TUM-A-LUM TICKLER

Published in the interests of the people of Maupin and vicinity by THE TUM-A-LUM LUMBER CO., Phone Main 72

Vol. 1 Maupin, Oregon, April 10, 1930. Number 33

Editorial

We have heard that Napoleon was five feet two, in height, but we are not informed as to his "Tickness."—This little guy was so great he could eat eggs with his knife, or wear a plug hat when straws were in style. Well, readers, there are few of us great enough to get away with it to any success. Which leads us up to what we wanted to say. If your house is out of style, or needs fixing, there is no need to buy a new one because we are the best hands at remodeling you ever saw. A new porch, remodeled kitchen, new rooms added, or anything at all that needs doing over is our business.

O. F. Renick, editor.

The husband was wearily pacing the floor with the crying child and the mother asked from the bed, "What is the baby crying for, dear?" "Does he want the moon?" To which came the reply, "No, I think he is crying for the Milky Way."

Can't put it off much longer—there is garden to be fixed, flowers to plant, spring is galloping along, and summer is coming. Gosh, but it is hard to work in the spring.

"Vel Abie, how is business?"
Aiful. Even people vot can't pay is buying nothing."

It is about the time of the year to put up fly screens.

Season opens next Tuesday

She came into the police station with a picture in her hand. "My husband has disappeared," she cobbled. "Here is his picture. I want you to find him."

The inspector looked at the photograph, "Why?" he asked.

How are the chickens? Will they have a place to lay around in this winter. A chicken appreciates good living quarters and will grow and lay accordingly. We have plans for cows, chickens, horses, cars, tools, people, and other critters.

evening and will visit with friends and relatives for a short time.

Job and Earl Crabtree and Everett Hazen spent Sunday with their families in Maupin, coming from Dufur, where they are at work.

Dick Johnson has brought water around the hill from one of his springs to his newly purchased property below the school house.

RANCHERS WILL HAVE TO TAKE OVER WATER WORKS

Nothing Being Done By Irrigation Company Looking to Supply on Juniper Flat

After much blow and bluster regarding what was on its program for the season of 1930, the Mt. Hood Land & Irrigation company is in a state of status quo so far as doing anything looking to a supply of water for this year's crops. A big hullabaloo was emitted by representatives of the company when an abortive attempt was made to construct a dam at the mouth of Clear Lake last fall.

After the dam was completed in steps the Forest Service with a request that the company put up a good and sufficient bond to cover loss of timber naturally to be covered by the rising water of the lake. A small bond was put up, but not sufficient to meet Forest Service demands. Later the dam was ordered opened, which being done allowed the water to escape down Clear creek and on to White river. Thus ends chapter empty-ump of the water question of Wapinitia Plains.

Chapter next will be written and edited by the water contract holders of those plains. It is certain they must have water, and having paid for same are entitled to it. It now seems that if they get any of H2O they will have to assert a little authority, spit on their hands, bend their backs and proceed to clean out the weed-grown ditches, appoint a water master and proceed on their own to secure what little water may be saved before hot weather dries up the mountain streams. It seems a cinch that the claimed-to-be-owners intend to do nothing to alleviate the condition of the contract holders. The company seems to be too busy attempting to interest capital in the proposition, but all prospective investors who have investigated the situation seem reluctant in investing money in something almost intangible. If the company was sufficiently financed the wages of some of the young men who worked on the dam would be paid and not let wait for months for their dues.

The company is capitalized for $5,000 and is confronted with a program which, to carry out would mean at least $25,000, and one wonders how in heck anything will ever be accomplished by such a company with such an inadequate supply of the stuff that makes the mare go.

FARM REMINDERS

Old crank case oil has been found effective for painting poultry perches and drop boards to keep out mites, says the Oregon Experiment station.

Alfalfa, when adapted, fits well into a long crop rotation system as it leaves the soil rich in nitrogen and in organic matter.

The chief factors in obtaining a good yield of silage corn in Oregon are manuring the ground, using plenty of good seed, planting early, and giving plenty of cultivation, believes the experiment station, after an extensive survey of yields.

A candidate for GOVERNOR who has won signal success by his own efforts

A business man

A worthy leader for the new Oregon Spirit

CHARLES HALL, Republican for Governor, started with nothing and carved his way to success with his own hands. He is the kind of man red-blooded Oregonians admire and respect and whom they will be proud to see in the Governor's chair. He will be a worthy champion and leader for the new Oregon Spirit—the spirit that is going to spell Progress for Oregon. A vote for Hall is a vote for "Forward Oregon."
