor's contact with the water of the lake.

Jim Baxter is somewhat perturbed at the actions of some men. Last week Jim thought he had sold a new Ford car to a Wasco man. The car was brought up from Portland and Jim took it out the hills to Wasco. The man who had ordered the vehicle had made an initial payment of $25.00 but when he saw Jim and the car he forthwith acknowledged he could not finance the rest of the payment, therefore Jim was compelled to return to Maupin. Hereafter he will make a

It is well said that Adam and Eve were the pioneers in the housing business, but they were smart enough to own their own home. Styles then were pretty exact—Adam dressed in leaves absence. Styles in homes have changed some since then but a house isn't a home if it's rented.

The teacher was giving the Primary class a talk on flowers, "Now children," she said, "who can tell what makes the little flower spring from the seed?" "God does it," answered one little girl, "but fertilizer helps."

Ben Richardson has taken out lumber for two new cabins at his Pine Grove service station.

Garden furniture is easily and cheaply constructed. Attractive fences, seats, summer houses and arbors are a few of the types. Look over our detailed plans for these additions to your summer comfort.

Helpful Hints
At the side of the door drive in a good strong nail and sharpen the protruding end. When the landlord calls for the rent, greet him with a smile and carefully back him against the nail. When he leaves there will be a rent in his pants that should satisfy him.

Johnny Williams is building a cold storage plant at the Maupin Camp grounds—shows enterprising spirit.

Joe Riggles came to town Tuesday and visited with friends during the day. Observing The Times man Joe suggested that both the editor and himself visit the barber. Both men looked like Santa Claus with their white beards out a couple of weeks. In explanation of our appearance we will say that we have a weak wrist, a dull razor and that our hopeful appropriates to himself each new safety razor we bring home.

Bill Richmond is preparing to again hit the trails for Montana. Bill has worked that state the past several years and has many good building jobs in sight. Bill is a good carpenter and such has been his work that he is always welcomed wherever he has put up buildings, which cannot be said of all men who invade the wilds of the "Treasure State."

A tourist blew into Maupin Monday night. He stopped at the Maupin cafe and asked his way to The Dalles. He further asked if the river he had just crossed was the Columbia. Being told that The Dalles was 50 miles further on and that the river spoken of was the Deschute, the tourist seemed somewhat taken back, as he said he thought he was sure of his geography.

When a piece of machinery is needed it is wanted as soon as it can be procured. We were against

COWS GIVE MORE MILK BY RADIO

The first test under practical dairy conditions of providing radio music for cows has proved a big success, according to officials of the Detroit Creamery Company, near Mount Clemens, Mich. The creamery company officials bought RCA loudspeakers for each of their barns when they noticed the cows liked the music from a Radioia receiving set installed to entertain the men doing the milking. Now all the 300 cows on the model farm enjoy radio programs.

FAMOUS SOLDIER, IN OFFICE, STILL RIDES

Sitting all day long, every day at a desk—one of the most important desks in the United States—is an active man whose picture, showing him sitting erect on a horse, would be recognized instantly by thousands of Americans. He is General J. G. Harbord, now President of the Radio Corporation of America. He was Chief of Staff of the A. E. F., commanded the Marine Brigade of the Second Division in Belleau Woods and Bouresches when the division stopped the German advance at Chateau Thierry, and in the Solissons Offensive in the battles of July 18 and July 19 he commanded the division.

There is interest for the average American, who always has the best intentions of keeping fit, in how General Harbord has managed to be so successful at it since his outdoor routine was changed suddenly by his new position. He accomplishes that by consistent exercise, including as a principal item a daily horseback ride. He keeps a horse in Central Park. Every morning, while the average man is lying in bed, he is up and dressed. At 6:45 o'clock he is riding briskly through the wooded park with his friends.
