"ALADDIN"

The following poem was quoted by Reverend Robert Hutchinson in his baccalaureate address to the class of 1930. He urged them to remain always builders of "Castles in Spain" When I was a beggarly boy, And lived in a cellar damp, I had not a friend nor a toy, But I had Aladdin's lamp; When I could not sleep for the cold, I had fire enough in my brain, And builded, with roof of gold, My beautiful castles in Spain!

Since then I have toiled day and night, I have money and power of good store, But I'd give all my lamps of silver bright

For the one that is mine no more; Take Fortune, whatever you choose, You gave, and may snatch again; I have nothing 't would pain me to lose For I own no more castles in Spain!
