

GARFIELD

J C Gill came up Sunday from Portland on a visit to his brother, F M Gill. Despite the very inclement weather, the entertainment given by the Garfield grange was a decided success. A good and entertaining program was given. The music was furnished by John Irvin and Charles Ferry. The plays and farces were well received. The income of the evening was about $24 net, and about $4 expenses were incurred. E C Huffman went down to Portland Thursday to attend the Holmes business college. He will complete his course in three months after that he will take up work of some kind for the Prohibition party of this state at a salary of $75 per month and his expenses paid. Mrs. M K Irvin has been in the George settlement for several days. J T Irvin has been visiting in Gresham at the home of J E Stubbs. The Rev. Craig preached in the Garfield school house Saturday night. Ask Ralph Lemon or Horace Davis if the water in Delph creek was high, Sunday. They ought to know. In last week's issue, owing, no doubt, to the illegibility of your correspondent's writing, there are two errors. Grace Davis was elected to the office Ceres, not Cues as printed. (Have no billiard tables in the grange, so need no cues.) And the Christmas tree was at P M Wagner's.

SMILES

Why has the moon never married?
Because it needs all its quarters to get full on.

Why is a woman's heart like the moon?
Because there is a man in it.

What kind of a knell do we hear most of in Clackamas county?
A Brownell.

Our state senator was walking along the streets of Oregon City. On the opposite side of the street was a lady and her little son. The boy, pointing to the three-time senator from Clackamas, suddenly exclaimed, "Gee! see Brownell."

Atlanta Constitution: Mary Coles Carrington of Richmond sends us the following: "One of the curious characteristics of the oldtime darkies is their ability to make themselves always intelligible, no matter how twisted the long words, that are their delight.

"Aunt Dilsey, what has become of that young Tom Billups?" I asked my mammy recently.

"De lan' sakes, Miss Baby," she replied, with uplifted hands and eyes like saucers. 'he dun run off to de Lewis imposition, but we aint heard from him, mary line, 'ceptin' 'tisone o' dese sump'n n'er picture cards; an' I jes believe, Miss Baby, dat hes dun bin catnipped."
