MAY 4, 1905

Sunday last was the first of the 500 excursion days, and hundreds of people from Portland and other places came to Estacada to enjoy a country outing afishing, picnicing and strolling through the park, and country by-ways and woods. It was a trifle chilly, but the crowd didn't mind that, the good time was had just the same.

W. H. Holder, who sometime ago sold his farm—80 acres in Sec. 23, 3-4 E—has purchased E. F. Surface's farm of 145 acres in the same neighborhood. After a personal inspection of the alleged productive irrigation districts in Eastern Oregon Mr. Holder preferred tying his kite to Clackamas county soil which is good enough for any one. H. D.
Trapp bought the old Holder farm.

Oregon City would like free postal delivery, but unless the receipts of the postoffice exceed $10,000 between July 1, 1904 and June 30, of this year the city will not be given the delivery this year. Postmaster Randall reported at the department that the receipts had exceeded the required amount by $74 from April 1, 1904 to March 31, 1905, but the the department has notified him that the figures must be based on the fiscal year receipts.

W. S. Henninger and Jas. Johns have been in Estacada several days acquainting themselves with our people and business interests. Both are from North Dakota, where Mr.
Henninger is cashier of the First Bank of Goodrich. Mr. Johns has been extensively engaged in business in North Dakota, but is at present living in Portland. Mr. Henninger is an old friend of The News family and we were very pleasantly surprised when, on Saturday, he walked into the office, we not knowing that he was in the West. We visited over Sunday.

Dr. A. E. Rocky and Dr. Motter the well known surgeons of Portland were guests at The Estacada over Sunday. Accompanied by Dr. C.
B. Smith they took a fishing trip to Eagle Creek falls and they succeeded in catching a fine mess of trout.
Dr. Rocky hooked and succeeded in landing a trout which weighed six pounds, one and a half ounces. The large trout gave the doctor an exciting experience. At one time it seemed as though the fish would not be landed, but Dr. Rocky having an automatic reel and a 150 foot line, succeeded after a great struggle of at least fifteen minutes in getting the fish near shore when Dr. Smith caught it with a gaff hook. Once the doctor lost his footing and slipped on a soapstone rock, and but for the timely assistance of Dr. Motter of St. Vincent's hospital, he would have passed under Eagle Creek falls. The party returned to Estacada in the evening well pleased with their fishing excursion.

F. M. Lantz is having living apartments added to his meat market.

Cap. Curtis contemplates a trip to see his illustrious son who is the pen warden at Salem.

Mrs. T. J. Mathews has been taken to Portland for her health, and if the change does not benefit her she will be taken elsewhere.

Mrs. Margaret Phellps died at Eagle Creek 6 o'clock Tuesday morning of a complication of causes and was taken to Portland for burial. The family are newcomers.

A pen and brush artist took a sketch of the town Monday, and will paint a large picture to be used as an advertisement. It will be exhibited at the railway company's offices in Portland.

Drayman Jones and C. E. Dubois are interesting the business men in improving the road south of town.
The work will mostly will be done this side of the bridge. Mr. Jones has taken the contract to haul out the lumber company's lumber.

Henry Wilbern, of Eagle Creek, who has been postmaster at that place for over thirty years, has gone to the St. Martin Hot Springs in hopes to get relief from rheumatism.
Mr. Wilbern is in his 72 year. R.
J. Devine is helping in the store during Mr. Wilbern's absence.

Several thousand acres of Government land a number of miles Southeast of Estacada were thrown open May 1, and quite a number have already made filings on claims. The lands are well up in the mountains and is timber, coal and stone lands.
A crowd went out Wednesday to file on claims.

sonal canvass. He has gone to Silverton
