The annual convention of the Oregon Development League occurs April 26 and 27 in the Marquam theater in Portland. It is expected that ever branch of the league will be represented, every organization is entitled to representation at this convention. The object is to work out ways and means for the development of the state. The Estacada Development League should be represented at the convention by its President, Major W. K. Haviland.

The Japanese and Russian fleets are watching each other from a safe distance of a few hundred miles. It is feared that if the squadrons keep on there may be something happening that will make more good Russians and Japs. The Russian main squadron is in a French port and the Japanese are endeavoring to get France involved in trouble, and if such a thing takes place Great Britain will take a hand in the war.

Readers of The News will notice a change in the furniture store ad. It is now Cooper & Eyman. The new firm is enlarging the stock and will make every effort to meet the wants of the people. They will give special attention to the undertaking work. Mr. Eyman has had 29 years experience in this line of work.

Surveyor Kinnard in the employ of the townsite company has made a survey for a road to run east from town along the south side of J. W. Shafford's place. This will give the people living east of town a more direct route to the city.

Fires were started in the engines of the wood working factory Wednesday, and Mr. A. Whistle, the leading solo whistler, ran off a few notes as a little exercise before the engagement of the season begins.

T. J. Reagan returned, Tuesday, from Boise City where he went to make arrangements to move his family here. He has purchased a five acre tract on the East side of town.

Prof. E. S. Surface was in Oregon City last Saturday in conference with Supt. Zinser and others in regard to Clackamas county's educational exhibit at the Lewis & Clark Fair.

Mrs. C. A. Bither is having the small vacant room next to her candy store converted into an ice cream parlor to be used in connection with the confectionary business.

Wm. Delap is building an addition to his residence.

Mrs. A. F. Shultz returned home from Oregon City, Tuesday.

Judge Henry McGinn of Portland was at The Estacada, Wednesday.

A. W. Eckerson and R. A. Stratton were passengers to Portland last Sunday.

W. P. Keady was out the first of the week on business for the railroad company.

Baker Lichthorn is having his bakery fixed up with a number of noticeable improvements.

George H. Sanford and family are going on the Hoffman farm near Garfield which they have rented.

Lew Tucker and family moved to Sellwood, and will remain there until work at The Oaks is completed.

Mrs. W. A. Heylman was called to Spokane last Sunday by a message announcing the death of an uncle.

Mrs. T. J. Mathews is not quite so well, having again suffered a relaps. She may be taken to Portland for treatment.

The wagon repairshop and blacksmith shop of Hall & Wertz at the corner of Zobrist and Fourth streets is nearing completion.

A. Morrow is adding a nice large addition to his residence which will make their home one of the finest in the suburban district.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cunningham of Cazadero have moved here, and are living in the house vacated by Lew Tucker's family.

There seems to be a desire on the part of those who know, to purchase desirable city property before the rise in prices takes place.

Mrs. H. A. Williams spent the past week with her people in Portland, and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Landsborough in Oregon City.

A ball game is expected to take place on the local diamond, Sunday, between the home team and either the Cazadero nine or a nine from Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Boswell have sold a half acre of their property to John Page. Mr. Page will build a residence on the lot and make their home here.

President Roosevelt is enjoying a good time hunting in wild and wolly West, while some of the prominent journals are worrying themselves about what the president will do in the next campaign.

Will Practice Law

Mr. W. A. Heylman has bought two lots on the Boulevard driveway and also a lot on Main street. He has already begun to build for temporary living purposes, and intends building a business block as soon as possible. Mr. Heylman is a practicing attorney, and in connection with the banking business, he will practice law in Clackamas county. It appears that this should be a fine location and field for the business in which Mr. Heylman will engage in, and we wish him success.

Jim Deier stole a horse of J. Mock and traded it to Henry Coomer, of Springwater for another horse that has not been located. He gave Coomer his personal check for $12.50 and borrowed a saddle, saying he would leave it at a place in Oregon City. Coomer went to town but found no funds in the bank and no saddle. Mock had offered $25 for his horse. Sheriff Shaver bought the horse and now the hunt is on for the thief.
