WOOL GROWERS ARE PLEASED

National Wool Marketing Assn. Big Help to Sales

The Globe Times says that about 350,000 pounds of wool was sold at Condon recently at 15 to 22 1/2 cents a pound and the growers were well pleased with the result of the sale. The Globe-Times also adds: "The recent activities of the National Wool Marketing organization and Pacific Northwest affiliated bodies have stabilized the industry, it is said, and growers of the Condon district expressed the opinion that this stability worked toward their benefit."

ANSWER TO MONKEY PUZZLE

Mathematics Enter Into Age of the Little Simian

Some week back we published a problem concerning the age of a monkey, that of his mother as well as his weight. Also the length of a rope that the monkey climbed upon.

Here is the answer to the problem it having been sent to us by a lady living on Juniper Flat:

The age of the monkey is one year; age of his mother, three years. The weight of the monkey is as many pounds as his mother is old. 16x3 equals 48 ounces.

The length of the rope is 12 feet. 48 divided by four equals 12.

Hugh Knight Returns

After an absence of about six months Hugh Knight is again numbered among Maupin citizens. While absent Hugh was stricken with appendicitis and was rushed to the Veteran's hospital, where an operation relieved him of the troublesome organ. Since then Hugh has been living at Washougal, Washington. He is looking the picture of health and appears glad there is such a place as Maupin in which to reside.

Delivers Much Gas

Roy Pattee, representative of the Shell Oil company in Maupin is sure a busy man. Besides taking care of his station customers Roy makes daily trips to the Harness rock crusher, 32 miles up the Wapinitia highway. There he delivers about 500 gallons of gas daily besides many barrels of lubricating oil and other items dealt in by his company.

Bought Mail Truck

Phil Starr and Joe Kramer went to Portland early Monday morning and when they returned had in tow a new one and one-half Ford truck. Phil has rigged the truck with a box and on July 1 will begin on his four-year contract as mail carrier between Maupin and The Dalles. Later he will rig a top over the body and will then have a model mail cart.

Return to Maupin

'After visiting several places in quest of a location Job Crabtree, wife and sons, Richard and James, returned to Maupin Monday. While away the Crabtrees visited Astoria, Longview, Ranier and other places on the Columbia. Later they went to Scio, where they attended a reunion of the Crabtree family, there being in the neighborhood of 180 such present. Those reunion are an annual affair.

Vol. 1 Maupin, Oregon, June 19, 1930 Number 42

Editorial
 There never was anything made but what someone could make it worse and sell it for less. But in the end one gets just what they pay for.

O. F. Renick, editor.

Material for 1 window box only cost a small amount. Also lattice fences, trellis and other beautifications for your home and garden.

About this time of the year the flies are beginning to get annoying. If you just put up Tum-A-Lum screens and they soon get discouraged and fly.

Be what you is Not what you ain't Tend your own biz Have no complaint. If you is jes a tad-pole Don't try to be a frog If you is jes de tall Don't try to wy de dog

Now is the time to begin figuring on that sleeping porch. Get our plans.

The trouble with most advice is that so much of it is bad.

The new fence posts we are getting in are the best ever brought to Maupin.

Pat, who was moving had asked two of his friends to carry his chicken house around for him. (A Tum-A-Lum design.) They found this to be a very strenuous job, but they struggled on. About half way they set the house down for a rest when one of them suddenly exclaimed, "Why where is Pat?"

"I'm all right," came a voice from inside the chicken house. "I'm carrying the perch."

Winter is coming and now is the time to lay in your coal supply. We have the best mind.

Peaches For Pleasure

THIS season we buy peaches for economy, but we also buy them for pleasure, for who doesn't like the flavor of this golden fruit which came out of Asia to give pleasure to the Occidental races? And there are so many ways to serve canned peaches that there is no reason why a case of them can't be standing in the storeroom all the time, ready to add its delightful touch to the dinner.

A few suggestions for using the peaches are given below:

For a cocktail, line a cocktail glass with sliced peaches; fill center with a mixture of diced, canned peaches, pieces of grapefruit and minced Maraschino cherries. Fill glass with peach syrup and top with a Maraschino cherry.

For Peach Sunflower Salad, blend a three-ounce package of cream cheese with two tablespoons mayonnaise. Heap in the center of six beds of lettuce. Arrange sliced peaches around the cheese to resemble a sunflower. Garnish the cheese with seedless raisins and serve.

Rough Looks—Smooth Flavor

Porcupine Salad is always amusing: Stuff six peach halves with seasoned cream cheese and pimiento. Place halves, cut side down, on lettuce and stick rounded side full of shredded, blanched almonds. Serve with French dressing.

Baked apples may be given a festive appearance and flavor by coring them and filling the hole with sliced peaches before baking, adding a teaspoon of brown sugar to top.

When boiling rice, add sliced peaches when almost done. Cook until rice is dry. This may be served as a cereal at breakfast or as a dessert with whipped cream or a marshmallow sauce.
