Many dairymen believe that cows should always be milked regularly. but tests at the U.S. Bureau of Dairy Industry Exepriment farm at Beltsville, Md., show that average to good cows can be milked at irregular hours without any material effect on milk production. Apparently cows are more sensitive to changes in feeding routine than to varation in the hours of milking.

Before beginning any canning this season, provide yourself with Farmers' Bulletin 1471-F, "Canning Fruit and Vegetables in the Home.' It is free from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Time tables are given for processing the various products and a full explanation is made of the reasons for canning nonacid vegetables under steam pressure.

Butter from paturized sweet cream keeps better than butter made from raw, sour cream. Cream may be pasteurized easily by putting the cream in shotgun cans or pails, placing them in a wash boiler or other container, and heating. Stir the cream occasionally while heating and keep it at a temperature of from 145 degrees to 150 degrees F. for 25 or 30 minutes. Cool it as quickly as possible to 50 degrees F. or lower and keep it at that temperature for at least three hours before churning. This helps to make the butter granules firmer. Churn in the same way as with raw, sour

The severity of cutting or length of the cutting season and the treatment of asparagus after the cutting season determine to a great extent the quality and quanity of the next year's crop. Cutting too late exhausts the plants.
